Feast And Thank God

Americans World Over Mark Thanksgiving Day

By The Associated Press

President Kennedy and Americans around the world pause Thursday, as the Pilgrims did 340 years ago, to feast and thank God for the harvest.

Thanksgiving Day was first celebrated by Pilgrims in Plymouth, Mass., at what was then the edge of a mighty wilderness. Thursday the observance will be marked by Americans in most parts of the globe, and by the President and his family at Hyannis Port, 34 miles from Plymouth.

The President, who will feast at the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph P. Kennedy, summed up the mixture of joy and solemnity with this proclamation:

"This year, as the harvest draws near its close, and the year approaches its end, awesome perils again remain to be faced. Yet we have, as in the past, ample reason to be thankful for the abundance of our blessings."

Plymouth townsfolk, dressed as Pilgrims, are parading from a model of the first Pilgrim house, past Plymouth Rock where the original settlers from England landed, and past a model of the Mayflower to First Church for services.

No matter where the celebration is held, the symbols still are the Bible and the turkey, a fowl first introduced to the Pilgrims by some of the more friendly Indians.

Pilgrims, who kept their firearms handy, invited some Indians to that first feast. And when Massachusetts Gov. John A. Volpe read the Thanksgiving proclamation at Old South Meeting House in Boston he was escorted by the Ancient and Honorable Artillery Company, which is dedicated to protecting the state from Indian attack.

While cars, buses, trains and airplanes are crowded with homecomers, many won't be able to eat at the family table this year. And many of those are stretched around the globe at military posts.

The services, for the 16th time since World War II, are not forgetting those men. Turkey is being served in the mess halls, 6½ tons of it having been taken by train through Communist East Germany to isolated Berlin where it will be eaten by 6,500 U.S. troops, their families and about 1,000 German guests.

After church services in the Army zone around Frankfurt in West Germany, soldiers are bringing German guests to share the meal there also. One company, stationed in Heidelberg, is entertaining 25 orphans.

Even remote patrols will get a share of the fowl.

Combat-ready units in France will alternate at the table—one half at noon, the rest in the evening.

One man who may sum up the domestic feelings about Thanksgiving is Floyd Chenoweth of Perry, Iowa. Chenoweth, a tenant farmer, lost his wife in an automobile accident Oct. 11, but he and their 13 children are sitting down to dinner with renewed faith in friends and neighbors.

To keep the family together, neighbor women have watched the children, men have harvested his beans. They and other opened-handed Iowans are building Chenoweth a new house.

Arraignment Is Brief

Boyd Pleads 'Not Guilty' In First Degree Murder

Waits Grand Jury Action In January

Doesn't Know Why He Shot Wife, She 'Was Already Dead'

"I don't know why I shot her—she was dead," William Boyd Jr. said at the defense table Wednesday afternoon in Municipal Court after he pleaded not guilty to first degree murder in the slaying of his estranged wife, Mrs. Nancy Lee Chandler Boyd.

The 22-year-old Pennsylvania Ave. part-time laborer was bound over to the Columbiana County Grand Jury by Judge Samuel Chertoff in a brief arraignment yesterday.

The Grand Jury will be impaneled in the January term of Common Pleas Court.

Boyd, who declined counsel at the hearing, sat quietly at the defense table as the plea papers were being prepared, and in a soft voice answered questions about his slaying his 18-year-old wife on a lonely road along Beaver Creek in the early daylight hours of Nov. 5.

Boyd confessed the killing Tuesday night at the County Jail after a lengthy questioning based on his reactions to a lie detector test given earlier in the day.

He told Sheriff Russell VanFossan he and his wife, the mother of their 11-month-old daughter, had driven to the deserted lane where the car had a flat tire.

During an argument over her being with other men and while he was repairing the tire, he threw the handle of an auto jack at her, then beat her with it, according to his confession.

He said that after fixing the tire and checking her pulse and breathing, and finding no response, he got a shotgun from the car and shot her in the head as she lay about 10 yards down the hillside from the lane where he had dragged her.

Her body, clad in the pedal pushers and leather jacket she was wearing when she vanished

Agreement Reached In Vital Talks

Kennedy And Bonn Chief In Accord On Berlin Solution

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Kennedy and Germany's Chancellor Konrad Adenauer reported Wednesday they were "in accord on the basic elements which will permit a peaceful resolution" of the Berlin crisis through negotiations—"if there is a reasonableness on the part of the Soviet Union."

Berlin, a joint communique issued by the chief executive and the 85-year-old German head of government said, was the subject "of earnest consultations" in the four conferences the two leaders had since Adenauer arrived here last Sunday.

Kennedy and Adenauer, the communique said, "reaffirmed their clear determination to insure the continuance of a free and vigorous life for the population of Berlin."

Their ultimate goal was put in the communique as "achieving by peaceful means the reunification of Germany on the basis of self-determination," an objective which should be realized "without prejudice to the legitimate interests of the Soviet Union and Germany's neighbors."

The communique was couched in generalities and did not spell out the decisions reached in the talks. It noted, however, that there was "substantial unanimity of view both on the substance of the problems and how to deal with them."

Both U.S. and German informants agreed that the communique's reference to negotiations meant that Kennedy and Adenauer have agreed to continue talks with the Russians, while seeking to uphold the original status quo in Berlin.

The two leaders concluded their talks with a two-hour session at the White House Wednesday morning. Altogether the President and the chancellor spent about eight hours at the conference table. Three hours of this was alone in Kennedy's office, and the rest

Opens Yule Season

Throng Seen For Parade

Thousands of Tri - State area youngsters and their parents are expected to line East Liverpool business district streets Friday night at 6 to watch Santa Claus lead a colorful Christmas parade officially ushering in the holiday season.

The traditional post - Thanksgiving parade also will mark the first time that Christmas decorations in the downtown area will be lighted, along with the community tree on the Diamond.

Because of the parade—and because they are closed today for the holiday — the stores will follow a longer schedule of hours Friday — 9:30 a. m. to 8:30 p. m.

The parade has been arranged by the Junior Chamber of Commerce in co-operation with the East Liverpool Merchants Association.

Seven area high school bands will be in the line of march. They are East Liverpool, Chester, Newell, Wellsville, Salineville, Beaver Local and South Side.

Six to eight floats are anticipated. Santa Claus will ride on the Jaycee float which will lead the parade. Numerous Boy Scout and Girl Scout units also will march.

Also to be featured in the parade is a conestoga wagon drawn by a team of oxen, the Jaycee clowns, girls dressed in evening gowns and riding in convertibles, the color guard of Veterans of Foreign Wars Post 66, vehicles from the local Army Reserve unit, dancing students, majorette groups and several horses.

A unique entry is the "Buckskin Folk Dancers" of Lexington, Ky., national champions in their field. They will perform on moving platforms formed by flatbed trailers. The group, comprised of teen-age boys and girls, will appear under the auspices of East Liverpool Explorer Scouts. They also will give a performance Saturday night at Westgate School.

Some antique cars also are entered. Paul Seckman, chairman, said the parade is shaping up well and probably will be larger than last year. Dick Chadwick is the parade marshal, with Santa Claus as the grand marshal.

Seckman said all units are to be in line no later than 5:30 p.m. The parade will move promptly at 6, he said. Members of the Jaycees are to report for work at 5 p. m. on Bradshaw Ave.

The parade will move on Walnut to E. 5th St., west to Jackson St., north to W. 6th St. and then east to Walnut St., disbanding on Bradshaw Ave.

No parking will be permitted on the parade route after 5.

Arrangements have been made for free parking at Westgate School and free shuttle bus service will be provided from the school lot to the Diamond. Civil Defense police will guard cars against vandals. The buses will operate from 5 to 8.

On Republican Ticket

Rhodes Begins Governor Drive

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — State Auditor James A. Rhodes confirmed widespread reports today that he would seek the Republican nomination for governor.

The Thanksgiving eve announcement followed by a few hours a declaration by Atty. Gen. Mark McElroy for the Democratic gubernatorial nomination.

The two were regarded in political circles as likely opponents in the general election next November for the state's top executive post.

"At the primary election to be held May 8, 1962, I shall be a candidate for the nomination for the office of governor of Ohio on the Republican ticket," Rhodes said in a prepared statement.

The three-term auditor, turned 52 last September, made known his decision to newsmen in his office without advance fanfare. In answer to questions, he said he would elaborate on issues during the campaign.

Taking note of Ohio's financial problems, the former Columbus mayor said:

"If nominated and elected governor of Ohio, I pledge . . . 1. A critical examination of all state expenditures and state operations. 2. A comprehensive study of the tax structure as it has been built up these many years."

The Republican-dominated legislature auhtorized broad studies along those lines in a resolution adopted July 31. House Speaker Roger Cloud, R-Logan, will head an 11-member legislative service commission group looking into governmental spending and future needs for efficient financing.

"The future of Ohio resolves around its tax structure and upon sound financing," Rhodes's announcement said.

"If Ohio is to attain new heights in education, as well as in other fields, these desirable objectives can be accomplished only through study and the realization of basic economics."

The announcement marked Rhodes' third bid for governor. He first ran in 1950 while in his second term as Columbus mayor, an office he held for 10 years. His

Yellow Creek Intersection Remedy Eyed

Jefferson Residents Believe Light Plan Is Not Solution

A delegation of northern Jefferson County civic leaders will formally request the State Highway Department to construct an underpass or overpass at the Yellow Creek junction at a meeting next Thursday night.

The group will hold a closed meeting at 8 at the property of Ed Jarvis near Hammondsville to request the Highway Department to improve the hazardous intersection of Ohio Routes 7 and 213.

The intersection, lying in an area subject to periodic heavy fog, has been the site of numerous traffic mishaps since Route 7 was widened into four lanes several years ago. One mishap was a triple fatality.

The State Highway Department's Columbus office began work two weeks ago on illuminating the intersection with overhead lighting.

Two flashing warning signs have been erected on Route 213 at the summit of a grade near where the secondary road intersects Route 7 south of Wellsville.

The civic group believes that illumination of the intersection will not eliminate the dangers for autos and school buses entirely, and will continue to press for the construction of the underpass or overpass.

Rep. Douglas Applegate has advised the group that William McKenna of New Philadelphia, Division 11 deputy director, will attend the meeting.

McKenna will be accompanied by Quay Bair, division traffic engineer, and Robert Jenkins, division design and planning engineer.

Supt. C. P. Henderson of Stanton Local Schools will act as spokesman for the civic group.

Others invited include members of the Stanton Board of Education, Saline Township trustees, Jefferson County commissioners, Mayor Quenton Henderson of Irondale, Mayor William Shoub and Safety - Service Director William Robinson of Wellsville and the mayors of Empire and Stratton.

Rep. Applegate advised by letter Thomas Lysle of Hammondsville that the Division 11 deputy engineer and the other two state officials will be present. The meeting will not be open to the public, the group said.

Wet Holiday Due In Valley

Traffic Spurt Seen For Some Highways

We might as well face it — the Thanksgiving holiday will be rainy but mild.

The Ohio weatherman said rain today will be followed by scattered showers tonight.

The holiday should dawn with temperatures above freezing—the overnight low will be 37 to 45—and the high range for the day will be 46 to 51 degrees. There will be a cooling trend tonight.

Holiday eve traffic meanwhile showed some highways with heavy travel and others normal to light.

Traffic hit its peak in downtown East Liverpool about 5 p.m. yesterday. Congestion was particularly heavy on Walnut St. and Bradshaw Ave. because of the heavy influx of traffic in and out of the parking lots of two major food markets.

By early last night both local and inter - city traffic had dwindled to a trickle. Police expect another rush, although of more moderate proportions, when holiday travelers start the homeward trip this afternoon.

Traffic flow increased slightly in the area early Wednesday night, but tapered off to routine travel, the Ohio Highway Patrol at Lisbon reported.

Western Beaver County recorded no serious traffic mishaps in the early hours Wednesday night.

Ohio Runs Out Of Money

There's Little For Anyone In State's Fund Measure

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Nobody gets much of anything in a state capital improvements bill now on the desk of Gov. Michael V. DiSalle for his approval. The governor has indicated he will sign it.

The big reason: The state has run out of money. In fact, there probbly won't be enough money—by several million dollars —to meet the provisions of the $33.4-million measure. The total actually is $10 million higher, but more of that later.

Just about one-fourth of the money allocated is an $11-million reappropriations of funds for a new state office building, but don't expect to see the new structure on the skyline the next time you visit Columbus. It appears the money just isn't available.

Nearly another one-fourth of the total is a reappropriation of state financial aid for construction of needed school buildings in districts overwhelmed by an influx of population. That amounts to slightly more than $10 million. That doesn't show in the bill because, it is a reappropriation, the Attorney General ruled it needn't be.

Another $2.8 million is assigned to a whole flock of repair jobs to institutions under control of the Department of Mental Hygiene and Correction.

Assigned to the Department of Natural Resources is a total of $5.3 million, including the Division of Wildlife.

The Ohio National Guard siphoned off another $1 million—it's federal money, but the state must appropriate it—for armories.

Another $6 million-plus — again federal money—was assigned for construction of buildings to house bureau of unemployment compensation offices throughout the state.

Another $3 million was assigned to an emergency fund as the money - conscious legislature adopted an apparent "meet-'em-when-you-see-'em" policy on state financial problems.

Set aside was a special $1 million emergency fund "for the placement, construction, repair or replacement of utility items, boilers, heating facilities, and coal handling facilities at the state institutions and universities." In short, that reflects the lawmakers' fears that heating equipment at both Ohio University and Miami University might fail at any minute.

Otherwise state universities didn't fare well in the capital improvements bill despite protest of educators that the future will demand much heavier outlays to meet the needs of an expected heavy wave of students.

The authorized outlays, by schools: Bowling Green $160,750, Central State $98,200, Kent State

Judge To Buy Holiday Meal Of Prisoners

Every prisoner in the city jail will eat a turkey dinner with all the trimmings this afternoon — and Judge Samuel M. Chertoff will pick up the tab.

The judge said Wednesday afternoon he has made arrangements with a local restaurant to prepare and deliver a Thanksgiving feast for each prisoner — "the whole works, from the entree to turkey to pumpkin pie" — and then turn over the bill to him.

How much will it cost? The judge doesn't know yet, but he estimates the jail will have a holiday population of a half a dozen or more.

The free dinner rule applies to any prisoner who is behind bars at 5 p. m. today. The judge said he will telephone the police station in mid-afternoon to learn how many are in jail on the holiday, then notify the restaurant in time for the meals to be prepared.

The judge conceded he did not announce his "free meal" plan far in advance because he knows some of the intoxication repeaters well enough to realize they might deliberately seek arrest to get in line for the turkey, especially with the judge picking up the tab.

Some of the prisoners will be in jail as a result of having faced the judge earlier in Municipal Court. The balance of the jail population will be comprised of those arrested since the court

No Deposition For Indicted Executive

LISBON — A scheduled taking of a deposition from a physician at Pittsburgh Wednesday as part of legal maneuvers in fighting the indictment of Lisbon Salesbook Co. officials for printing of gambling slips was canceled at the request of a defense attorney.

Judge Joel H. Sharp was to have heard testimony from Dr. Marvin Slavkin of Pitsburgh, physician for Joseph Sufrin of Pittsburgh, treasurer of the firm, which was indicted under the new Ohio anti - gambling laws for printing numbers slips.

Atty. William Moore of Lisbon, counsel for the firm, sought to have the indictment against Sufrin quashed because his health was being jeopardized by the accusation.

Atty. Moore canceled the taking of the deposition when County Prosecutor G. William Brokaw indicated he would not quash the indictment regardless of the testimony of the physician.

Judge Sharp had advised Moore earlier the indictment could be withdrawn only at the request of the prosecutor who had indicated then he would oppose it.

Friday will mark the deadline for a 14-day extension granted Atty. Moore to file demurrers to the five indictments against the firm and four of its officers.

Odds Mount Against Michael

Rockefeller To Use Flying Boat In Search For Son

MERAUKE, New Guinea (AP)—Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller, his anxiety mounting with the passing hours, set out Thursday to search every bit of this crocodile-infested coast for a clue to his missing son, Michael, 23.

As odds multiplied against Michael being found alive, the New York governor planned to use a flying boat for a surface-skimming probe of likely spots where his son might have swum to shore after his boat capsized last weekend in Flamingo Bay at the mouth of the Eilanden River.

A report reaching Melbourne, Australia, from Port Moresby, New Guinea, said the governor boarded a small Dutch trawler Wednesday night for a search of mangrove swamps near the mouth of the Eilanden River.

Gov. Rockefeller, arriving in New Guinea by chartered jetliner to make a personal search for his son, already has flown a 500-mile survey of the swampy south coast without finding a trace of Michael.

But he is hoping an intensive mile-by-mile search will be more rewarding. The governor planned to get exact details of what to look for from an interview with Dr. R. S. Wassing, 34, Michael's Dutch companion who clung to their overturned boat and was rescued by a Dutch warship Monday.

Wassing was flown to Merauke from Cook's Bay, 185 miles to the west, where he had been taken after his rescue.

One heartening piece of news that Gov. Rockefeller, accompanied by Michael's twin sister, Mary Rockefeller Strawbridge, heard when he arrived in New Guinea was that his son was only about two miles offshore Sunday when he began swimming toward land. Earlier reports said he was 14 miles out and had only two empty gasoline cans as a makeshift raft to help him.

The two were regarded in political circles as likely opponents in the general election next November for the state's top executive post.

"At the primary election to be held May 8, 1962, I shall be a candidate for the nomination for the office of governor of Ohio on the Republican ticket," Rhodes said in a prepared statement.

The three-term auditor, turned 52 last September, made known his decision to newsmen in his office without advance fanfare. In answer to questions, he said he would elaborate on issues during the campaign.

Taking note of Ohio's financial problems, the former Columbus mayor said:

"If nominated and elected governor of Ohio, I pledge . . . 1. A critical examination of all state expenditures and state operations. 2. A comprehensive study of the tax structure as it has been built up these many years."

The Republican-dominated legislature auhtorized broad studies along those lines in a resolution adopted July 31. House Speaker Roger Cloud, R-Logan, will head an 11-member legislative service commission group looking into governmental spending and future needs for efficient financing.

"The future of Ohio resolves around its tax structure and upon sound financing," Rhodes's announcement said.

"If Ohio is to attain new heights in education, as well as in other fields, these desirable objectives can be accomplished only through study and the realization of basic economics."

The announcement marked Rhodes' third bid for governor. He first ran in 1950 while in his second term as Columbus mayor, an office he held for 10 years. His

Odds Mount Against Michael

Rockefeller To Use Flying Boat In Search For Son

MERAUKE, New Guinea (AP) —Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller, his anxiety mounting with the passing hours, set out Thursday to search every bit of this crocodile-infested coast for a clue to his missing son, Michael, 23.

As odds multiplied against Michael being found alive, the New York governor planned to use a flying boat for a surface-skimming probe of likely spots where his son might have swum to shore after his boat capsized last weekend in Flamingo Bay at the mouth of the Eilanden River.

A report reaching Melbourne, Australia, from Port Moresby, New Guinea, said the governor boarded a small Dutch trawler Wednesday night for a search of mangrove swamps near the mouth of the Eilanden River.

Gov. Rockefeller, arriving in New Guinea by chartered jetliner to make a personal search for his son, already has flown a 500-mile survey of the swampy south coast without finding a trace of Michael.

But he is hoping an intensive mile-by-mile search will be more rewarding. The governor planned to get exact details of what to look for from an interview with Dr. R. S. Wassing, 34, Michael's Dutch companion who clung to their overturned boat and was rescued by a Dutch warship Monday.

Wassing was flown to Merauke from Cook's Bay, 185 miles to the west, where he had been taken after his rescue.

One heartening piece of news that Gov. Rockefeller, accompanied by Michael's twin sister, Mary Rockefeller Strawbridge, heard when he arrived in New Guinea was that his son was only about two miles offshore Sunday when he began swimming toward land. Earlier reports said he was 14 miles out and had only two empty gasoline cans as a makeshift raft to help him.

Yellow Creek Intersection Remedy Eyed

Jefferson Residents Believe Light Plan Is Not Solution

A delegation of northern Jefferson County civic leaders will formally request the State Highway Department to construct an underpass or overpass at the Yellow Creek junction at a meeting next Thursday night.

The group will hold a closed meeting at 8 at the property of Ed Jarvis near Hammondsville to request the Highway Department to improve the hazardous intersection of Ohio Routes 7 and 213.

The intersection, lying in an area subject to periodic heavy fog, has been the site of numerous traffic mishaps since Route 7 was widened into four lanes several years ago. One mishap was a triple fatality.

The State Highway Department's Columbus office began work two weeks ago on illuminating the intersection with overhead lighting.

Two flashing warning signs have been erected on Route 213 at the summit of a grade near where the secondary road intersects Route 7 south of Wellsville.

The civic group believes that illumination of the intersection will not eliminate the dangers for autos and school buses entirely, and will continue to press for the construction of the underpass or overpass.

Rep. Douglas Applegate has advised the group that William McKenna of New Philadelphia, Division 11 deputy director, will attend the meeting.

McKenna will be accompanied by Quay Bair, division traffic engineer, and Robert Jenkins, division design and planning engineer.

Supt. C. P. Henderson of Stanton Local Schools will act as spokesman for the civic group.

Others invited include members of the Stanton Board of Education, Saline Township trustees, Jefferson County commissioners, Mayor Quenton Henderson of Irondale, Mayor William Shoub and Safety - Service Director William Robinson of Wellsville and the mayors of Empire and Stratton.

Rep. Applegate advised by letter Thomas Lysle of Hammondsville that the Division 11 deputy engineer and the other two state officials will be present. The meeting will not be open to the public, the group said.

Wet Holiday Due In Valley

Traffic Spurt Seen For Some Highways

We might as well face it — the Thanksgiving holiday will be rainy but mild.

The Ohio weatherman said rain today will be followed by scattered showers tonight.

The holiday should dawn with temperatures above freezing—the overnight low will be 37 to 45—and the high range for the day will be 46 to 51 degrees. There will be a cooling trend tonight.

Holiday eve traffic meanwhile showed some highways with heavy travel and others normal to light.

Traffic hit its peak in downtown East Liverpool about 5 p.m. yesterday. Congestion was particularly heavy on Walnut St. and Bradshaw Ave. because of the heavy influx of traffic in and out of the parking lots of two major food markets.

By early last night both local and inter - city traffic had dwindled to a trickle. Police expect another rush, although of more moderate proportions, when holiday travelers start the homeward trip this afternoon.

Traffic flow increased slightly in the area early Wednesday night, but tapered off to routine travel. the Ohio Highway Patrol at Lisbon reported.

Where A Man Breathes Freedom

There will be the usual longing this Thanksgiving to turn the clock backward to some nostalgic point in time.

There is always this yearning for the good old days that weren't half so good as faulty memory and even faultier legend have made them seem to be — an old-fashioned Christmas, an old-fashioned Thanksgiving, an old-fashioned Fourth of July.

The best Thanksgiving that ever was is the one we are celebrating in 1961.

"In the midst of all our problems?" ask the doubters.

In the midst of all our problems . . .

LET IT BE granted that the problems have grown in ratio to the means of grappling with them. They are bigger than they used to be, unless starvation in a strange land full of fear and pestilence, could be called as gigantic a problem as the possibility of being turned into a cinder by a nuclear blast.

Today, starvation is not a problem in America. Nor staying warm. Nor avoiding sudden and helpless death by pestilence.

Death is still man's constant companion, but in America the life span has lengthened and, with few exceptions, the ills of the flesh can be treated with prospect of success.

Was there, though, more peace of mind in the old days? That has been a favorite delusion of Americans — that their ancestors were not nagged by doubts and uncertainties.

Their ignorance in many instances was bliss, but in just as many instances it was horror.

Alcoholism was the curse of the early years of America. Drudgery and poverty, loneliness and despair were made-to-order excuses for drunkenness. There was little bliss.

Cruelty and violence were the rule, not the exception.

Tolerance was unheard of. It was the irony of early times that people whose lives had been made unbearable by intolerance in Europe gave free rein to their own intolerance when they came here.

Among their first and most helpless victims were the natives of the new land. Even in the second half of the 20th century we are still cursed with the credo that the American Indian lives at the sufferance of his conquerors.

THERE ARE NO unique problems. Nothing has happened since the founding of America that confronts Americans with any problem tougher than survival.

It should not be forgotten that the early settlers were on their own; they were not supplied from abroad. They started from scratch and lived from hand to mouth.

They were gambling for their lives, not just their comfort.

It was to be generations before they could say that in America a man breathes free. It was to be centuries before they could say they had husbanded the land so well they need never fear starvation again.

We still have not abolished our ancestors' besetting sin of intolerance but we have dared at long last to say that certain odious acts of intolerance are against the public interest and the public law.

This is the best Thanksgiving we have had so far, but next year's can be a little better if everybody tries a little harder.

It is freedom's evolution we are thankful for, not merely the circumstances that made freedom's evolution possible.

No Issue In Religion

It is a bit disconcerting to see the impending jockeying for leadership positions in the U.S. House of Representatives billed as a religious fight.

The issue, according to this billing, is whether a Catholic should be allowed to succeed the late Speaker Sam Rayburn when both the President and the Senate majority leader are also Catholics.

We were under the impression that any candidate's religious affiliation ceased to be a political issue after John F. Kennedy's election to the White House. Many Americans, including some who neither voted for him nor belonged to his church, were relieved in the belief that the question had been settled once and for all.

The idea was that religion too often can be raised as a false issue to cover up something else that lies at the heart of a political contest.

And that indeed, may be the case with the threatened battle over who will take Mr. Sam's place.

Rep. John W. McCormick has been considered the only candidate because he has been Democratic floor leader in the House since 1940 and acted in Mr. Sam's place after the latter's illness forced him to give up working last August.

That sort of seniority and experience are powerful qualifications in the system of doing things on Capitol Hill. They might take precedence over the fact that Mr. McCormack is considered a liberal and therefore not the preferred choice of southern conservatives on the Democratic side of the House aisle.

If Rep. McCormack were to be defeated, something more might be needed against him to offset the weight of his seniority and position in the chain of command. To a southern Baptist, like potential opponent Albert Rains of Alabama, religion might appear to be that "something more."

If that is the motivation for bringing up the religious issue, the people behind it ought to take another look before they leap into the fray on that basis.

Religion ought to remain a dead issue in this sort of situation. If there are other reasons for opposing Rep. McCormack's elevation to the speakership, they should be stated and fought for on their own merits.

Good Police Work

Efficient and cooperative law enforcement was demonstrated in the speedy cracking of the Boyd murder case.

In line for commendation after six days of comprehensive police work are Sheriff Russell VanFossan and his staff, Chief Radeschi and officers of the East Liverpool Police Department, the Hancock County sheriff's office and members of the Bureau of Criminal Identification.

Because of its many facets and many suspects, the investigation presented a number of puzzling angles that had to be checked out carefully. Those on the case wasted little time in doing so. Their work paid off with the confession late Tuesday night.

Law enforcement agencies have been frequent targets of attack, but there can be no logical criticism leveled against them for the manner in which they handled the Boyd murder case. It was wrapped up in a professional manner.

What's Wrong With Extremism?

Everybody seems to have developed a lively interest in extremism lately — President Kennedy, Vice President Johnson, Sen. Goldwater, the Catholic Bishops of the United States, the Union of American Hebrew Congregations and other organizations and individuals.

What's wrong with extremism? What kind of extremism are they talking about?

The answer to the second question is the key to understanding the answer to the first one.

They are talking about the kind of extremism that tends to build a mass following for a point of view so extreme it taxes belief.

They are especially talking about extremism so far from a center position that to embrace it would put a convert at odds with public opinion and the policies of his government.

They are not talking about the personal extremism that tempts most of us at one time or another to take positions untenable even for ourselves.

They are talking about the kind that threatens direct collision with the going practices of government — the kind that would put extremism into violent conflict.

That is what's wrong with extremism.

It is basically an un-American attitude. It rules out the possibility of settlement and raises the probability of conflict. It is an attitude of civil war.

It denies the merit of settlement through compromise.

It advocates forced procedures that would leave the opposition no choice but to fight because the alternative would be destruction.

It is a course of action leading to violence.

Americans often take personal positions that would land them in the hoosegow in a less tolerant society. But they have well-defined limits for extremism.

They don't care if an individual talks like a Communist as long as he doesn't form a conspiracy to overthrow the government.

To be a Communist is only one form of extremism. Other forms not so widely advertised and presumably not so frightening would lead to the same end — destruction of the established order in favor of a new order whose specifications are unknown.

Those who are promoting these new orders should make their proposals in Congress. If the proposals have merit, they can be sure of a hearing in the only place where a hearing would open the way to legal action.

Shaking Up The Earthlings

Those two New York scientists who say they have found traces of fossil remains in meteorites couldn't have caused much more excitement if they had found Indian arrowheads.

Though the "organized structures" they describe are rudimentary and not identical with anything found on earth, they signify plainly that earth has no monopoly on life in the universe.

One more article of common human belief has been chipped away.

One more concept will have to be added to men's catalog of knowledge if the announcement by Dr. George Claus of New York University and Prof. Bartholomew Nagy of Fordham University goes unchallenged.

The concept has been a potential source of nagging concern ever since it became evident that before the end of the 20th century men would have learned how to move far outward into the small section of the universe that includes this miniscule blob called earth.

Only a few instants backward in time, earthlings were unaware of the existence of other earthlings; they never had seen them, therefore they couldn't imagine they existed. It is hardly to be wondered at that earthlings now are finding it hard to believe life could exist on other planets.

Those two New York scientists have tugged on a string that could dump the applecart of a few thousand years of human striving to understand the nature of it all.

Behind The Day We Give Thanks

By John N. Adams

What does Thanksgiving Day really mean to us?

Is there some special significance in our celebration of this uniquely American and oldest of our national holidays?

Are we truly grateful or does our overindulgence mock the words of our prayers?

There are many legends, both fictional and factual, about the Thanksgiving holiday that are worth preserving.

For instance, it is accepted, generally, that the Pilgrims were the first to celebrate Thanksgiving Day on these shores, but Virginians, with well-documented evidence to support their contention, claim that the first Thanksgiving was celebrated by a band of colonists at Berkeley, on the James River, more than a year before the Pilgrims even landed in New England.

The Virginia site, originally known as the "Berkeley Hundred" was deeded to the Berkeley Company by King James 1. On Dec. 4, 1619, the settlers stepped ashore and in accordance with the proprietors' instructions that "the day or our ships' arrival . . . shall be yearly and perpetually kept as a day of Thanksgiving," celebrated the first Thanksgiving in America.

That celebration however was but the first of many notable events connected with Berkeley.

IT WAS the home of the Harrison family and the mansion, built in 1726 by Benjamin Harrison was the first three-story brick house in Virginia. The builder was a signer of the Declaration of Independence. He also was the grandfather of William Henry Harrison and the great grandfather of Benjamin Harrison, the ninth and 23rd presidents, respectively, of the United States.

In Colonial Days and the early years of our Statehood, there was no set date for observing the holiday.

The first presidential proclamation for Thanksgiving was in 1789, when George Washington said: "Whereas both houses of Congress have requested me to recommend to the people of the United States a day of Thanksgiving and prayer, I do now recommend and assign this 26th of November, to the service of the great and glorious Being."

WHILE THE PRACTICE of celebrating Thanksgiving took hold, there was no unanimity as to the time it should be celebrated. The federal government lost interest in the idea of making it a national holiday and it is only because of the untiring efforts of a lone woman that we now celebrate Thanksgiving Day when we do.

Sarah Josepha Hale is practically unknown today, but she deserves a special bit of thanks on Thanksgiving.

It was in 1827, when she became editor of the "Ladies Magazine," which was published in Boston, that Mrs. Hale began to lobby for a national Thanksgiving Day. She continued her crusade when she became editor of "Godey's Lady's Book," which she managed from 1837 to 1877.

In addition to campaigning for the holiday in the two magazines, Mrs. Hale—a prolific writer—bombarded the presidents of the United States, from John Quincy Adams to James Buchanan, with letters for the Thanksgiving Day cause.

It wasn't until Abraham Lincoln occupied the White House that she finally won presidential action. On Oct. 3, 1863, Lincoln issued the first national Thanksgiving proclamation since George Washington's.

LINCOLN'S proclamation concluded with the words: "That the gracious gifts of the most high God, should be solemnly, reverently, and gratefully acknowledged by the whole American people, I do, therefore, invite my fellow citizens in every part of the United States and also those who are at sea or who are sojourning in foreign lands to set apart and observe the last Thursday of November next as a day of Thanksgiving and praise to our beneficent Father who dwelleth in the heavens."

From that day until 1939, our presidents proclaimed the last Thursday in November as Thanksgiving Day. President Franklin D. Roosevelt broke the tradition that year, moving the holiday back one week. This action brought down a storm of protest letters for his trouble.

While the experiment was a failure it did result in official action setting the fourth Thursday of November as Thanksgiving Day.

Kennedy Maps Tax Cut

By Joseph R. Slevin

President Kennedy is preparing to recommend a delayed - action income tax cut next year.

The proposal is due to be included in a broad tax revision program that the President will present to Congress during the early summer. He will urge that congressional action on the recommendations be postponed until January 1963.

The income tax cut would be the first that the American taxpayers have received since a temporary Korean War tax boost expired in January 1954.

KENNEDY originally had planned to submit his tax revision program next January but he changed his mind when the tax - writing House Ways and Means Committee failed to complete action on a series of tax changes he put forward last spring.

The pending recommendations include an 8 per cent business investment credit and a precedent - setting plan for withholding taxes on dividends and interest payments.

Submission of the revision bill in mid-1962 will be a political plus for the Democrats. They will be able to point to a firm tax cut proposal in advance of the crucial November 1962 congressional elections.

The early unveiling will be welcomed by technicians, too, for it will permit exhaustive study of the administration proposals by congressional and private tax experts before the new Congress assembles in January 1963.

The budgetary facts of life are such that Kennedy would be loathe to ask Congress to enact a tax cut during 1962 even if there were no Ways and Means Committee logjam.

THE BEST CURRENT estimate of administration officials is that the budget barely will be balanced — and even may show a slight deficit — in fiscal 1963, the year that will begin next July 1.

Recommending an individual income tax cut under these circumstances would inspire Republican charges of fiscal irresponsibility and that is a line of attack Kennedy does not want to encourage.

A tax cut enacted by Congress in 1963 would not take effect before fiscal 1964 — the year that will begin July 1, 1963. It is difficult to make useful predictions about the fiscal 1964 budget but the administration has high hopes that it will show a surplus unless revenues are chopped by a new recession.

Kennedy will not have to spell out his tax cut plans in precise detail in his mid-1962 message and he can suggest alternative approaches that Congress could consider in the light of the conditions that will prevail when it acts in 1963.

THE PRESIDENT will have to put forward his exact recommendations in January 1963 budget message. His revenue estimates will be geared to the tax structure that he wants Congress to adopt.

Kennedy and his advisers are anxious to cut individual income tax rates because they believe that they are too high both from the standpoint of equity and from the standpoint of their impact on incentives and economic growth.

The administration is particularly unhappy about upper-bracket rates but its tax cut proposals are expected to call for reductions in all brackets.

The President will urge that at least part of any revenue loss be offset by withdrawing the preferential treatment that some groups of taxpayers now receive.

Union System Susceptible To Infiltration

David Lawrence

Vice President Lyndon Johnson a few days ago, talked about the way the Communists are seeking to bring about a divided America. He said they are striving steadily and in many ways to array "class against class." He pointed the finger of blame at extremists and said that "the leaders of world communism know that in this ugly business they will find unwitting allies within our own society.".

But Mr. Johnson, while criticizing group after group, never said a word about the friction going on inside the labor union movement in America.

A United Press International News dispatch from Nevada now tells of a walkout of about half the employes at a nuclear-testing base there. In a jurisdictional dispute, the operating engineers and plumbers each denied the right of the other to do certain work. About 2,000 employes refused to cross the picket lines set up by the plumbers.

Yet the United States is in the midst of a desperate contest with the Communists on the matter of nuclear tests and time is of the essence.

Who, therefore, looks out for the national interest? The impression has been conveyed that strikes at missile bases have been abolished, but sporadic interruptions do occur. The public is inclined to blame employers, when the fighting actually is between the unions themselves.

The secretary of labor, Arthur Goldberg, made a speech last Friday to the convention of the AFL-CIO Industrial Union Department, urging that jurisdictional feuds should be abandoned. He said that "the country needs a united and not a divided labor movement."

Unfortunately, the government of the United States has not asserted itself in recent years to apply the same rules to trade unions that it applies to industry.

The labor unions are free to engage in monopoly and indirectly in price-fixing, yet employers can be sent to jail for offenses in that category of business activity.

THE PROBLEM is not peculiar to the United States. Great Britain lately has been struggling with a Communist—infiltrated union in the electrical trades. The cumulative effect of press and television exposure has led to the expulsion of this particular union of nearly 400,000 members, first by the Trades Union Congress and then by the Labor party. The electrical union has broken the grip of the Communists on its leadership by electing non-Communists to nine out of 11 executive posts.

"It has evidently been borne in upon them at last," says a London Times editorial, "that more was at stake in the election of the officials of their union than the choice of capable negotiators and industrial militants. Even so, in spite of the unexampled publicity and the clearest of issues, only 25 per cent of the members voted and not all of those votes counted.

"It can be taken for granted that the Communists and their sympathizers will start boring away again as the excitement dies down. Nothing would suit them better than a quick return of the rank and file to their normal state of apathy.

"Even the present series of elective struggles is not yet complete. The next round comes later this month over the rules revision conference, the management of which is under the old, discredited dispensation. Some well-judged tinkering with the rules could assist the return to dominance of the faction which has just been repudiated."

THE LONDON TIMES also points up a weakness in labor unions noticeable in this country, too, as it says:

"The electrical trades union case has given sharper definition to a need which was already apparent: Some independent authority to ensure that trade union rules conform to certain minimum standards and that they are honestly observed in practice, not only at the time of elections, and to which members may appeal if they suspect a breach of the rules.

"Hostility to any such proposal is deeply seated in the mentality of trade unionists. It would have to be presented as, and to be, a move to protect individual members and in no way a move to undermine the industrial strength of the unions."

In America the public and particularly the members of trade unions have not become aware of all the skulduggery that goes on to make unions instruments of autocratic power. Today, moreover, as trade unions finance the campaigns of many members of Congress or pay some of them big fees for lectures and speeches throughout the year, it is evident that more and more political influence is being exerted by a few trade union leaders.

It is a situation made to order for Communist infiltration and for the disruption of work on America's defense projects.

My Heart Stood Still

By Truman Twill

I guess everybody knows by this time how I feel about Jacqueline Kennedy. When I heard about her falling off her horse in a fox hunt, my heart stood still.

That's what the horse did; he stood still, while our First Lady moved ahead, landing on a rail fence.

This is one of the hundred or so reasons my eyes grow wide and my lips part at the mention of Mrs. Kennedy. It takes courage to ride a horse up to a rail fence and tell him to get over there, boy, that's a good horsie. Umph!

This sort of thing has been missing throughout my lower-middle-class life. It causes me to stand in awe of people who ride horses in fox hunts, yell "Tally-ho!" or whatever they yell, and do all the other things that go with privilege in America.

I wouldn't know how to act if I were to be transplanted into the circles where these things are commonplace. My mouth gets dry and my insides twitter at the thought of what a misfit I'd be."

Jiminy crickets, I wouldn't even know what I'd do with a fox if I killed one. They're no good to eat, and wild ones would be no good to wear around the neck. If the varmint had been killing chickens a fellow could get mad enough to jump on a horse and set off in hot pursuit with a view to slaughter, but that's not the way it is on fox hunts.

These things don't bother the fox-hunting set. They just bother people not to the manor born, so to speak, which includes all but a few thousand of the 180 million of us. I've always liked the story about the Texas red-neck who struck oil and was buying his way into high society, until he loused his act at a fox hunt by screaming: "There goes the little red (unprintable)!"

Next to riding horses up to fences and hoping they'd go over I think the thing I'd miss least about being one of the Set would be sailing in boats always threatening to tip over. I can't swim and get teddibly, teddibly sick at my stummick from motion.

Private airplanes also would be an embarrassment, unless they happened to be big enough for 80 passengers. But so would many of the other things, commonplace on the other side of the tracks and up the hill — out of the low-rent district. They're too numerous to mention.

The eating and drinking and forever traveling from one place to another and sleeping in strange beds and drinking different water — awk! They alone would do me in.

If I didn't break my neck falling off a horse, die at sea, fall out of a plane, blow a gasket trying to play tennis and golf, or fluster myself into a fit trying to remember who everybody was, I'd wind up in a mortuary with blown liver gaskets.

Oh yes, one more thing—shooting. I have the impression I'd have to shoot a lot, to hold up my end among the privileged.

Sooner or later some sport would say, "It's a wonderful day, dear chap. Let's kill something" —and I might do that, on the spot. I am not trying to sour-grape my way out of this, but only to suggest that something happened inside me when the First Lady's horse stopped at the fence and the First Lady went on.

It was symbolic, sort of. I'd be with the horse in a thing like that. I'd stop. And if Mrs. Kennedy continued on I'd know it was a case of never the twain shall meet.

I never felt this way about Mamie Eisenhower, Bess Truman, Eleanor Roosevelt, Lou Hoover, or those other ladies. I figured them to be the same as me, only luckier.

But Jackie Kennedy . . . ah. There's one who rides a horse over fences.

Where A Man Breathes Freedom

There will be the usual longing this Thanksgiving to turn the clock backward to some nostalgic point in time.

There is always this yearning for the good old days that weren't half so good as faulty memory and even faultier legend have made them seem to be — an old-fashioned Christmas, an old-fashioned Thanksgiving, an old-fashioned Fourth of July.

The best Thanksgiving that ever was is the one we are celebrating in 1961.

"In the midst of all our problems?" ask the doubters.

In the midst of all our problems . . .

LET IT BE granted that the problems have grown in ratio to the means of grappling with them. They are bigger than they used to be, unless starvation in a strange land full of fear and pestilence, could be called as gigantic a problem as the possibility of being turned into a cinder by a nuclear blast.

Today, starvation is not a problem in America. Nor staying warm. Nor avoiding sudden and helpless death by pestilence.

Death is still man's constant companion, but in America the life span has lengthened and, with few exceptions, the ills of the flesh can be treated with prospect of success.

Was there, though, more peace of mind in the old days? That has been a favorite delusion of Americans — that their ancestors were not nagged by doubts and uncertainties.

Their ignorance in many instances was bliss, but in just as many instances it was horror.

Alcoholism was the curse of the early years of America. Drudgery and poverty, loneliness and despair were made-to-order excuses for drunkenness. There was little bliss.

Cruelty and violence were the rule, not the exception.

Tolerance was unheard of. It was the irony of early times that people whose lives had been made unbearable by intolerance in Europe gave free rein to their own intolerance when they came here.

Among their first and most helpless victims were the natives of the new land. Even in the second half of the 20th century we are still cursed with the credo that the American Indian lives at the sufferance of his conquerors.

THERE ARE NO unique problems. Nothing has happened since the founding of America that confronts Americans with any problem tougher than survival.

It should not be forgotten that the early settlers were on their own; they were not supplied from abroad. They started from scratch and lived from hand to mouth.

They were gambling for their lives, not just their comfort.

It was to be generations before they could say that in America a man breathes free. It was to be centuries before they could say they had husbanded the land so well they need never fear starvation again.

We still have not abolished our ancestors' besetting sin of intolerance but we have dared at long last to say that certain odious acts of intolerance are against the public interest and the public law.

This is the best Thanksgiving we have had so far, but next year's can be a little better if everybody tries a little harder.

It is freedom's evolution we are thankful for, not merely the circumstances that made freedom's evolution possible.

No Issue In Religion

It is a bit disconcerting to see the impending jockeying for leadership positions in the U.S. House of Representatives billed as a religious fight.

The issue, according to this billing, is whether a Catholic should be allowed to succeed the late Speaker Sam Rayburn when both the President and the Senate majority leader are also Catholics.

We were under the impression that any candidate's religious affiliation ceased to be a political issue after John F. Kennedy's election to the White House. Many Americans, including some who neither voted for him nor belonged to his church, were relieved in the belief that the question had been settled once and for all.

The idea was that religion too often can be raised as a false issue to cover up something else that lies at the heart of a political contest.

And that indeed, may be the case with the threatened battle over who will take Mr. Sam's place.

Rep. John W. McCormick has been considered the only candidate because he has been Democratic floor leader in the House since 1940 and acted in Mr. Sam's place after the latter's illness forced him to give up working last August.

That sort of seniority and experience are powerful qualifications in the system of doing things on Capitol Hill. They might take precedence over the fact that Mr. McCormack is considered a liberal and therefore not the preferred choice of southern conservatives on the Democratic side of the House aisle.

If Rep. McCormack were to be defeated, something more might be needed against him to offset the weight of his seniority and position in the chain of command. To a southern Baptist, like potential opponent Albert Rains of Alabama, religion might appear to be that "something more."

If that is the motivation for bringing up the religious issue, the people behind it ought to take another look before they leap into the fray on that basis.

Religion ought to remain a dead issue in this sort of situation. If there are other reasons for opposing Rep. McCormack's elevation to the speakership, they should be stated and fought for on their own merits.

Good Police Work

Efficient and cooperative law enforcement was demonstrated in the speedy cracking of the Boyd murder case.

In line for commendation after six days of comprehensive police work are Sheriff Russell VanFossan and his staff, Chief Radeschi and officers of the East Liverpool Police Department, the Hancock County sheriff's office and members of the Bureau of Criminal Identification.

Because of its many facets and many suspects, the investigation presented a number of puzzling angles that had to be checked out carefully. Those on the case wasted little time in doing so. Their work paid off with the confession late Tuesday night.

Law enforcement agencies have been frequent targets of attack, but there can be no logical criticism leveled against them for the manner in which they handled the Boyd murder case. It was wrapped up in a professional manner.

What's Wrong With Extremism?

Everybody seems to have developed a lively interest in extremism lately — President Kennedy, Vice President Johnson, Sen. Goldwater, the Catholic Bishops of the United States, the Union of American Hebrew Congregations and other organizations and individuals.

What's wrong with extremism? What kind of extremism are they talking about?

The answer to the second question is the key to understanding the answer to the first one.

They are talking about the kind of extremism that tends to build a mass following for a point of view so extreme it taxes belief.

They are especially talking about extremism so far from a center position that to embrace it would put a convert at odds with public opinion and the policies of his government.

They are not talking about the personal extremism that tempts most of us at one time or another to take positions untenable even for ourselves.

They are talking about the kind that threatens direct collision with the going practices of government — the kind that would put extremism into violent conflict.

That is what's wrong with extremism.

It is basically an un-American attitude. It rules out the possibility of settlement and raises the probability of conflict. It is an attitude of civil war.

It denies the merit of settlement through compromise.

It advocates forced procedures that would leave the opposition no choice but to fight because the alternative would be destruction.

It is a course of action leading to violence.

Americans often take personal positions that would land them in the hoosegow in a less tolerant society. But they have well-defined limits for extremism.

They don't care if an individual talks like a Communist as long as he doesn't form a conspiracy to overthrow the government.

To be a Communist is only one form of extremism. Other forms not so widely advertised and presumably not so frightening would lead to the same end — destruction of the established order in favor of a new order whose specifications are unknown.

Those who are promoting these new orders should make their proposals in Congress. If the proposals have merit, they can be sure of a hearing in the only place where a hearing would open the way to legal action.

Shaking Up The Earthlings

Those two New York scientists who say they have found traces of fossil remains in meteorites couldn't have caused much more excitement if they had found Indian arrowheads.

Though the "organized structures" they describe are rudimentary and not identical with anything found on earth, they signify plainly that earth has no monopoly on life in the universe.

One more article of common human belief has been chipped away.

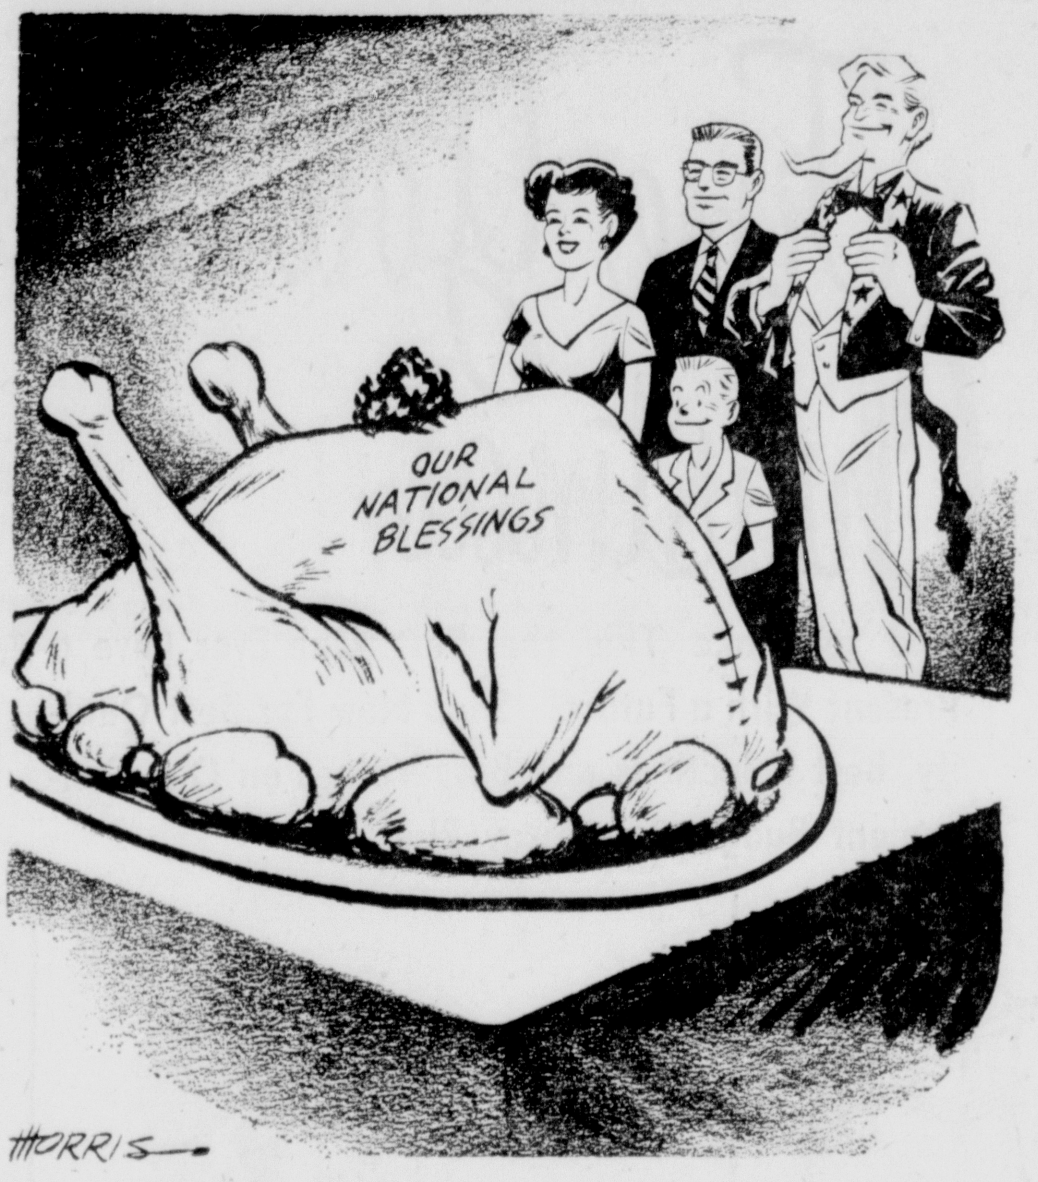
One more concept will have to be added to men's catalog of knowledge if the announcement by Dr. George Claus of New York University and Prof. Bartholomew Nagy of Fordham University goes unchallenged.

The concept has been a potential source of nagging concern ever since it became evident that before the end of the 20th century men would have learned how to move far outward into the small section of the universe that includes this miniscule blob called earth.

Only a few instants backward in time, earthlings were unaware of the existence of other earthlings; they never had seen them, therefore they couldn't imagine they existed. It is hardly to be wondered at that earthlings now are finding it hard to believe life could exist on other planets.

Those two New York scientists have tugged on a string that could dump the applecart of a few thousand years of human striving to understand the nature of it all.

The Groaning Board



Behind The Day We Give Thanks

By John N. Adams

What does Thanksgiving Day really mean to us?

Is there some special significance in our celebration of this uniquely American and oldest of our national holidays?

Are we truly grateful or does our overindulgence mock the words of our prayers?

There are many legends, both fictional and factual, about the Thanksgiving holiday that are worth preserving.

For instance, it is accepted, generally, that the Pilgrims were the first to celebrate Thanksgiving Day on these shores, but Virginians, with well-documented evidence to support their contention, claim that the first Thanksgiving was celebrated by a band of colonists at Berkeley, on the James River, more than a year before the Pilgrims even landed in New England.

The Virginia site, originally known as the "Berkeley Hundred" was deeded to the Berkeley Company by King James 1. On Dec. 4, 1619, the settlers stepped ashore and in accordance with the proprietors' instructions that "the day or our ships' arrival . . . shall be yearly and perpetually kept as a day of Thanksgiving," celebrated the first Thanksgiving in America.

That celebration however was but the first of many notable events connected with Berkeley.

IT WAS the home of the Harrison family and the mansion, built in 1726 by Benjamin Harrison was the first three-story brick house in Virginia. The builder was a signer of the Declaration of Independence. He also was the grandfather of William Henry Harrison and the great grandfather of Benjamin Harrison, the ninth and 23rd presidents, respectively, of the United States.

In Colonial Days and the early years of our Statehood, there was no set date for observing the holiday.

The first presidential proclamation for Thanksgiving was in 1789, when George Washington said: "Whereas both houses of Congress have requested me to recommend to the people of the United States a day of Thanksgiving and prayer, I do now recommend and assign this 26th of November, to the service of the great and glorious Being."

WHILE THE PRACTICE of celebrating Thanksgiving took hold, there was no unanimity as to the time it should be celebrated. The federal government lost interest in the idea of making it a national holiday and it is only because of the untiring efforts of a lone woman that we now celebrate Thanksgiving Day when we do.

Sarah Josepha Hale is practically unknown today, but she deserves a special bit of thanks on Thanksgiving.

It was in 1827, when she became editor of the "Ladies Magazine," which was published in Boston, that Mrs. Hale began to lobby for a national Thanksgiving Day. She continued her crusade when she became editor of "Godey's Lady's Book," which she managed from 1837 to 1877.

In addition to campaigning for the holiday in the two magazines, Mrs. Hale—a prolific writer—bombarded the presidents of the United States, from John Quincy Adams to James Buchanan, with letters for the Thanksgiving Day cause.

It wasn't until Abraham Lincoln occupied the White House that she finally won presidential action. On Oct. 3, 1863, Lincoln issued the first national Thanksgiving proclamation since George Washington's.

LINCOLN'S proclamation concluded with the words: "That the gracious gifts of the most high God, should be solemnly, reverently, and gratefully acknowledged by the whole American people, I do, therefore, invite my fellow citizens in every part of the United States and also those who are at sea or who are sojourning in foreign lands to set apart and observe the last Thursday of November next as a day of Thanksgiving and praise to our beneficent Father who dwelleth in the heavens."

By Truman Twill

I guess everybody knows by this time how I feel about Jacqueline Kennedy. When I heard about her falling off her horse in a fox hunt, my heart stood still.

That's what the horse did; he stood still, while our First Lady moved ahead, landing on a rail fence.

This is one of the hundred or so reasons my eyes grow wide and my lips part at the mention of Mrs. Kennedy. It takes courage to ride a horse up to a rail fence and tell him to get over there, boy, that's a good horsie. Umph!

This sort of thing has been missing throughout my lower-middle-class life. It causes me to stand in awe of people who ride horses in fox hunts, yell "Tally-ho!" or whatever they yell, and do all the other things that go with privilege in America.

I wouldn't know how to act if I were to be transplanted into the circles where these things are commonplace. My mouth gets dry and my insides twitter at the thought of what a misfit I'd be."

Jiminy crickets, I wouldn't even know what I'd do with a fox if I killed one. They're no good to eat, and wild ones would be no good to wear around the neck. If the varmint had been killing chickens a fellow could get mad enough to jump on a horse and set off in hot pursuit with a view to slaughter, but that's not the way it is on fox hunts.

These things don't bother the fox-hunting set. They just bother people not to the manor born, so to speak, which includes all but a few thousand of the 180 million of us. I've always liked the story about the Texas red-neck who struck oil and was buying his way into high society, until he loused his act at a fox hunt by screaming: "There goes the little red (unprintable)!"

Next to riding horses up to fences and hoping they'd go over I think the thing I'd miss least about being one of the Set would be sailing in boats always threatening to tip over. I can't swim and get teddibly, teddibly sick at my stummick from motion.

Private airplanes also would be an embarrassment, unless they happened to be big enough for 80 passengers. But so would many of the other things, commonplace on the other side of the tracks and up the hill — out of the low-rent district. They're too numerous to mention.

The eating and drinking and forever traveling from one place to another and sleeping in strange beds and drinking different water — awk! They alone would do me in.

If I didn't break my neck falling off a horse, die at sea, fall out of a plane, blow a gasket trying to play tennis and golf, or fluster myself into a fit trying to remember who everybody was, I'd wind up in a mortuary with blown liver gaskets.

Oh yes, one more thing—shooting. I have the impression I'd have to shoot a lot, to hold up my end among the privileged.

Sooner or later some sport would say, "It's a wonderful day, dear chap. Let's kill something" —and I might do that, on the spot. I am not trying to sour-grape my way out of this, but only to suggest that something happened inside me when the First Lady's horse stopped at the fence and the First Lady went on.

It was symbolic, sort of. I'd be with the horse in a thing like that. I'd stop. And if Mrs. Kennedy continued on I'd know it was a case of never the twain shall meet.

I never felt this way about Mamie Eisenhower, Bess Truman, Eleanor Roosevelt, Lou Hoover, or those other ladies. I figured them to be the same as me, only luckier.

But Jackie Kennedy . . . ah. There's one who rides a horse over fences.

Pastor Talks To Kiwanians

Thanksgiving's spiritual uplifting was discussed by the Rev. John Clark of the Methodist Church at a meeting of the Kiwanis Club Wednesday at the Travelers Hotel.

The minister said that in a world moving so fast, in transportation, in communication and in other technologies, there remains a need for traditions to hold on to.

"Thanksgiving," he said, "gives us a sense of greatness as a nation and a relationship with the eternal father." He discussed the history of the Thanksgiving feast from the early Pilgrims to the national observance called by George Washington in 1789 and by later Presidents, including Madison and Lincoln.

He also cited the emotional benefits of expressing gratitude and the unity achieved by the national observance.

"It highlights," he said, "a spiritual quality not only as a nation but as an individual. The holiday is a time to rejoice together as a people and a nation in relationship to God."

Rev. Clark was introduced by Merrill Hall, program chairman.

Jud English, president, announced a Kiwanis Division training meeting will be held Sunday afternoon at 1:30 at Westgate School.

Paul Blair announced the installation dinner will be held Jan. 9 at the Country Club.

The sale of Christmas trees by the Key Club was announced by Neal Birnbaum of the club.

Gen. Swing Quits As Immigration Unit Supervisor

WASHINGTON (AP) — The White House said Wednesday Gen. Joseph M. Swing has resigned as commissioner of immigration and naturalization, a post he has held since 1954.

Raymond F. Farrell, associate commissioner of the Immigration and Naturalization Service, has been picked to take over the top job when Swing steps out Jan. 1.

The White House gave no details.

Swing last June completed 50 years of government service, including a long career in the Army. He was a West Point classmate of former President Dwight D. Eisenhower.

Justice Department sources indicated that the selection of Farrell resulted at least in part from an administration desire to promote a career man to a top echelon post in the department.

Farrell is a former FBI agent who joined the Justice Department 20 years ago.

Liquor Business Boost Seen For Holiday Season

CHARLESTON, W. Va. (AP) — Liquor Commissioner Clarence Elmore expects the holiday season to bring an increase of about $1.4 million in gross business at state liquor stores.

"Our normal gross runs about $700,000 a week," he said, "and experience has shown that we can expect the equivalent of about two additional weeks of business between Thanksgiving and the first of the year."

A recent inventory showed that the state had on hand, either in stores or its warehouse here, 201,826 cases of alcoholic beverages with a value of $5,684,902.

The supply represents the commission's holiday stock.

Elmore said that perhaps the only major change in merchandising procedures this year will be the limiting of Christmas wrapping to the specially designed holiday decanters.

In past years regular bottles also were given special wrapping by distilleries, but Elmore asked that this practice be discontinued on stocks shipped to West Virginia.

"Most of the people seem to throw the wrapping on the floor of the stores or have the clerks take them off to begin with," Elmore explained.

Reactivation Bared Of Ohio Home Unit

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Reactivation of the state Advisory Committee of the Farmers Home Administration was announced Wednesday by A. W. Marion, state director of the administration.

Appointed to the committee, which was discontinued in 1959, were Leon M. Evans of Jackson, Samuel C. Cashman of Columbus, Leonard Manbeck of Bellevue and Roy M. Kottman, dean of the College of Agriculture at Ohio State University.

Tower Personnel Tells Of 'Flash' In Plane Mishap

RICHMOND, Va. (AP)—Control tower personnel at Richmond's Byrd Field testified Wednesday they saw a yellowish-white light flashing from the left side of an Imperial Airlines Constellation minutes before the plane crashed Nov. 8 killing 77 persons.

William F. Radler, a ground controller in the control tower, told a Civil Aeronautics Board investigating panel he saw "this unusual light on the aircraft" just before it plunged into the marshy woodland two miles shy of the field.

His testimony came as the hearing entered its second day.

Seventy-four Army recruits en route to Ft. Jackson, S.C., and three of the five crew members perished in the crash. The pilot and his flight engineer survived.

Radler's testimony about the yellowish-white lights was corroborated by another control tower worker, Burnhart M. Meyer.

He said he "observed short flashes of light from the left side of the aircraft." The lights could have been coming from engine No. 1, which the pilot said was losing power fast during the emergency approach.

Two other engines had failed earlier and the crew had trouble getting the nose wheel into place.

First Presidential Plane Due In Museum

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Sacred Cow, first of the U.S. presidential planes, next month joins the fleet of historic aircraft in the Smithsonian Institution's National Air Museum.

The plane, first to be regularly used by American presidents, carried former Presidents Franklin D. Roosevelt and Harry S. Truman to the wartime Malta and Potsdam conferences and brought Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower home in triumph at the end of World War II.

The four-engine DC4 will take its place in the museum Dec. 4.

Highlandtown Pupils Addressed By Pastor

The Rev. Joseph Varner Jr. of the Bethel Presbyterian Church spoke on "The Real Meaning of Thanksgiving" at a Thanksgiving assembly held Wednesday at Highlandtown School.

All grades participated in the program, according to Jerry Russell, principal. First graders gave a song while members of the second grade recited Ps. 23 in unison. The third and fourth grades had a choral reading and five girls of the fifth grade recited Ps. 100 Members of the seventh and eighth grades sang a hymn.

Flu, Drugs For Children And Ulcers Focus On Health

By The Associated Press

Signs of influenza in waves of death, hazardous drugs for young children, and the common complaint of the world—ulcers—are subjects for focus on health.

Wave of Death

Two Asian influenza epidemics have swept the United States in the last three years since the specific virus was first recognized, doctors say. There are indications that these waves of flu have been involved in some 86,000 deaths.

Scientists have urged that influenza shots be given to older persons, pregnant women and persons with chronic ailments since they are more often the targets for the worst effects of influenza. Death rates indicate now that the Asian flu has already claimed many of the weak and infirm.

The first epidemic came in two waves, one in 1957, the other in 1958. During the first, the United States recorded some 447,000 deaths from all causes—nearly 40,000 more than had been expected. In the second wave, total deaths were 20,000 more than expected.

In 1960, some 26,000 excess deaths were recorded.

Hazards for Children

Some drugs, safe for use in adults, can be fatal for children. So warns Dr. James M. Sutherland, University of Cincinnati pediatrician.

Death, blindness and brain damage in the newborn have been caused by some drugs even though they are considered safe for adults, Dr. Sutherland said.

In treatment, pediatrician know that "the child is not a little man," and they must also consider that "the infant is not a little child," he added.

Common Complaint

Some 10 to 15 per cent of the world's population has ulcers, says a University of Chicago doctor. Though the cause is obscure, peptic ulcer seems to be one of the common segments of ill health the world over.

Dr. Joseph B. Kirsner said the two essential factors in the formation of an ulcer seem to be the digestive action of the stomach acids and the decreased resistance of the mucous lining of the stomach and upper digestive tract.

Premier's Daughter Fined On 2 Charges

MALMESBURY, England (AP) —Sarah Heath, daughter of Prime Minister Harold Macmillan, was fined 10 pounds—$28—Wednesday on each of two offenses of using an unlicensed automobile and making a false declaration for a vehicle license.

Mrs. Heath said she signed the license application without reading it. The application said she hadn't used the car since the previous license expired.

Norway Votes Armed Forces Funds Boost

OSLO, Norway (AP)—The Storting (parliament) Wednesday voted 20 million kroner — $2.8) million — for "increased preparedness" for Norway's armed forces.

The funds are over and above normal military appropriations for next year.

Army Raises Top Age To 22 In 6 Month Training

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Army raised to 22 years Wednesday the top age limit for enlisting in the six-month training program of the Reserve and National Guard.

As has been the case since Sept. 1, however, actual training will not be started until after Jan. 3. The short-term training program has been suspended to avoid clogging training camps during the buildup of the active Army for the Berlin crisis.

Since Sept. 1, enlistments in the six-month training program have been limited to youths between 17 and 20. The increase to 22 years applies for the remainder of the year.

Starting next year, the program is expected to return to what was normal prior to the Berlin crisis buildup, with men accepted between the ages of 17 and 26. They will be called for training as rapidly as they can be absorbed.

Gets Vacation Villa

Ann Landers

ANSWERS YOUR PROBLEMS

Dear Ann Landers: I am 8 years of age. Some things worry me a lot because I can't figure out the answer. You answer people all kinds of things every day so maybe you can answer me this one.

My mother takes different kinds of pills for different things. The white pills are for her headaches. The green pills are for her nerves. The red pills are to help her blood.

How does a pill know what it is supposed to do once it gets inside a person? How come the pills don't get mixed up? I asked my father about this and he said the older I get the dumber my questions are. I think he just doesn't know the answer. Can you help me?—BILLY.

—:—

Dear Billy: A pill doesn't have a brain so it doesn't know what it is supposed to do. But lots of things happen which have nothing to do with brains and here is another example.

Water turns to ice when the air is very cold because this is a law of nature.

Pills do their work according to laws of nature, too. Doctors know what certain pills will do inside the human body because the pills have been tested in laboratories. So pills don't have to know anything, Billy — just the doctors.

Family Physician

Dear Ann: I am pregnant and must go to a physician soon. This is creating a real problem in our marriage.

My husband wants me to go to his brother-in-law who is an obstetrician because it won't cost us anything. I don't like this brother-in-law and the thought of having him as my OB makes me nauseated.

I tried to explain my feelings but my husband says I should grow up. Furthermore, he points out that if I go to another OB it may suggest that I have no confidence in J and it could hurt his practice. So what am I to do?—P.G. HEADACHE.

Dear Headache: A relaxed and comfortable relationship between you and your obstetrician is far more important than the money you can save by going to a relative.

Tell your husband you'll save on something else and insist on selecting the physician you want.

Cooks By Book

Dear Ann: I just finished the letter signed, "Old School." The mother was worried about how her daughter was going to run a home when she didn't even know how to fry an egg.

Well, tell the mother she doesn't need to worry. If her daughter is going to college she probably can read. If she can read she can cook.

The day we married my wife couldn't make a pot of coffee. She bought herself some cook books and made up her mind she'd learn. Believe it or not, inside of five months she was cooking rings around my mother, who was one of the best.

This proves that all a girl needs is normal intelligence and the desire to learn. Of course it's better if she has had some experience, but it's not essential. The best cooks tell me they learned on their own and not from their mothers. — CORNING, N.Y.

Confidentially

Ann Landers

ANSWERS YOUR PROBLEMS

Dear Ann Landers: I am 8 years of age. Some things worry me a lot because I can't figure out the answer. You answer people all kinds of things every day so maybe you can answer me this one.

My mother takes different kinds of pills for different things. The white pills are for her headaches. The green pills are for her nerves. The red pills are to help her blood.

How does a pill know what it is supposed to do once it gets inside a person? How come the pills don't get mixed up? I asked my father about this and he said the older I get the dumber my questions are. I think he just doesn't know the answer. Can you help me?—BILLY.

—:—

Dear Billy: A pill doesn't have a brain so it doesn't know what it is supposed to do. But lots of things happen which have nothing to do with brains and here is another example.

Water turns to ice when the air is very cold because this is a law of nature.

Pills do their work according to laws of nature, too. Doctors know what certain pills will do inside the human body because the pills have been tested in laboratories. So pills don't have to know anything, Billy — just the doctors.

Family Physician

Dear Ann: I am pregnant and must go to a physician soon. This is creating a real problem in our marriage.

My husband wants me to go to his brother-in-law who is an obstetrician because it won't cost us anything. I don't like this brother-in-law and the thought of having him as my OB makes me nauseated.

I tried to explain my feelings but my husband says I should grow up. Furthermore, he points out that if I go to another OB it may suggest that I have no confidence in J and it could hurt his practice. So what am I to do?—P.G. HEADACHE.

Dear Headache: A relaxed and comfortable relationship between you and your obstetrician is far more important than the money you can save by going to a relative.

Tell your husband you'll save on something else and insist on selecting the physician you want.

Cooks By Book

Dear Ann: I just finished the letter signed, "Old School." The mother was worried about how her daughter was going to run a home when she didn't even know how to fry an egg.

Well, tell the mother she doesn't need to worry. If her daughter is going to college she probably can read. If she can read she can cook.

The day we married my wife couldn't make a pot of coffee. She bought herself some cook books and made up her mind she'd learn. Believe it or not, inside of five months she was cooking rings around my mother, who was one of the best.

This proves that all a girl needs is normal intelligence and the desire to learn. Of course it's better if she has had some experience, but it's not essential. The best cooks tell me they learned on their own and not from their mothers. — CORNING, N.Y.

Blaze Claims Two Firemen

DAYTON, Ohio (AP)—Two firemen lost their lives in a $2 million fire at Wright-Patterson Air Force Base early Wednesday.

The fire, worst ever at the base, reduced a three story frame building covering nearly the area of a football field to a pile of smoldering charcoal.

The building was an annex to the considerably larger one of mason construction housing the main headquarters of the Air Force Logistics (supply) Command.

One body was recovered early Wednesday afternoon but it was not identified. The other remained in the charred debris.

The firemen killed were Dale V. Kelcher, 41, and William J. Collins, 35, both members of the base fire crew and both residents of Dayton. Kelcher became a fireman at Wright-Patterson in 1942 and Collins in 1948.

Both leave wives, Kelcher's with two children and Collins' with one son.

The fire broke out about 11 p. m. Tuesday. It was brought under control about four hours later but firemen poured water onto the smoldering remains all day.

The burnt out building was built during World War II and was considered a temporary structure.

Shortly after firemen arrived, it became apparent that they could do nothing for the annex and they concentrated on saving the main building. For a time even that seemed doubtful.

Approximately 3,500 people work in the buildings but only a few work at night. They got out without incident.

Officials said the blaze originated in the basement or first floor of the annex, from an unknown cause.

1921 Model Car Still Has Plenty Of 'Go'

ALLENHURST, N. J. (AP) — A 1921 Briggs and Stratton buckboard owned by Howard Stokes still has plenty of get-up-and-go — and what's more, it gets 90 miles to a gallon of gas.

Stokes, an assistant counselor for an insurance company says the low-slung auto has been in the family since his father bought it in 1926.

"It remained under the porch rusting away for many years," he says, "until I decided to drag it out and get it back in running condition just before World War II.

"To my surprise and just about everyone else who sees it, the buckboard's been running ever since."

Man Given Term For Gun Threats

A man identified as Ronald Davis of Highland Ave. was given a 30-day term in County Jail Wednesday after Municipal Judge Samuel M. Chertoff convicted him on a charge of threatened assault for allegedly pulling a blank cartridge revolver on another man early yesterday at Sandy's Tavern on St. Clair Ave.

The charge against Davis was filed by Albert Hampson, also of East Liverpool. Davis pleaded not guilty, but declined to testify.

Hampson testified he and Davis had an argument in the tavern and Davis pulled the revolver from the waistband of his trousers and said: "I'm not fooling; I will shoot you."

At the same time he produced a .22 caliber cartridge as though to load the weapon, Hampson said. Hampson said it was not learned until later that Davis was carrying a gun with a plugged barrel capable only of firing blanks.

DiSalle To Make Decision Dec. 5 In Woman's Case

CLEVELAND (AP) — Gov. Michael V. DiSalle is to decide Dec. 5 whether a Negro woman must stand trial in North Carolina in a kidnaping charge.

Attorneys for Mrs. Willie Mae Mallory, 34, said today they will ask the governor to refuse to extradite her.

Municipal Court Judge Hugh Corrigan was advised of the Columbus hearing Wednesday and continued until Dec. 19 proceedings in his court against Mrs. Mallory on a fugitive warrant.

Mrs. Mallory, now free on $7,500 bond, was arrested here Oct. 12 by the FBI on charges by Monroe, N. C., police that she and two other persons had kidnaped a white couple there last Aug. 27.

She has maintained the white couple were detained "for their own protection' during a disturbance involving freedom riders, local Negroes and Monroe residents.

Blaze Claims Two Firemen

DAYTON, Ohio (AP)—Two firemen lost their lives in a $2 million fire at Wright-Patterson Air Force Base early Wednesday.

The fire, worst ever at the base, reduced a three story frame building covering nearly the area of a football field to a pile of smoldering charcoal.

The building was an annex to the considerably larger one of mason construction housing the main headquarters of the Air Force Logistics (supply) Command.

One body was recovered early Wednesday afternoon but it was not identified. The other remained in the charred debris.

The firemen killed were Dale V. Kelcher, 41, and William J. Collins, 35, both members of the base fire crew and both residents of Dayton. Kelcher became a fireman at Wright-Patterson in 1942 and Collins in 1948.

Both leave wives, Kelcher's with two children and Collins' with one son.

The fire broke out about 11 p. m. Tuesday. It was brought under control about four hours later but firemen poured water onto the smoldering remains all day.

The burnt out building was built during World War II and was considered a temporary structure.

Shortly after firemen arrived, it became apparent that they could do nothing for the annex and they concentrated on saving the main building. For a time even that seemed doubtful.

Approximately 3,500 people work in the buildings but only a few work at night. They got out without incident.

Officials said the blaze originated in the basement or first floor of the annex, from an unknown cause.

FAO decided to call the meeting upon a proposal introduced by Canada at the FAO world conference now in session here.

1921 Model Car Still Has Plenty Of 'Go'

ALLENHURST, N. J. (AP) — A 1921 Briggs and Stratton buckboard owned by Howard Stokes still has plenty of get-up-and-go — and what's more, it gets 90 miles to a gallon of gas.

Stokes, an assistant counselor for an insurance company says the low-slung auto has been in the family since his father bought it in 1926.

"It remained under the porch rusting away for many years," he says, "until I decided to drag it out and get it back in running condition just before World War II.

"To my surprise and just about everyone else who sees it, the buckboard's been running ever since."

Man Given Term For Gun Threats

A man identified as Ronald Davis of Highland Ave. was given a 30-day term in County Jail Wednesday after Municipal Judge Samuel M. Chertoff convicted him on a charge of threatened assault for allegedly pulling a blank cartridge revolver on another man early yesterday at Sandy's Tavern on St. Clair Ave.

The charge against Davis was filed by Albert Hampson, also of East Liverpool. Davis pleaded not guilty, but declined to testify.

Hampson testified he and Davis had an argument in the tavern and Davis pulled the revolver from the waistband of his trousers and said: "I'm not fooling; I will shoot you."

At the same time he produced a .22 caliber cartridge as though to load the weapon, Hampson said. Hampson said it was not learned until later that Davis was carrying a gun with a plugged barrel capable only of firing blanks.

DiSalle Paints Dire Picture Of Finances

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Democratic Gov. Michael V. DiSalle Wednesday painted a dire picture of the state government's cash position and predicted broad cuts in welfare payments if something isn't done soon.

He wrote a letter to Republican State Auditor James A. Rhodes asking whether the auditor intends to take advantage of a couple of little-used state laws. The laws permit the auditor to ask the state emergency board for a cash loan of earmarked funds when general revenue cash runs out.

Rhodes said his staff is conferring with the staff of Finance Director James H. Maloon on the problem.

DiSalle said $172.1 million was available in the state treasury in all funds as of the end of October.

The welfare fund problem is one of the most pressing, DiSalle said. It takes four votes in the state controlling board to transfer funds appropriated to any given department from one quarter to another. The board is made up of the governor, auditor, attorney general and the chairmen of the legislature finance committees.

So far, the vote stands 3-1 in favor of transferring welfare funds to avoid the cuts in state payments to recipients. The only opposition has been registered by Sen. William H. Deddens, R-Hamilton, chairman of the Senate Finance Committee. Rep. Ralph Fisher, R-Wayne, has not yet voted and his vote controls the situation.

DiSalle told newsmen he intends to notify all 88 counties Friday that they will continue the present level of welfare spending only at their own risk — the chance that the state will not be able to meet all of its welfare obligations to them.

The governor said average aid to dependent children payments will drop from $37.80 to $18.01 per child per month, aid for the aged average payments would be cut from $65.71 to $61.37 a month, aid to the blind reduced $12 a month from an average of $66.25, and aid to the disabled from $62.40 to $53.86 a month.

In addition, he asserted, the state's share of poor relief payments—which normally is about 48 per cent, would be lowered to 2.3 per cent.

Director Maloon, in a letter to DiSalle, asserted actions of the Republican-led legislature which adjourned Tuesday reduced the state's anticipated income for the biennium, which ends June 30, 1963 to the point where the general fund will be out of balance between $43 million and $70 million over a two-year period.

Maloon has predicted the cash position of the state will get worse early next year before it gets better.

DiSalle said Republican legislative leaders were informed of the dangerous cash position before they started their extraordinary financial session last week, but no action was taken to alleviate it.

Murder

Nov. 4, was found a week ago yesterday.

The slender Boyd, who quit school in the eighth grade, said yesterday afternoon he thought his wife was dead when he shot her.

Why did he shoot her? "I don't know. I haven't figured it out."

Why did he have the double-barrelled 12-guage shotgun in the car — did he do any hunting?

Officers Get Praise For Murder Solution

Mayor Bert H. Goodballet and Safety - Service Director Robert Owen issued a statement Wednesday afternoon congratulating the law enforcement agencies that worked together to solve the slaying of Nancy Lee Boyd.

"We wish to commend Sheriff Russell J. VanFossan and his department, Chief Americo J. Radeschi and his department, the St. Clair Township constables and all others who had a part in the investigation," they said.

He said he did some hunting, but just had the weapon in the auto for no particular reason.

"How do you feel now?"

"Lousy, I guess," he replied, looking at the flat top of the table. "Do you regret it?" "Yes, I regret it. I guess I'll spend the rest of my life in prison."

"Did you still love your wife." "No," he said. "Did you throw the jack handle in a fit of anger?" "I was mad when I threw it at her — I don't remember much about after — but I remember shooting her," he said.

Boyd said he knew that while undergoing the lie detector test — which he voluntarily agreed to take — the two men from the Bureau of Criminal Identification and Investigation were "getting close to the facts."

Boyd said he could not see the operation of the machine by Max Bennett and Alvin Kimball from the bureau, but felt they were finding out something. The two state men administered the tests to Boyd and two other suspects.

Sheriff VanFossan, who said the polygraph test provided key leads to the case, began questioning Boyd late Tuesday afternoon.

Taking part in the questioning, which was conducted at various periods during that evening, were Prosecutor G. William Brokaw, Kimball, Bennett and Deputy Sheriff James Gause.

What line of questioning brought forth the confession? The sheriff stated he couldn't say for sure.

Boyd, when asked yesterday, mentioned his brother had been brought in for questioning and checking on his story Tuesday, and for the first time during the interview, he appeared reluctant to talk.

Apparently he felt he didn't want his 17-year-old brother, Frank, who resides with him and his father, involved in the case in any way.

Boyd, who had been a wareboy and laborer at the Hall China Co. and had worked at other jobs in the area, said his treatment at the jail had been good. He called the sheriff and his deputies "pretty good guys."

Dressed in a light tan sweater over a sports shirt and blue jeans, Boyd was brought from Lisbon by the sheriff in a cruiser driver by Deputy Gause.

As he walked into the City Hall, he stared straight into the lights and cameras of television cameras, and walked stolidly up the stairs and into the courtroom. He was not handcuffed.

He sat straight - backed and alone at the table while waiting for the hearing to begin as the room filled with officials in the case and the curious.

Judge Chertoff, after warning that no pictures were to be taken inside the courtroom, read the charge to Boyd as he stood nervously rubbing his fingers.

After Boyd said he understood the charge, accusing him of a deliberate, premeditated and malicious slaying, Judge Chertoff asked him if he wanted the assistance of a lawyer, saying the hearing would then be continued.

Boyd said he would waive counsel. Then Chertoff outlined the choices of plea he could make, and after Brokaw spoke briefly to the defendant, Boyd said he would plea not guilty, waiving the hearing to be bound over to the January Grand Jury.

Under a first degree murder charge, no bond is permitted the judge explained.

While the written plea was being prepared, Boyd sat at the table, obviously hungry for a cigarette, but Judge Chertoff had reminded those in the room smoking was not allowed.

VanFossan said yesterday Mrs. Boyd's glasses and lipstick, which Boyd had thrown away near his home, were located.

Boyd told questioners Tuesday night he found his wife's purse in the car when he returned home after the killing. He burned the purse and billfold, along with his bloodied clothes, and threw her glasses and the lipstick away.

When the hearing concluded, Boyd was escorted down stairs and into the waiting cruiser where he immediately lit a cigarette as the car drove away.

Police Chief Americo Radeschi, looking at the departing auto, echoed the words of Deputy Gause just prior to the hearing — "Now I'm going to get some sleep."

closed Wednesday afternoon and unable to make bond to regain their freedom pending the next police court session Friday morning.

"With all the blessings we enjoy in this great nation, I feel that no one should go without a traditional Thanksgiving meal," the judge said. "The fact an unfortunate few are behind bars should not prevent them from joining in this uniquely Amercian holiday."

By early Wednesday night, two men had qualified for the "drumstick sweepstakes" by landing behind bars. An East End man was jailed in mid - afternoon for driving while under the influence of alcohol and a chronic "repeater" was arrested at 7:15 on Broadway on an intoxication charge.

Talks

was with their advisers, including the foreign and defense ministers of both countries.

The two leaders now face the difficult task of persuading French President Charles de Gaulle to give up his rigid position of "no talks with Moscow," a view which still prevents the setting up of a unified Western position.

Too much fanfare over a U.S.-German agreement would not make this task easier, informants said. They added that neither Kennedy nor Adenauer doubt that Britain will accept a formula based on the principle of negotiations.

Kennedy, who earlier had declined to comment on his meetings with Adenauer, remarked Wednesday that the talks were "very good" and that "a good deal" of progress has been made.

While the joint communique revealed but little, Franz-Josef Strauss, Germany's defense minister who became a semiofficial spokesman for the two delegations, said the talks went "better than anticipated."

Strauss said full agreement was reached on "principles, aims, issues and how to go on."

There was no immediate comment from American specialists, but some of them cautioned that Strauss' optimistic utterances should be taken with reservations.

The talks, and especially the private conferences between the two leaders unquestionably achieved one thing, these informants said. They dispelled the uneasy, sometimes chilly atmosphere of slight suspicion and annoyance which has prevailed between Bonn and Washington in recent months.

One positive result was reported by Gerhard Schroeder, Adenauer's foreign minister, who addressed a National Press Club luncheon after the final White House conference.

The United States, Schroeder said, accepted Adenauer's views that the three Western powers should not weaken their position in Berlin by negotiating a new legal status on their presence in the city with the Soviet Union.

The German argument, which Schroeder said Kennedy has accepted, is that the United States, Britain and France should insist on the right of conquest.

"After our discussions here in Washington I think I can say that the United States government shares this view," Schroeder said.

The bee has three small eyes on the crown of its head, and a great compound eye on each side.

DiSalle Paints Dire Picture Of Finances

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Democratic Gov. Michael V. DiSalle Wednesday painted a dire picture of the state government's cash position and predicted broad cuts in welfare payments if something isn't done soon.

He wrote a letter to Republican State Auditor James A. Rhodes asking whether the auditor intends to take advantage of a couple of little-used state laws. The laws permit the auditor to ask the state emergency board for a cash loan of earmarked funds when general revenue cash runs out.

Rhodes said his staff is conferring with the staff of Finance Director James H. Maloon on the problem.

DiSalle said $172.1 million was available in the state treasury in all funds as of the end of October.

The welfare fund problem is one of the most pressing, DiSalle said. It takes four votes in the state controlling board to transfer funds appropriated to any given department from one quarter to another. The board is made up of the governor, auditor, attorney general and the chairmen of the legislature finance committees.

So far, the vote stands 3-1 in favor of transferring welfare funds to avoid the cuts in state payments to recipients. The only opposition has been registered by Sen. William H. Deddens, R-Hamilton, chairman of the Senate Finance Committee. Rep. Ralph Fisher, R-Wayne, has not yet voted and his vote controls the situation.

DiSalle told newsmen he intends to notify all 88 counties Friday that they will continue the present level of welfare spending only at their own risk — the chance that the state will not be able to meet all of its welfare obligations to them.

The governor said average aid to dependent children payments will drop from $30.80 to $18.01 per child per month, aid for the aged average payments would be cut from $65.71 to $61.37 a month, aid to the blind reduced $12 a month from an average of $66.25, and aid to the disabled from $62.40 to $53.86 a month.

In addition, he asserted, the state's share of poor relief payments—which normally is about 48 per cent, would be lowered to 2.3 per cent.

Director Maloon, in a letter to DiSalle, asserted actions of the Republican-led legislature which adjourned Tuesday reduced the state's anticipated income for the biennium, which ends June 30, 1963 to the point where the general fund will be out of balance between $43 million and $70 million over a two-year period.

Maloon has predicted the cash position of the state will get worse early next year before it gets better.

DiSalle said Republican legislative leaders were informed of the dangerous cash position before they started their extraordinary financial session last week, but no action was taken to alleviate it.

Murder

Nov. 4, was found a week ago yesterday.

The slender Boyd, who quit school in the eighth grade, said yesterday afternoon he thought his wife was dead when he shot her.

Why did he shoot her? "I don't know. I haven't figured it out."

Why did he have the double-barrelled 12-guage shotgun in the car — did he do any hunting?

Officers Get Praise For Murder Solution

Mayor Bert H. Goodballet and Safety - Service Director Robert Owen issued a statement Wednesday afternoon congratulating the law enforcement agencies that worked together to solve the slaying of Nancy Lee Boyd.

"We wish to commend Sheriff Russell J. VanFossan and his department, Chief Americo J. Radeschi and his department, the St. Clair Township constables and all others who had a part in the investigation," they said.

He said he did some hunting, but just had the weapon in the auto for no particular reason.

"How do you feel now?"

"Lousy, I guess," he replied, looking at the flat top of the table. "Do you regret it?" "Yes, I regret it. I guess I'll spend the rest of my life in prison."

"Did you still love your wife."

"No," he said. "Did you throw the jack handle in a fit of anger?" "I was mad when I threw it at her — I don't remember much about after — but I remember shooting her," he said.

Boyd said he knew that while undergoing the lie detector test — which he voluntarily agreed to take — the two men from the Bureau of Criminal Identification and Investigation were "getting close to the facts."

Boyd said he could not see the operation of the machine by Max Bennett and Alvin Kimball from the bureau, but felt they were finding out something. The two state men administered the tests to Boyd and two other suspects.

Sheriff VanFossan, who said the polygraph test provided key leads to the case, began questioning Boyd late Tuesday afternoon.

Taking part in the questioning, which was conducted at various periods during that evening, were Prosecutor G. William Brokaw, Kimball, Bennett and Deputy Sheriff James Gause.

What line of questioning brought forth the confession? The sheriff stated he couldn't say for sure.

Boyd, when asked yesterday, mentioned his brother had been brought in for questioning and checking on his story Tuesday, and for the first time during the interview, he appeared reluctant to talk.

Apparently he felt he didn't want his 17-year-old brother, Frank, who resides with him and his father, involved in the case in any way.

Boyd, who had been a wareboy and laborer at the Hall China Co. and had worked at other jobs in the area, said his treatment at the jail had been good. He called the sheriff and his deputies "pretty good guys."

Dressed in a light tan sweater over a sports shirt and blue jeans, Boyd was brought from Lisbon by the sheriff in a cruiser driver by Deputy Gause.

As he walked into the City Hall, he stared straight into the lights and cameras of television cameras, and walked stolidly up the stairs and into the courtroom. He was not handcuffed.

He sat straight - backed and alone at the table while waiting for the hearing to begin as the room filled with officials in the case and the curious.

Judge Chertoff, after warning that no pictures were to be taken inside the courtroom, read the charge to Boyd as he stood nervously rubbing his fingers.

After Boyd said he understood the charge, accusing him of a deliberate, premeditated and malicious slaying, Judge Chertoff asked him if he wanted the assistance of a lawyer, saying the hearing would then be continued.

Boyd said he would waive counsel. Then Chertoff outlined the choices of plea he could make, and after Brokaw spoke briefly to the defendant, Boyd said he would plea not guilty, waiving the hearing to be bound over to the January Grand Jury.

Under a first degree murder charge, no bond is permitted the judge explained.

While the written plea was being prepared, Boyd sat at the table, obviously hungry for a cigarette, but Judge Chertoff had reminded those in the room smoking was not allowed.

VanFossan said yesterday Mrs. Boyd's glasses and lipstick, which Boyd had thrown away near his home, were located.

Boyd told questioners Tuesday night he found his wife's purse in the car when he returned home after the killing. He burned the purse and billfold, along with his bloodied clothes, and threw her glasses and the lipstick away.

When the hearing concluded, Boyd was escorted down stairs and into the waiting cruiser where he immediately lit a cigarette as the car drove away.

Police Chief Americo Radeschi, looking at the departing auto, echoed the words of Deputy Gause just prior to the hearing — "Now I'm going to get some sleep."

reported no collisions of any consequence early last night.

The Carnegie Barracks reported traffic was "very heavy," particularly on Routes 22 and 30. A major portion of the traffic on the main highway resulted from travel to and from Greater Pittsburgh Airport.

However, the Rochester Barracks said traffic in its area was comparatively light for a holiday eve.

Take the appropriation for Ohio U. as an example. The Athens school got $14,000 to finish a space arts building, another $2,000 to finish remodeling a gymnasium into classrooms, $100,000 to equip a classroom building and the space arts building and $39,000 to run utility lines into the latter building.

second attempt was in 1954 against incumbent Gov. Frank J. Lausche, now Democratic U. S. Senator.

Rhodes won his first four-year term as state auditor in 1953 and was reelected to another four-year term. He now is completing a two-year term provided by constitutional amendment so that all state administrative offices will be filled simultaneously every four years. He won his third term as auditor by a margin of nearly 700,000 votes, largest for a state administrative post.

Judge

closed Wednesday afternoon and unable to make bond to regain their freedom pending the next police court session Friday morning.

"With all the blessings we enjoy in this great nation, I feel that no one should go without a traditional Thanksgiving meal," the judge said. "The fact an unfortunate few are behind bars should not prevent them from joining in this uniquely Amercian holiday."

By early Wednesday night, two men had qualified for the "drumstick sweepstakes" by landing behind bars. An East End man was jailed in mid - afternoon for driving while under the influence of alcohol and a chronic "repeater" was arrested at 7:15 on Broadway on an intoxication charge.

Talks

was with their advisers, including the foreign and defense ministers of both countries.

The two leaders now face the difficult task of persuading French President Charles de Gaulle to give up his rigid position of "no talks with Moscow," a view which still prevents the setting up of a unified Western position.

Too much fanfare over a U.S.-German agreement would not make this task easier, informants said. They added that neither Kennedy nor Adenauer doubt that Britain will accept a formula based on the principle of negotiations.

Kennedy, who earlier had declined to comment on his meetings with Adenauer, remarked Wednesday that the talks were "very good" and that "a good deal" of progress has been made.

While the joint communique revealed but little, Franz-Josef Strauss, Germany's defense minister who became a semiofficial spokesman for the two delegations, said the talks went "better than anticipated."

Strauss said full agreement was reached on "principles, aims, issues and how to go on."

There was no immediate comment from American specialists, but some of them cautioned that Strauss' optimistic utterances should be taken with reservations.

The talks, and especially the private conferences between the two leaders unquestionably achieved one thing, these informants said. They dispelled the uneasy, sometimes chilly atmosphere of slight suspicion and annoyance which has prevailed between Bonn and Washington in recent months.

One positive result was reported by Gerhard Schroeder, Adenauer's foreign minister, who addressed a National Press Club luncheon after the final White House conference.

The United States, Schroeder said, accepted Adenauer's views that the three Western powers should not weaken their position in Berlin by negotiating a new legal status on their presence in the city with the Soviet Union.

The German argument, which Schroeder said Kennedy has accepted, is that the United States, Britain and France should insist on the right of conquest.

"After our discussions here in Washington I think I can say that the United States government shares this view," Schroeder said.

The bee has three small eyes on the crown of its head, and a great compound eye on each side.

Affiliation Is PTA Topic

Advantages and disadvantages of affiliation with the national Parent - Teacher Association were discussed at a meeting of the Chester Central PTA Tuesday night.

The group voted to remain affiliated with the national organization after discussions by Mrs. Anthony DiBart, president of the Hancock County PTA Council, and Mrs. Matthew Javersak, both of Weirton, speaking in favor of affiliation and Mrs. Lloyd Mansfield, president of the Washington Home and School Association, and Mrs. Richard Barnhart, both of Chester, speaking for disassociation.

Thayer Allison, principal, reported on National Education Week.

Mrs. Donald Glass was appointed to attend the next meeting of City Council Dec. 6 to determine if a guard or police officer can be stationed at Carolina Ave. and 3rd St. to assist children across the streets.

The group is selling Christmas candles to raise money for projects. The attendance banner was won by the first grade taught by Mrs. Grace Shaffer.

Refreshments were served 30 by the first grade mothers. Mrs. John Abrams, president, was in charge. Next meeting is Dec. 19 with a Christmas program.

$333 Expense Listed By GOP In Wellsville

The Wellsville Republican Club spent $333.71 in the Nov. 7 election campaign, it was shown in a sworn statement of expenditures on file with the County Election Board.

The report was filed by Charles Stewart, treasurer of the club. It is one of a series received by the board since the election as committees and candidates comply with the "corrupt practices act," which requires an accounting of expenses.

Expenses of $78 were reported by the Salem Citizens Committee for the Police and Firemen's Initiative Ordinance. It was filed by Martin R. Catlos, chairman. The committee supported a measure designed to boost the pay of safety department members and grant better working conditions.

William R. Stroble, Democratic candidate for Wellsville Fourth Ward councilman, said his expenses totaled $7.45. Dec. 22 is the deadline for the reports.

Farmer Slain After Battle With Officers

BRANSON, Mo. (AP) — An embattled Ozark farmer who earlier stood off 10 policemen was killed Wednesday in a fusillade of gunfire as the police, reinforced with two armored vehicles, closed in on his mountain cottage.

The bullet-riddled body of Bill Jenkins, 38, was found inside his hillside home after police fired more than 100 shots into the cabin.

Armed with a shotgun, Jenkins wounded two officers when the posse tried to roust him Tuesday night, and police withdrew for the night.

At 8 a. m. yesterday, some 30 state police and deputy sheriffs lobbed tear gas shells into the four-room cottage before moving in. Jenkins appeared at a window briefly, apparently for air, then vanished.

Jenkins became angry with authorities Tuesday, accusing them of being too slow about stringing a power line to his farm home.

He was charged with abducting the manager of the White River Valley Electric Cooperative from his home in Branson and forcing him at gunpoint to chop down a tree on the right-of-way of the line. A charge of assault with intent to kill had been filed against Jenkins.

"He was as mad as a person could be," said Norwood Speight, 51, manager of the co-op. "He never really threatened me in so many words and I really felt sorry for him because he seemed to be a man who just had more trouble than he could bear."

County Faculty Supports Blair For Post On OEA

Paul Blair, assistant superintendent of East Liverpool schools, was endorsed as a candidate for the executive committee of the Ohio Education Association by the Columbiana County Education Association at a meeting Tuesday night at the Lepper Library at Lisbon.

The association, representing 225 county instructors, went on record as favoring Blair for the post on the administrative level and also ordered its delegates to the state convention to support him.

The OEA convention will be held Nov. 30-Dec. 2 at Columbus. The delegates, Hubert Lawrence, county school psychologist, and Lewis Lee, a Beaver Local instructor, were directed to have the association's action read into the records of the state meeting.

The delegates also were instructed how to vote on various state proposals and other officers.

John J. Gruszecki Jr., president, presided. A salary committee was named to study future conditions in the county. County Supt. James L. McBride will serve as chairman, assisted by one or more members of the County Board of Education and one or more teachers from each of the local districts in the county.

Massillon Mayor Learns He Won, Two Weeks Late

MASSILLON (AP)—Raymond F. Ryan has learned, two weeks late, that he is mayor-elect of this city of 30,000.

Ryan, 53, a Democrat and a store owner who never ran for public office before, suffered a heart attack Oct. 23. He has been at Massillon City Hospital since then, much of the time under oxygen. He is still on the danger list, and his doctor, Max Haas, delayed discussing the Nov. 7 election, for fear it would excite Ryan.

When he got the news from Dr. Haas Tuesday, Ryan smiled and tears came into his eyes. Then the mayor-elect and his wife, Dorothy, joined in a statement of thanks to the voters who elected him.

AKRON, Ohio (AP)—James J. Doran, 41, of Cuyahoga Falls, was crushed to death Wednesday when pinned between a truck on which he had been working and a garage door.

Doran, a mechanic at Dixie, Ohio Express, Inc., was working on a connection between a truck and its trailer. Air pressure was released and the truck started to roll, carrying Doran with it.

Accidental Firing Shuts Gunnery Range

TOKYO (AP) — The accidental firing of 16 practice cannon shells into a village 60 miles north of Tokyo resulted in the temporary suspension of operations at a nearby U.S. Air Force gunnery range.

Lt. Gen. Jacob E. Smart, commander of U.S. forces in Japan, closed the range pending an investigation into the firing mishap after Gov. Jiro Iwakami of Ibaraki Prefecture visited him and asked that the range be relocated.

The Air Force announced earlier that a "one-in-a-million" failure of electrical safety equipment caused firing of the 16 non-explosive shells Monday. The shells hit four buildings in Nakaminato village but no one was hurt.

Red China To Build 24 Factories In Cuba

HAVANA (AP)—A plan for Red China to build 24 factories in Cuba in the next four years was announced Wednesday.

The announcement followed a meeting of some 50 Chinese government officials and experts with the Cuban industry minister, Ernesto Guevara. The factories will be paid for with part of a $60-million loan granted by Red China to Cuba during Guevara's visit to Peiping last year.

We give thanks that we are Pharmacists — thankful that in our particular way we may have contributed to the health and happiness of people.

Storms Hurl Destruction In West Area

By The Associated Press

Storms hurled destructive winds, snow, rain and dust at areas in the West and Southwest Wednesday.

Tornadoes slammed into widely separated sections of Texas, killing a woman and injuring other persons in communities north and east of Nacogdoches in the eastern part of the state.

A twister knocked over two oil derricks and damaged several homes and small business establishments in Kilgore, Tex. Five homes in Oak Flat, 14 miles northeast of Nacogdoches, were destroyed. A small funnel cloud smashed a garage and damaged several homes on the southwestern edge of San Antonio.

The north-central section of Washington State was burdened by the heaviest 24-hour snowfall there in modern times. Schools were closed in Wenatchee, where up to 18 inches of snow fell Tuesday and Tuesday night. Leavenworth, at the eastern foot of the Cascades was swamped by 23 inches of snow.

Stevens Pass Highway in Washington was blocked by snow and slides.

Gale winds kicked up blinding clouds of dust in southeastern Washington.

Dust storms closed a 21-mile section of U.S. Highway 30 west of Pendleton, Ore. Two inches of rain doused Oregon's coast while two feet of snow piled up the Cascade Mountains.

Drifting snow and ground blizzards closed U.S. 30 between Cheyenne and Laramie, Wyo., and U.S. 287 between Laramie and Fort Collins, Colo., but both highways were reopened later. The Wyoming Highway Patrol warned that blowing snow had reduced visibility to almost zero in some places in the southeastern part of the state.

Sharp cold hit Utah and Idaho. Cedar City, Utah, had a low of zero. The temperature fell to two below in Craig, Colo.

Snow fell in areas in Minnesota, Wisconsin and Upper Michigan. The fall measures 7 inches in Wausau, Wis., and 4 inches in Park Falls, Wis.

Gusty winds accompanied thunderstorms in Arkansas and Louisiana.

The Weather Bureau forecast damp and dismal conditions Thanksgiving Day in many areas of the nation. Rain was in prospect in parts of the East, Midwest, South and Far West. Snow was expected in the northern Rockies and parts of the Midwest.

Captain Of Death Ship Told Conflicting Stories

MIAMI, Fla. (AP)—Julian Harvey, captain of the death ship Bluebelle, showed no remorse when he told a rescuing tanker crew of the sinking which took five lives, it was reported Wednesday.

It also was disclosed that Harvey told one story when he was picked up by the tanker and another to the Coast Guard here when an investigation began into the sinking of the Bluebelle.

Coast Guard inspectors were digging further into Harvey's background, hoping for clues as to why he may have sent the Bluebelle down—if he did so — as indicated by the sole survivor, Terry Jo Duperrault, 11.

Terry Jo remained hospitalized but was throwing off the effects of 84 hours in a tiny raft.

Harvey committed suicide in Miami after learning Terry Jo had been found alive.

Those who went down on the ketch in deep Bahamian waters Nov. 12 were Terry Jo's parents, Dr. and Mrs. Arthur Duperrault of Green Bay, Wis., her brother, Brian, 14, and Harvey's wife, Mary, 34.

In Philadelphia, Capt. Oscar Verkouille of the tanker Gulflion said Harvey showed no grief when he told of the sinking. But when Harvey told of losing his wife in the disaster, he seemed remorseful, Verkouille said.

Coast Guard investigators questioned the crew Tuesday night.

After Harvey was sighted in a dinghy Nov. 13, the tanker drew alongside and Harvey shouted, "I have a dead baby on this dinghy." It was Renee, 7-year-old sister of Terry Jo.

The tanker lowered a basket and brought Renee's body aboard.

"Harvey came up the ladder," the captain said. "He seemed somewhat dazed. I asked him what came about.

'He said he was the master of' the Bluebelle that had been demasted shortly before midnight . . . killing several persons. He gave the names. He wrote them down, but couldn't remember the dead child's name. He remembered it an hour later.

"Harvey didn't seem overly excited, and acted like he was absent-minded. We attributed it to his condition after the accident. He didn't show any outward grief. He said, 'It will get me in a little while.' We gave him a cigarette and the steward fed him.

"Later," Verkouille said, "he told me he had lost his wife, and he seemed remorseful.

When Harvey was questioned by the Coast Guard in Miami, the day before he killed himself, he said two of those aboard may have been injured by the falling mast but he did not mention anyone being killed.

Terry Jo, in her statement to the Coast Guard, said the ship was not demasted and indicated that Harvey scuttled it.

Clarence Mikeals, 52, of Hookstown R.D. 2 was in "fair" condition yesterday with a possible fracture of the collarbone suffered on a tractor at his farm.

Donald Smith, 23, of Salineville R.D. 2, employe of the Salineville Lumber Co., was treated for a smashed right thumb on which a 50-pound wheel fell while he was at work.

Janet Koenig, 20-month-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Koenig, 407 Palissey St., received a bruise and sprain of the left arm and shoulder in a fall from a rocking chair.

Blaine Smith, 2, son of Mr. and Mrs. Blaine Smith of the Washington School Rd., Chester, was treated for scalds of the right foot after he stepped into a bucket of hot scrub water.

Timothy Watson, 3, son of Mr. and Mrs. Sam Watson of 7th Ave., LaCroft, suffered an injury of the left thumb when a car door closed.

Robber, 28, Put On Most Wanted List

WASHINGTON (AP)—Franklin Eugene Alltop, a shotgun-toting robber who has been in jail or on the run almost continuously since 1952, was added Wednesday to the FBI's list of "ten most wanted fugitives."

His first jail term was in Canton, Ohio.

Alltop, 28, has been sought since Feb. 19, 1960, when a federal warrant was issued at Huntington, W. Va., charging him with unlawful interstate flight to avoid prosecution for armed robbery.

He had escaped from the Wayne County, W. Va., jail a short time earlier. A native of Given, W. Va., he is 6 feet or 6 feet, 1 inch tall, weighs 170-180 pounds, and has brown hair, blue eyes, and a fair complexion. His identification marks include a scar and mole on the left temple, scars on the chin and right temple; a mole on the right cheek, and tattoos—"Norma" on the upper left arm and "Stub" on the upper right arm.

Alltop had been confined to the Wayne County jail to await trial for a 1954 shotgun robbery of a gas station near Kenova, W. Va. He had been paroled in 1959 after serving part of a one to 25 years sentence for a 1954 shotgun robbery in Ohio.

Alltop's conviction record dates back to April 1952, when he was sentenced to one to 15 years for a break-in and robbery at Canton, Ohio.

Robber, 28, Put On Most Wanted List

WASHINGTON (AP)—Franklin Eugene Alltop, a shotgun-toting robber who has been in jail or on the run almost continuously since 1952, was added Wednesday to the FBI's list of "ten most wanted fugitives."

His first jail term was in Canton, Ohio.

Alltop, 28, has been sought since Feb. 19, 1960, when a federal warrant was issued at Huntington, W. Va., charging him with unlawful interstate flight to avoid prosecution for armed robbery.

He had escaped from the Wayne County, W. Va., jail a short time earlier. A native of Given, W. Va., he is 6 feet or 6 feet, 1 inch tall, weighs 170-180 pounds, and has brown hair, blue eyes, and a fair complexion. His identification marks include a scar and mole on the left temple, scars on the chin and right temple; a mole on the right cheek, and tattoos—"Norma" on the upper left arm and "Stub" on the upper right arm.

Alltop had been confined to the Wayne County jail to await trial for a 1954 shotgun robbery of a gas station near Kenova, W. Va. He had been paroled in 1959 after serving part of a one to 25 years sentence for a 1954 shotgun robbery in Ohio.

Alltop's conviction record dates back to April 1952, when he was sentenced to one to 15 years for a break-in and robbery at Canton, Ohio.

Instead of Beaver Falls being in the playoff, Wilkinsburg and Monesson will battle for the title Friday.

The six teams entered include Bloor's Pharmacy, George Bright's, Wellsville Merchants, Central Service, Alex's - American and Midland USW.

The Midland squad looms strong this season with such standouts as Big Jim Smith, the former Steubenville College star, along with Herb Lake, who was an outstanding performer at Youngstown University.

Michigan Short On Players For Finale

Iowa Game Was Costly For Elliot

By RICHARD PYLE

ANN ARBOR, Mich. (AP)—The last hurdle of the 1961 season—the toughest schedule in Michigan history—comes none too soon for coach Bump Elliott, who finds himself running dangerously low on football players.

Last week's 23-14 comeback victory over once-mighty Iowa gave Michigan a 6-2 record, assuring it of the best season since 1956, regardless of what happens against second-ranked Ohio State.

But it took a heavy toll in players, costing the Wolverines the services of at least two and quite possibly four key performers.

Center - linebacker Todd Grant and reserve halfback Jack Strobel underwent surgery on injured knees and are definitely out. End Scott Maentz is favoring a sore ankle and star halfback Bennie McRae has a severe shoulder bruise that casts powerful doubt on his availability against the Buckeyes.

"We're in real trouble, I'm afraid," commented Elliott after looking over a list of the infirm, which also includes tackle Jon Schopf, a 230-pound pre - season candidate for All-America.

The most serious loss would without question be McRae, who has led the team in rushing and pass receiving and is a prime candidate for All-Big Ten honors.

Elliott is conditioned this year to making adjustments to compensate for injuries which, in addition to the above named, have cost him seven guards, fullback Bill Tunnicliff and linebacker Ken Turcaud for all or part of the season.

"I don't know what we'd have done without McRae this year," said an Elliott aide. "He not only has been our best runner but has developed into one of the best defensive players on the squad, in spite of his size."

The 172-pound McRae, the Big Ten high and low hurdles champion, has gained 453 yards and caught 10 passes for 210 yards. Teaming with Dave Raimey, of Dayton, he has helped give Michigan the most potent one-two halfback punch in the Big Ten.

Raimey, a 192 - pound junior, gained 102 yards in 22 carries against Iowa, passing McRae in total yardage (457 to 453) for the season.

Despite injuries and the rigors of the schedule, Michigan has been improving by the week since the shattering 28-0 loss to arch-rival Michigan State.

Averaging 24 points per game, the Wolverines have defeated Purdue (16-14), and Illinois (38-6) in addition to Iowa and dropped a close 23-20 decision to Minnesota in conference play.

In non-conference games, which Elliott—unlike Woody Hayes—does not consider to be "exhibitions," the Wolverines have trounced UCLA (29-6), Army (38-8) and Duke (28-14).

"It's been a tough year, all right," said Elliott. "And I have a feeling this week's game may be the toughest one of all. We've gotten better but so has Ohio since that opening 7-7 tie with TCU."

Michigan coaches are gearing their defense to stop not only the bone - crushing rushes of Ohio's great fullback, Bob Ferguson, but the halfbacks and the passing attack as well.

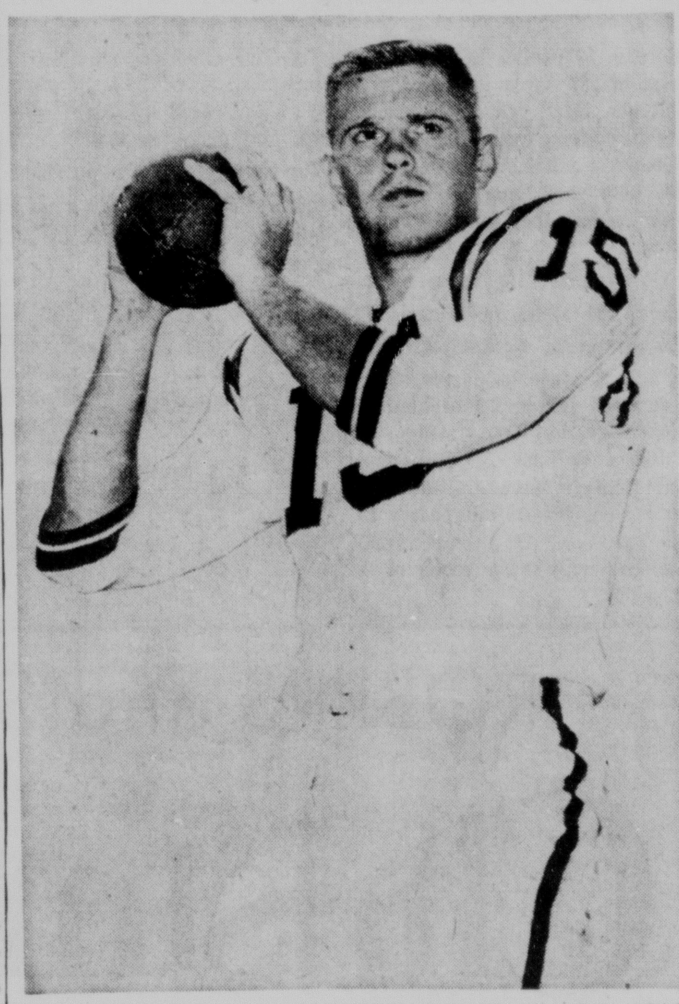
Potts In Mercy Bowl



East Liverpool's Jim Potts will be calling the signals today in the Los Angeles Coliseum and at the same time be playing his final game for Bowling Green University.

The Falcons oppose Fresno State in the Mercy Bowl. The game is being played in the interest of the California Poly 1960 Football Tragedy Fund. More than $200,000 is being sought to take care of expenses to which Cal Poly players and their families have been subjected as the result of the plane crash at Toledo last Oct. 29.

Potts is completing his senior year at Bowling Green, where he has been a regular for the past two seasons and this year helped his squad to the Mid-American Conference championship.

No Rematch With Irish Though

Syracuse To Be Host Team For Liberty Bowl Contest

By RALPH BERNSTEIN
Associated Press Sports Writer

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — The Liberty Bowl grabbed Syracuse as the host team Wednesday, but apparently failed in an effort to make its third annual football attraction a replay of the controversial Syracuse-Notre Dame game.

Ambrose (Bud) Dudley, head of the Liberty Bowl Association, invited the Fighting Irish to come here for the Dec. 16 game, but was turned down because of Notre Dame's policy against post-season games.

Not even the lure of a near capacity crowd in the 100,000-seat Philadelphia Stadium—scene of the Army-Navy game could bring Notre Dame here to settle the biggest football controversy in many years.

In case you've been away fishing, Notre Dame defeated Syracuse Saturday 17-15 on a field goal kicked after time ran out. A penalty against Syracuse on the last play of the game gave Notre Dame a second shot at a field goal missed as the gun went off. On second try the Irish made it.

The argument raging since Monday is whether Notre Dame was entitled to the extra play. The Big Ten and Eastern Collegiate Athletic Conferences say the officials erred and Syracuse should have won 15-14. But Notre Dame refuses to concede the game.

With Notre Dame out, Dudley said Syracuse's bowl opponent would come from among Duke, Rice, TCU, Louisiana State, Miami (Fla.), Colorado, Utah State, Missouri, Kansas and the winner of the Army-Navy game.

Coached by Ben Schwartzwalder, Syracuse rates second, a fraction behind Penn State, in the latest poll for the Lambert trophy, emblematic of Eastern college football supremacy. The Orange have won 6 and lost 3 this season with Boston College to play Saturday.

At Syracuse, a spokesman said the players voted Tuesday for the Liberty Bowl in preference to the Gotham Bowl in New York City. Balloting was reported closed.

Elliott is conditioned this year to making adjustments to compensate for injuries which, in addition to the above named, have cost him seven guards, fullback Bill Tunnicliff and linebacker Ken Turcaud for all or part of the season.

"I don't know what we'd have done without McRae this year," said an Elliott aide. "He not only has been our best runner but has developed into one of the best defensive players on the squad, in spite of his size."

The 172-pound McRae, the Big Ten high and low hurdles champion, has gained 453 yards and caught 10 passes for 210 yards. Teaming with Dave Raimey, of Dayton, he has helped give Michigan the most potent one-two halfback punch in the Big Ten.

Raimey, a 192 - pound junior, gained 102 yards in 22 carries against Iowa, passing McRae in total yardage (457 to 453) for the season.

Despite injuries and the rigors of the schedule, Michigan has been improving by the week since the shattering 28-0 loss to arch-rival Michigan State.

Averaging 24 points per game, the Wolverines have defeated Purdue (16-14), and Illinois (38-6) in addition to Iowa and dropped a close 23-20 decision to Minnesota in conference play.

In non-conference games, which Elliott—unlike Woody Hayes—does not consider to be "exhibitions," the Wolverines have trounced UCLA (29-6), Army (38-8) and Duke (28-14).

"It's been a tough year, all right," said Elliott. "And I have a feeling this week's game may be the toughest one of all. We've gotten better but so has Ohio since that opening 7-7 tie with TCU."

Michigan coaches are gearing their defense to stop not only the bone - crushing rushes of Ohio's great fullback, Bob Ferguson, but the halfbacks and the passing attack as well.

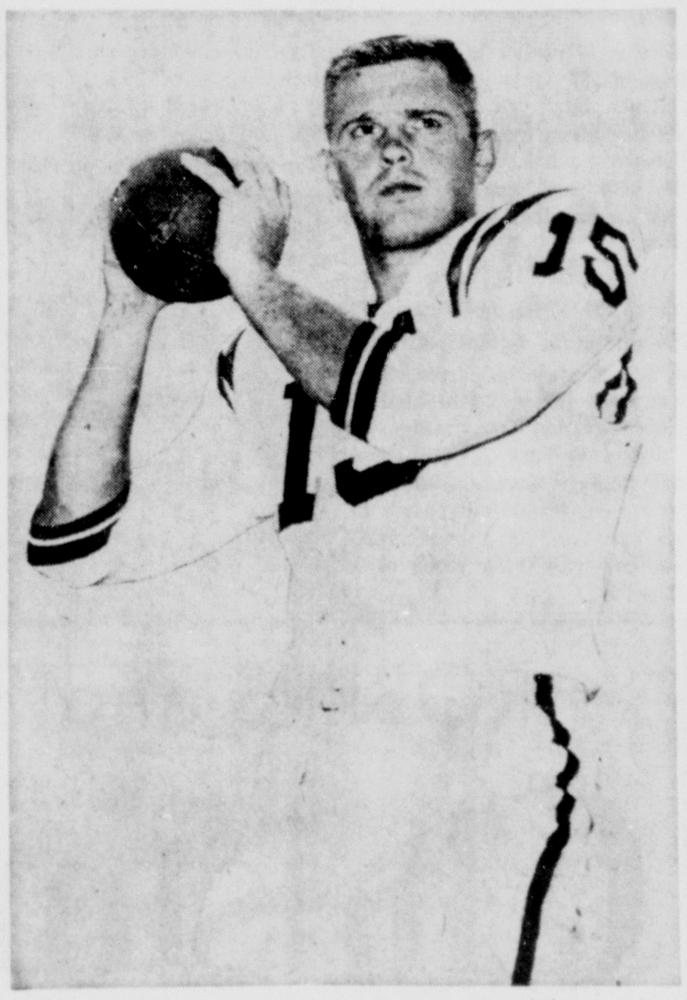
In the tabulation announced Wednesday, Ford received 287 votes and Sonny Jurgensen, Philadelphia Eagle quarterback, had 78 in second place. Ford also was the winner of the June award.

Potts In Mercy Bowl



East Liverpool's Jim Potts will be calling the signals today in the Los Angeles Coliseum and at the same time be playing his final game for Bowling Green University.

The Falcons oppose Fresno State in the Mercy Bowl. The game is being played in the interest of the California Poly 1960 Football Tragedy Fund. More than $200,000 is being sought to take care of expenses to which Cal Poly players and their families have been subjected as the result of the plane crash at Toledo last Oct. 29.

Potts is completing his senior year at Bowling Green, where he has been a regular for the past two seasons and this year helped his squad to the Mid-American Conference championship.

Syracuse To Be Host Team For Liberty Bowl Contest

By RALPH BERNSTEIN
Associated Press Sports Writer

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — The Liberty Bowl grabbed Syracuse as the host team Wednesday, but apparently failed in an effort to make its third annual football attraction a replay of the controversial Syracuse-Notre Dame game.

Ambrose (Bud) Dudley, head of the Liberty Bowl Association, invited the Fighting Irish to come here for the Dec. 16 game, but was turned down because of Notre Dame's policy against post-season games.

Not even the lure of a near capacity crowd in the 100,000-seat Philadelphia Stadium—scene of the Army-Navy game could bring Notre Dame here to settle the biggest football controversy in many years.

In case you've been away fishing, Notre Dame defeated Syracuse Saturday 17-15 on a field goal kicked after time ran out. A penalty against Syracuse on the last play of the game gave Notre Dame a second shot at a field goal missed as the gun went off. On second try the Irish made it.

The argument raging since Monday is whether Notre Dame was entitled to the extra play. The Big Ten and Eastern Collegiate Athletic Conferences say the officials erred and Syracuse should have won 15-14. But Notre Dame refuses to concede the game.

With Notre Dame out, Dudley said Syracuse's bowl opponent would come from among Duke, Rice, TCU, Louisiana State, Miami (Fla.), Colorado, Utah State, Missouri, Kansas and the winner of the Army-Navy game.

Coached by Ben Schwartzwalder, Syracuse rates second, a fraction behind Penn State, in the latest poll for the Lambert trophy, emblematic of Eastern college football supremacy. The Orange have won 6 and lost 3 this season with Boston College to play Saturday.

At Syracuse, a spokesman said the players voted Tuesday for the Liberty Bowl in preference to the Gotham Bowl in New York City. Balloting was reported closed.

FIELD AND STREAM

By R. L. LIDE

Running true to form, the hunters took to the fields in large numbers on opening day last Wednesday.

Some took time off from work and school-age boys were excused for one day to go hunting, provided they brought a note from their parents.

The first day of hunting is the most exciting, because pheasants flush more readily, especially the young birds that have not been shot at by the gunners.

Rabbits also are willing to be chased by the hounds and most hunters bring home game for the table. Later on, pheasants are not to easy to flush and they learn to take to their heels out of the hunters' range before taking off in the air. Rabbits also learn to hop to the nearest groundhog hole and safety.

GAME WAS spotty, some hunters not seeing anything, while others found rabbits and pheasants plentiful. One young hunter bagged three rabbits and one pheasant by 10:30 a.m., with the rest of the day ahead to limit out.

Most hunters twist off the rabbit's head and hog-dress it in the field, so it was a problem to collect only 19 eyeballs to be sent to the game technicians who can tell the age of the bunnies by the weight of the eyeball in millograms.

I read recently where the state of Michigan has discontinued aging deer by their teeth and now collects deer eyeballs, which is claimed to be absolutely accurate.

I would like to caution hunters to wear rubber gloves when dressing out a rabbit in case you have a cut or scratch on your hand.

While tularemia, or "rabbit fever" as it is commonly called, might not be prevalent in our rabbits, there is no reason to believe it does exist. I ought to know since I contacted tularemia while dressing out a rabbit about 15 years ago in Smith Township in Mahoning County, just across the Columbiana County line. That rabbit put me in the hospital for three months and practically out of existence for about six months.

The "book" says when you once have had it, you are immune, so I have toyed with the idea of becoming a professional rabbit skinner. On second thought, I decided there must be a more delightful way of making a living.

THE "GIRLS" were chatting away in the Alliance plant where my wife works during the lunch break. One of them reported two professional men from Alliance bagged six pheasants and eight rabbits on opening day.

Making arrests is not exactly a pleasant job for game protectors, but if these men had been caught it would have given any game protector a most delightful duty to perform. Another reported that her neighbor, a young man, bagged six pheasants.

Gabriel 'Blows Horn' As Back-Of-The-Week

By REESE HART

RALEIGH, N.C. (AP) — North Carolina State quarterback Roman Gabriel, The Associated Press back of the week, said modestly Wednesday "This is something one player doesn't earn."

"It has to be a full team effort for any individual to gain any kind of special recognition," said the dark-haired crew cut passing star, a top contender for All-American honors.

Gabriel, 6-4, 225-pound senior from Wilmington, N.C., had a field day against South Carolina last Saturday.

Big Gabe scored twice, passed for two touchdowns, completed 17 of 22 passes for 215 yards and broke two Atlantic Coast Conference career records in leading a 38-14 rout of the gamecocks.

Marvin Bass, South Carolina coach, called Gabriel the best quarterback he has seen in his coaching career. "We just could not stop him," Bass said.

Gabriel, 21 and the father of two sons, winds up his college career Saturday against Clemson at Clemson, S. C. Bob Jones, Clemson end coach who scouted State against South Carolina, said of Gabe: "I've never seen a more phenomenal exhibition in my 31 years of coaching and scouting."

Gabriel, who is certain to be a top selection in the forthcoming pro drafts, has completed 279 of 489 passes for 57 per cent in his college career. Only 20 of his tosses have been intercepted.

The first symphony orchestra in the United States was organized by Moravian settlers in Bethlehem, Pa., in 1741. Seven years later it had four violins, two violas, two trumpets, two flutes, two french horns, a cello and a double bass.

Individual Titles Loom In Big Ten

CHICAGO (AP)—The two big games on which the Big Ten football championship will hinge Saturday, Wisconsin at Minnesota and Ohio State at Michigan, also hold the key to several individual titles.

At Minneapolis, Gopher quarterback Sandy Stephens will try to wrap up the total offense crown against Wisconsin's famed passing duo of quarterback Ron Miller and end Pat Richter which is eying at least four titles.

At Ann Arbor, Mich., 1960 All-America fullback Bob Ferguson of Ohio State figures to make a runaway of the rushing title, but the Buckeye bruiser has to battle Michigan halfback Dave Raimey for the scoring title. Ferguson, Raimey, Richter and Michigan State's George Saimes currently share the scoring lead with 30 points on 5 TDs.

Official league statistics today underscored these individual title quests:

RUSHING—Ferguson carries a 5-game record of 519 yards and a 5.2 average on 99 carries against runner-up Stephens' 6-game total 339 yards on 69 carries for a 4.9 average.

PASSING — Miller, with 871 yards in a 61-for-116 record, already has beaten Iowa's Matt Szykowny, second with 810 yards on 63-for-115. Iowa has finished league play and closes against Notre Dame.

TOTAL OFFENSE — Stephens leads with 911 yards (572 passing and 339 rushing), but could be caught by Miller with 814 (871 passing and minus 57 rushing).

PASS RECEIVING—The 6-foot-5 Richter, who equaled a Big Ten mark against Illinois with nine catches for 170 yards and 3 TD's, can tie a fancy ribbon around a title already wrapped up with 30 catches for 514 yards and 5 TD's.

Al Kaline of the Detroit Tigers had a 22-game hitting streak last season.

Longhorns Eye Cotton Bowl

By ED CORRIGAN
Associated Press Sports Writer

Texas, sidetracked in its rush toward the national championship five days ago, will try to pick up the pieces against Texas A&M Thursday in the top game of a thin collegiate Thanksgiving Day football schedule.

Texas Christian cut down the Longhorns, 6-0, last Saturday, so whatever the outcome against the Aggies, it will provide little solace, except for a berth in the Cotton Bowl.

In other games, Maine and Massachusetts play for the Yankee Conference championship, Richmond meets William and Mary, Virginia Tech tangles with VMI (both Southern Conference contests), Colgate goes against Brown and Memphis State takes on Chattanooga.

Despite the fact that their national title hopes have been shattered Texas still is on the spot against Texas A&M. A loss to the Aggies also could leave the Longhorns on the outside looking in at the Cotton Bowl.

Texas and Arkansas are tied for the Southwest Conference lead, each with a 5-1 record. If Texas whips Texas A&M and Arkansas gets past Texas Tech — as it should—Saturday, the Longhorns and Razorbacks would finish deadlocked for the lead.

The host spot in the Cotton Bowl then would go to Texas on the basis of a 33-7 victory over Arkansas earlier in the season.

Syracuse is expected to decide today whether to play in New York Gotham Bowl on Dec. 9 or Philadelphia's Liberty Bowl Dec. 16—or not bowl at all.

The Gotham Bowl has said it would like to pair Syracuse against Notre Dame in a replay of the Irish's controversial 17-15 victory over the Orange last Saturday. But Notre Dame has a policy of not playing postseason games and no doubt will decline.

The make up the Gator Bowl in Jacksonville, Fla., on Dec. 30 was tentatively set Thursday night.

Georgia Tech will face Maryland if the Terps win their season finale from Virginia Saturday. Yellow Jacket players voted unanimously to accept the bid. Official acceptance, under Southeastern Conference rules, must await Georgia Tech's final game against Georgia on Dec. 2.

Goes Over 1,000 Mark

Tigers' Johnny Euill Close To School Rushing Record

Wellsville High's John Euill probably came close to setting a new school record in rushing in three years with the Tiger varsity.

The 175-pound senior fullback led the squad in rushing this year with 600 yards gained in 127 carries — pushing his three-year total to well over the 1,000 mark.

It may have established a modern-day record, although the individual statistics available cover only the seasons of 1959 through 1961 as compiled by Mike Wilson, team statistician.

Euill gained 64 yards as a sophomore, 523 as a junior and 600 this season for what probably represents a new standard in rushing — 1,187 yards.

Whether or not Euill's total yardage matches or surpasses that accumulated by the great John Henry Martin in the early 1950's is anybody's guess.

Euill, however, ran from behind a strong line and performed three years with some of Wellsville's best squads in a decade or more. Martin was a standout runner at fullback, but performed with Tiger squads that had tough times in winning games.

Besides Martin, another contender for the record was halfback Dick Brown who finished with 987 yards gained in performing with two of Wellsville's strongest teams in recent years.

Brown gained 309 yards in 72 carries in 1959, and added 678 more in 89 carries in 1960 for a total of 987 yards in two years.

Roger Ours, who will graduate this spring with Euill, also finished a scholastic career near the 1,000 yards mark in rushing —not a bad feat for a quarterback.

Ours gained 143 as a sophomore, 523 as a junior and 270 this season for a three-year total of 936. A standout passer, Ours completed 103 of 231 in three years with the Tiger varsity.

Junior halfback Alvin Thompson finished runner-up to Euill for rushing honors this year with 430 yards in 117 attempts, and was the team's top scorer with 42 points.

The Tigers, who finished 5-5 in Coach Ken Woods' fourth year, were outscored by their opponents, 132 points to 138.

The squad of 1961 was penalized a total of 560 yards in 10 games, compared with 413 yards by all opponents.

Terry Downes Given OK For Warmup Bout

LONDON (AP)—Terry Downes, part holder of the world middleweight boxing title, was given permission Wednesday to have a warmup fight before defending his crown against Paul Pender in Boston, Mass.

The 25-year-old Londoner got the go-ahead from the British board of control, which thus defied a ban clamped on Downes by the boxing authorities of Massachusetts.

Downes has been out of action with a thumb injury since he took the title from Pender in London last July.

Last week Massachusetts boxing officials ruled Downes must not fight again until he has fulfilled his contract with Pender.

The "book" says when you once have had it, you are immune, so I have toyed with the idea of becoming a professional rabbit skinner. On second thought, I decided there must be a more delightful way of making a living.

THE "GIRLS" were chatting away in the Alliance plant where my wife works during the lunch break. One of them reported two professional men from Alliance bagged six pheasants and eight rabbits on opening day.

Making arrests is not exactly a pleasant job for game protectors, but if these men had been caught it would have given any game protector a most delightful duty to perform. Another reported that her neighbor, a young man, bagged six pheasants.

Gabriel 'Blows Horn' As Back-Of-The-Week

By REESE HART

RALEIGH, N.C. (AP) — North Carolina State quarterback Roman Gabriel, The Associated Press back of the week, said modestly Wednesday "This is something one player doesn't earn."

"It has to be a full team effort for any individual to gain any kind of special recognition," said the dark-haired crew cut passing star, a top contender for All-American honors.

Gabriel, 6-4, 225-pound senior from Wilmington, N.C., had a field day against South Carolina last Saturday.

Big Gabe scored twice, passed for two touchdowns, completed 17 of 22 passes for 215 yards and broke two Atlantic Coast Conference career records in leading a 38-14 rout of the gamecocks.

Marvin Bass, South Carolina coach, called Gabriel the best quarterback he has seen in his coaching career. "We just could not stop him," Bass said.

Gabriel, 21 and the father of two sons, winds up his college career Saturday against Clemson at Clemson, S. C. Bob Jones, Clemson end coach who scouted State against South Carolina, said of Gabe: "I've never seen a more phenomenal exhibition in my 31 years of coaching and scouting."

Gabriel, who is certain to be a top selection in the forthcoming pro drafts, has completed 279 of 489 passes for 57 per cent in his college career. Only 20 of his tosses have been intercepted.

The first symphony orchestra in the United States was organized by Moravian settlers in Bethlehem, Pa., in 1741. Seven years later it had four violins, two violas, two trumpets, two flutes, two french horns, a cello and a double bass.

Texas, Aggies Set For TV Tilt Today

Longhorn, Aggies On TV At 2:15

The Texas - Texas A. & M. Thanksgiving Day game will be televised over Channel 4 beginning at 2:15 p. m.

Individual Titles Loom In Big Ten

CHICAGO (AP)—The two big games on which the Big Ten football championship will hinge Saturday, Wisconsin at Minnesota and Ohio State at Michigan, also hold the key to several individual titles.

At Minneapolis, Gopher quarterback Sandy Stephens will try to wrap up the total offense crown against Wisconsin's famed passing duo of quarterback Ron Miller and end Pat Richter which is eying at least four titles.

At Ann Arbor, Mich., 1960 All-America fullback Bob Ferguson of Ohio State figures to make a runaway of the rushing title, but the Buckeye bruiser has to battle Michigan halfback Dave Raimey for the scoring title. Ferguson, Raimey, Richter and Michigan State's George Saimes currently share the scoring lead with 30 points on 5 TDs.

Official league statistics today underscored these individual title quests:

RUSHING—Ferguson carries a 5-game record of 519 yards and a 5.2 average on 99 carries against runner-up Stephens' 6-game total 339 yards on 69 carries for a 4.9 average.

PASSING — Miller, with 871 yards in a 61-for-116 record, already has beaten Iowa's Matt Szykowny, second with 810 yards on 63-for-115. Iowa has finished league play and closes against Notre Dame.

TOTAL OFFENSE — Stephens leads with 911 yards (572 passing and 339 rushing), but could be caught by Miller with 814 (871 passing and minus 57 rushing).

PASS RECEIVING—The 6-foot-5 Richter, who equaled a Big Ten mark against Illinois with nine catches for 170 yards and 3 TD's, can tie a fancy ribbon around a title already wrapped up with 30 catches for 514 yards and 5 TD's.

Al Kaline of the Detroit Tigers had a 22-game hitting streak last season.

Longhorns Eye Cotton Bowl

By ED CORRIGAN
Associated Press Sports Writer

Texas, sidetracked in its rush toward the national championship five days ago, will try to pick up the pieces against Texas A&M Thursday in the top game of a thin collegiate Thanksgiving Day football schedule.

Texas Christian cut down the Longhorns, 6-0, last Saturday, so whatever the outcome against the Aggies, it will provide little solace, except for a berth in the Cotton Bowl.

In other games, Maine and Massachusetts play for the Yankee Conference championship, Richmond meets William and Mary, Virginia Tech tangles with VMI (both Southern Conference contests), Colgate goes against Brown and Memphis State takes on Chattanooga.

Despite the fact that their national title hopes have been shattered Texas still is on the spot against Texas A&M. A loss to the Aggies also could leave the Longhorns on the outside looking in at the Cotton Bowl.

Texas and Arkansas are tied for the Southwest Conference lead, each with a 5-1 record. If Texas whips Texas A&M and Arkansas gets past Texas Tech — as it should—Saturday, the Longhorns and Razorbacks would finish deadlocked for the lead.

The host spot in the Cotton Bowl then would go to Texas on the basis of a 33-7 victory over Arkansas earlier in the season.

Syracuse is expected to decide today whether to play in New York Gotham Bowl on Dec. 9 or Philadelphia's Liberty Bowl Dec. 16—or not bowl at all.

The Gotham Bowl has said it would like to pair Syracuse against Notre Dame in a replay of the Irish's controversial 17-15 victory over the Orange last Saturday. But Notre Dame has a policy of not playing postseason games and no doubt will decline.

The make up the Gator Bowl in Jacksonville, Fla., on Dec. 30 was tentatively set Thursday night.

Georgia Tech will face Maryland if the Terps win their season finale from Virginia Saturday. Yellow Jacket players voted unanimously to accept the bid. Official acceptance, under Southeastern Conference rules, must await Georgia Tech's final game against Georgia on Dec. 2.

Goes Over 1,000 Mark

Tigers' Johnny Euill Close To School Rushing Record

Wellsville High's John Euill probably came close to setting a new school record in rushing in three years with the Tiger varsity.

The 175-pound senior fullback led the squad in rushing this year with 600 yards gained in 127 carries — pushing his three-year total to well over the 1,000 mark.

It may have established a modern-day record, although the individual statistics available cover only the seasons of 1959 through 1961 as compiled by Mike Wilson, team statistician.

Euill gained 64 yards as a sophomore, 523 as a junior and 600 this season for what probably represents a new standard in rushing — 1,187 yards.

Whether or not Euill's total yardage matches or surpasses that accumulated by the great John Henry Martin in the early 1950's is anybody's guess.

Euill, however, ran from behind a strong line and performed three years with some of Wellsville's best squads in a decade or more. Martin was a standout runner at fullback, but performed with Tiger squads that had tough times in winning games.

Besides Martin, another contender for the record was halfback Dick Brown who finished with 987 yards gained in performing with two of Wellsville's strongest teams in recent years.

Brown gained 309 yards in 72 carries in 1959, and added 678 more in 89 carries in 1960 for a total of 987 yards in two years.

Roger Ours, who will graduate this spring with Euill, also finished a scholastic career near the 1,000 yards mark in rushing —not a bad feat for a quarterback.

Ours gained 143 as a sophomore, 523 as a junior and 270 this season for a three-year total of 936. A standout passer, Ours completed 103 of 231 in three years with the Tiger varsity.

Junior halfback Alvin Thompson finished runner-up to Euill for rushing honors this year with 430 yards in 117 attempts, and was the team's top scorer with 42 points.

The Tigers, who finished 5-5 in Coach Ken Woods' fourth year, were outscored by their opponents, 132 points to 138.

The squad of 1961 was penalized a total of 560 yards in 10 games, compared with 413 yards by all opponents.

Terry Downes Given OK For Warmup Bout

LONDON (AP)—Terry Downes, part holder of the world middleweight boxing title, was given permission Wednesday to have a warmup fight before defending his crown against Paul Pender in Boston, Mass.

The 25-year-old Londoner got the go-ahead from the British board of control, which thus defied a ban clamped on Downes by the boxing authorities of Massachusetts.

Downes has been out of action with a thumb injury since he took the title from Pender in London last July.

Last week Massachusetts boxing officials ruled Downes must not fight again until he has fulfilled his contract with Pender.

Kennedy Set For Holiday With Family

HYANNIS PORT, Mass. (AP) — President Kennedy arrived Wednesday with his wife and daughter to join numerous members of his family for Thanksgiving observance.

His son, John Fitzgerald Kennedy Jr., who will be a year old Saturday, missed the trip because of a cold.

White House press secreary Pierre Salinger said the cold is "slight—very mild," with no accompanying fever.

He added it is hoped the President's son may be able to come here Friday for a joint birthday observance with his sister Caroline, who will be 4 Monday.

Salinger said Mrs. Kennedy "felt he shouldn't come up today."

Blonde Caroline arrived with her parents. During the flight they remained in their private compartment but she moved about the plane, playing and chatting with nine cousins.

The President's Air Force jet landed at Otis Air Force Base, a few miles from the Kennedy compound of summer homes on the shore of Nantucket Sound, at 5:28 p.m. after the flight from Washington. He wore a topcoat but no hat.

The President is going to be interviewed Saturday by Soviet Premier Khrushchev's son-in-law, Alexei I. Adzhubei, editor of the Soviet newspaper Izvestia.

The White House, in announcing the editor's visit, said a transcript will be made of the private meeting of the President and Adzhubei, but it was not disclosed whether it will be released to American newsmen.

Complaint Cites UAW Local

Test Case Set On Union Fines On Overproduction

WASHINGTON (AP) — The National Labor Relations Board has set out to test whether a union may fine members who produce more than the union says they should.

Contending such fines should be outlawed, Stuart Rothman, NLRB general counsel, filed a complaint against Local 283 of the United Auto Workers. The complaint was based on charges by four employes of the Wisconsin Motor Corp. at West Allis, Wis., that the union is suing them to collect fines ranging from $35 to $100.

Most employes of the firm were said to be able to finish the work quota set by the union two hours before quitting time. They are paid, on a piece rate basis, depending on their individual output.

To fine workers for producing more than the union decrees, Rothman said, in effect forces them to engage in a slowdown. Also, he said, where quotas are imposed without consultation with the employer it enables a union to enforce production standards it had been unable to obtain in collective bargaining.

Rothman, who is the government's chief enforcer of the laws on worker-employer relations, said Wednesday he was instituting a legal test case because similar charges of union-imposed standards have popped up recently with "some frequency."

He indicated he expects the question to be decided finally by the courts. Rothman's office was reported also considering a test case challenging the legality of unions fining its members for crossing picket lines during labor disputes.

Under NLRB procedures, filing of a complaint is a preliminary to a trial of the charges by an NLRB trial examiner. The examiner's findings can be appealed to the five-man NLRB board.

The formal charge by Rothman accuses the union local of violating the federal labor law by interfering with employes' rights to engage or refrain from engaging in union activities.

He said the case also involves the right of unions to prescribe rules governing its members.

To permit such fines, Rothman said, places a worker in the dilemma of being disciplined by his union for living up to the employer's production standard or of being disciplined by his employer for keeping his output to the union's lower production level.

The union in the test case was said to defend its production level as a means of protecting the welfare and "peace of mind" of its members, as well as their jobs.

The company is not a litigant in the case. But Rothman's office said it considers the union production standards unrealistic and destructive to the firm's competitive position. The company says that if the workers could produce more it would get more contracts and provide more jobs.

A protest that the NLRB action was imposing a hardship on the union "to finance this type of litigation," was made by the union local's attorney, Irvin Charne, in Milwaukee. He said "the applicability of the law to this situation is not apparent, not even to the person in charge of administering it."

Infant Claimed, Parents Charged In Child Neglect

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — The parents of a 12-day-old baby, who died Wednesday in Children's Hospital, have been charged with child neglect.

The baby, Carol, youngest of the eight children of Kenneth Hood, 31, and his wife, Melisa, 24, died of dehydration, diarrhea and possible bacterial poisoning, the hospital reported. She had been admitted to the hospital Tuesday night.

The father was taken to Franklin County Jail. The mother and the surviving seven children, ages 1 to 10, were taken to the home of a relative.

Miss Mary W. Burwell, Franklin County health nurse, who filed complaints after visiting the home, said the children had insufficient food, inadequate shelter, no proper clothing and no medical care. She also said the house was "filthy," had no running water and was rat-infested.

Mansfield Man Cited In Slaying His Wife

MANSFIELD, Ohio (AP)—Willie Davis, 29, was charged with first-degree murder Wednesday in the shooting of his estranged wife, Ruth Mae, 25.

Police said Davis went to his wife's home in Mansfield Sunday evening, asked for a reconiliation and shot her when she refused. She died Tuesday without having regained consciousness.

Davis pleaded innocent and asked for a preliminary hearing, which was scheduled for Dec. 1.

Kennedy Set For Holiday With Family

HYANNIS PORT, Mass. (AP) — President Kennedy arrived Wednesday with his wife and daughter to join numerous members of his family for Thanksgiving observance.

His son, John Fitzgerald Kennedy Jr., who will be a year old Saturday, missed the trip because of a cold.

White House press secreary Pierre Salinger said the cold is "slight—very mild," with no accompanying fever.

He added it is hoped the President's son may be able to come here Friday for a joint birthday observance with his sister Caroline, who will be 4 Monday.

Salinger said Mrs. Kennedy "felt he shouldn't come up today."

Blonde Caroline arrived with her parents. During the flight they remained in their private compartment but she moved about the plane, playing and chatting with nine cousins.

The President's Air Force jet landed at Otis Air Force Base, a few miles from the Kennedy compound of summer homes on the shore of Nantucket Sound, at 5:28 p.m. after the flight from Washington. He wore a topcoat but no hat.

The President is going to be interviewed Saturday by Soviet Premier Khrushchev's son-in-law, Alexei I. Adzhubei, editor of the Soviet newspaper Izvestia.

The White House, in announcing the editor's visit, said a transcript will be made of the private meeting of the President and Adzhubei, but it was not disclosed whether it will be released to American newsmen.

Complaint Cites UAW Local

Test Case Set On Union Fines On Overproduction

WASHINGTON (AP) — The National Labor Relations Board has set out to test whether a union may fine members who produce more than the union says they should.

Contending such fines should be outlawed, Stuart Rothman, NLRB general counsel, filed a complaint against Local 283 of the United Auto Workers. The complaint was based on charges by four employes of the Wisconsin Motor Corp. at West Allis, Wis., that the union is suing them to collect fines ranging from $35 to $100.

Most employes of the firm were said to be able to finish the work quota set by the union two hours before quitting time. They are paid, on a piece rate basis, depending on their individual output.

To fine workers for producing more than the union decrees, Rothman said, in effect forces them to engage in a slowdown. Also, he said, where quotas are imposed without consultation with the employer it enables a union to enforce production standards it had been unable to obtain in collective bargaining.

Rothman, who is the government's chief enforcer of the laws on worker-employer relations, said Wednesday he was instituting a legal test case because similar charges of union-imposed standards have popped up recently with "some frequency."

He indicated he expects the question to be decided finally by the courts. Rothman's office was reported also considering a test case challenging the legality of unions fining its members for crossing picket lines during labor disputes.

Under NLRB procedures, filing of a complaint is a preliminary to a trial of the charges by an NLRB trial examiner. The examiner's findings can be appealed to the five-man NLRB board.

The formal charge by Rothman accuses the union local of violating the federal labor law by interfering with employes' rights to engage or refrain from engaging in union activities.

He said the case also involves the right of unions to prescribe rules governing its members.

To permit such fines, Rothman said, places a worker in the dilemma of being disciplined by his union for living up to the employer's production standard or of being disciplined by his employer for keeping his output to the union's lower production level.

The union in the test case was said to defend its production level as a means of protecting the welfare and "peace of mind" of its members, as well as their jobs.

The company is not a litigant in the case. But Rothman's office said it considers the union production standards unrealistic and destructive to the firm's competitive position. The company says that if the workers could produce more it would get more contracts and provide more jobs.

A protest that the NLRB action was imposing a hardship on the union "to finance this type of litigation," was made by the union local's attorney, Irvin Charne, in Milwaukee. He said "the applicability of the law to this situation is not apparent, not even to the person in charge of administering it."

Infant Claimed, Parents Charged In Child Neglect

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — The parents of a 12-day-old baby, who died Wednesday in Children's Hospital, have been charged with child neglect.

The baby, Carol, youngest of the eight children of Kenneth Hood, 31, and his wife, Melisa, 24, died of dehydration, diarrhea and possible bacterial poisoning, the hospital reported. She had been admitted to the hospital Tuesday night.

The father was taken to Franklin County Jail. The mother and the surviving seven children, ages 1 to 10, were taken to the home of a relative.

Miss Mary W. Burwell, Franklin County health nurse, who filed complaints after visiting the home, said the children had insufficient food, inadequate shelter, no proper clothing and no medical care. She also said the house was "filthy," had no running water and was rat-infested.

Police said Davis went to his wife's home in Mansfield Sunday evening, asked for a reconiliation and shot her when she refused. She died Tuesday without having regained consciousness.

Driver Faces Charge After 2-Way Crash

A 46-year-old East End man was arrested on a charge of driving while intoxicated after his station wagon hit the rear of a halted auto Wednesday at 3:45 p.m. at Elizabeth St. and Pennsylvania Ave., police reported.

Olen Charles Freeman, 854 State St., is scheduled for a hearing Friday morning before Municipal Judge Samuel M. Chertoff on the charge filed after his 1955 station wagon hit the rear of a halted 1956 sedan driven by Anthony D. Grande, 51, of 1145 Esther Ave., Wellsville.

Grande told police he was halted for a red traffic signal when his car was hit from the rear. Police said Freeman did not give them his version of the mishap. There was damage to the front of Freeman's vehicle and the rear of Grande's car, police said.

It was one of three mishaps that marred East Liverpool traffic in the afternoon pre - holiday rush.

Steering mechanism failure was blamed for a crash on E. 4th St. near Walnut St. yesterday that damaged a 1952 sedan driven by Homer C. Dillon, 18, of 815 Oakland Ave. and a parked 1955 model truck of Walter L. Collins, 500 Jefferson St., Newell, police said.

Dillon told police he halted for a stop sign on E. 4th St. at Walnut, then proceeded. As his car went through the intersection, the steering gear snapped and the auto swerved to the right and hit the truck, he said.

The crash damaged the right front fender and grill of the auto and the left rear fender of the truck.

A hit-skip driver was blamed for another mishap at Walnut St. and St. Clair Ave. at 5:25 p.m. yesterday

Kathie Kollmayer, 39, of Hubbard said her northbound 1956 four-door sedan was halted in a line of traffic when a car ahead drifted backward and damaged the left front fender. Then the other motorist drove away, heading upgrade on St. Clair, she said.

Brush Creek School Burns

Jefferson County sheriff's deputies in Steubenville are investigating a fire which destroyed an old building that had been a landmark in the rural Hammondsville area for a century.

The blaze razed the 100-year-old Brush Creek schoolhouse about five miles from Hammondsville Tuesday afternoon.

Closed years ago, the building was one of the last in the district of the "one - room" schools of a bygone era.

It had been used in recent years as a site for picnics and as a shelter for hunters.

Sheriff's deputies said the fire was of unknown origin, but may have been set purposely by vandals or accidentally by a hunter.

The building had been improved by the owner, F. R. Householder of Brush Creek, sheriff's deputies said.

It was reported that residents of the area are offering a reward for information as to the person or persons responsible for the blaze.

You can turn Chicken Tetrazzini into a Friday special; use tuna (the solid white albacore variety is fine here) instead of the chicken to combine with cooked spaghetti and cream sauce. As a savory topping for this casserole, use grated Parmesan cheese.

'Spy Sky' Reconnaissance

America's First Secretly Launched Satellite Aloft

POINT ARGUELLO, Calif (AP) — America's first secretly launched satellite soared aloft Wednesday from the naval missile facility. It probably was a Samos "sky spy" reconnaissance model.

A terse Air Force announcement, issued after the 12:50 p.m. launching, said only: "A satellite employing an Atlas-Agena B booster combination was successfully launched today. The satellite is carrying a number of classified (secret) tests components."

All previous U.S. satellite shots have been disclosed in advance, at least verbally, to news media. The usual understanding is that advance notice is conditional upon the information not being used until launch time.

There was no word Wednesday until about 20 minutes after the firing.

A spokesman said no further details would be given.

Industry sources have reported that a Samos launching was imminent.

The Samos and its companion satellite Midas, designed to detect hostile missile firings, are the supersecret twins of the Air Force research program.

The Air Force has made it known that it is highly sensitive about publicity concerning Samos and Midas, because of their behind-the-Iron Curtain spy nature.

Samos when perfected is expected to be able to return, either by broadcast or recovery of capsules, photographs of terrain behind the Iron Curtain. Midas is expected to be able to give near-instant warning of missile launches, by detecting infrared radiation from blastoff.

World Church Leaders Back Drive Against Member Theft

NEW DELHI, India (AP) — Leaders of many of the world's churches leaned favorably Wednesday toward a campaign to put a stop to "sheep stealing."

As a Pan-Christian congress of nearly every denomination began digging into means to strengthen their common cause, several moves were afoot to counter the practice of vying for each other's members.

Some groups still "seem to think that this kind of sheep-stealing is part of their legitimate missionary work," said a statement by the Ethiopian Orthodox delegation to the World Council of Churches.

"We want to emphasize the importance of taking definite steps to counteract the un-Christian element in the proselytizing policies of these groups."

In many Eastern regions Orthodox churches have long resented incursions into their folds by some Protestant missionaries.

But with representatives of most of the Orthodox and Protestant forces of earth gathered here for the council's third general assembly there were strong indications that the problem was being eased.

Bishop Lesslie Newbigin, of London, director of the council's newly formed World Mission and Evangelism Division, said that in winning believers most churches have come to "regard each other as colleagues and not rivals."

The meeting here involves 198 denominations with more than 300 million members in about 60 nations—the most wide-scale Christian gathering since the church schisms began in medieval times.

Readers Give Answer For Curate's Friend

SYDNEY (AP) — What is a curate's friend?

A columnist of the Sydney Morning Herald asked the question after a curate's friend was reported sold at auction. It wasn't mentioned in dictionaries and even the Museum of Applied Arts did not know.

The answer came from readers, including clergymen:

The curate's friend is an antique three - tiered cake stand.

In the good old days it would stand by the curate's chair at afternoon tea parties. He could help himself unobtrusively to the goodies.

His stipend was minute, and the friend was important to his nourishment.

Tradition has it that the ground hog emerges from his den on Feb. 2 to look for his shadow. Failure to cast one means an early spring and a good harvest; the sight of one, six weeks more of winter and poor crops.

Mother Knows Best, In This Case, A Dog

DERMOTT, Ark. (AP) — Mother knows best, Mrs. Fred Betts says, and in this case the mother was a dog named Birdie.

Birdie had puppies a while back and her owner gave the Betts children their pick of the litter.

When the pups were six weeks old the Betts children selected their favorite and brought it home.

Birdie didn't like it. Before the next dawn she came and loudly demanded her child. Mrs. Betts had to put the two of them in her car and drove them home.

Two weeks passed—and Birdie decided the time had come.

Back she trotted to the Betts home, bearing the same pup, and left it.

How Can I?

By ANNE ASHLEY

Q. What can I do when a fabric is too delicate for the use of ordinary starch?

A. Melt a little granulated sugar in boiling water, and add this to your rinsing water.

Q. How can I make candies from the rinds of lemons, oranges, and grapefruit?

A. Boil these pieces two or three times until the water is clear, then boil again with sugar added to taste, and until the rinds are soft and sweet. Both children and adults usually relish this kind of candy.

Q. What can I do about some paintbrushes on which paint has been allowed to dry and harden?

A. Fill up an old can with vinegar, stick your brushes into this, and put on the stove until it boils for 10 to 15 minutes. This may, of course, cause some falling bristles in inferior brushes, but it will soften them up enough so that a good washing in soap and water will complete the reconditioning.

Q. Do you have any suggestions on the removal of spots from satin-covered furniture?

A. A light sponging with benzine will sometimes do the trick.

Stevenson Denounces Cuba Charge

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) —Adlai E. Stevenson Wednesday denounced as without foundation Cuban charges that U.S. ships and planes were threatening to invade the Dominican Republic and block emergence of a democratic regime.

The chief U.S. delegate replied to the Cuban charges at a heated meeting of the U.N. Security Council enlivened by outbursts in the galleries by two Dominicans. U.N. guards hustled them out.

Stevenson told the council there was evidence of a "sinister alliance" between the forces of Prime Minister Fidel Castro and the Trujillo family which had exercised a dictatorship over the Dominican Republic for 31 years.

He spoke after Cuban Delegate Mario Garcia-Inchaustegui accused the United States of sending warships into Dominican waters so that "later they can send these same warships against Cuba."

The Cuban called President Josquin Balaguer a puppet of U.S. imperialism in the Dominican Republic.

Carlos Sanchezy Sanchez, representative of the Dominican Republic, asserted Cuba was engaging in "insulting diplomacy." He said Balaguer receives instructions from no one.

Sanchez and the Cuban delegate engaged in a heated exchange over Cuba's efforts to speak in the interests of the Dominican Republic.

"I represent the Dominican people and I can prove it," he added.

It was at this point that the disturbance occurred in the gallery. One of the men shouted in Spanish, "It's a lie."

U.N. officials identified the two men as Franklin Franco, 25, and Espaillat Rodriguez, 40, Dominicans now living in New York City.

They were released after questioning.

The Dominican Republic does not feel itself threatened," Sanchez added at a later stage in the debate. "The Dominican Republic has not been invaded. We would have known what to do had this been the case."

The council adjourned at 6:08 p.m. EST until 10:30 a.m. Friday for additional debate.

Cuba asked for the council meeting to consider charges that U.S. ships and planes violated the territory of the Dominican Republic.

Garcia-Inchaustegui demanded that the council condemn the United States as an aggressor and call for withdrawal of the U.S. forces.

Stevenson denied that the U.S. ships were in the territorial waters of the Dominican Republic, or that planes had flown over Dominican territory.

He said that the dispatch of U.S. warships in the Caribbean area was undertaken with the full knowledge of the Balaguer government.

Marion Facing Fallout Problem, Not Fatal Kind

MARION, Ohio (AP) — County commissioners here are confronted with a fallout problem. It's not the fatal kind of fallout and a reasonable shelter is out of the question.

The problem stems from the daily convention of thousands of Starlings and Sparrows in the Sycamore trees above the walks around the Courthouse.

The commissioners have been upset by demands from irate citizens to get rid of the birds or get rid of the trees. While the board ponders the problem, one of its members, Luther Mitchell, is waging a personal campaign on behalf of the trees.

Wednesday he went to work with hose, buckets, and scrub brush, to remove from the walks the latest evidence of a visit by the feathered menaces.

Mitchell also is resorting to other tactics. He sayd he's killed more than 1,90; Starlings in the last several days using pellets in a 22-caliber rifle.

Lausche Claims Reds' Demise Is Matter Of Time

CLEVELAND (AP) — The demise of communism is just "a matter of time" and until it occurs the United States will have to remain strong enough to ward off any attack, U. S. Sen. Frank J. Lausche said here Wednesday.

The Cleveland Democrat said in addressing the annual Rotary-Ad Club Thanksgiving Luncheon that communism cannot survive because man's natural instincts demand human dignity and freedom.

He said military preparedness is of prime importance in assuring the future of this country.

Lausche said the United States must be so strong militarily "that we will deter the communist bloc from ever daring to make an attack upon us."

The nation already is in a "military position to destroy the communist bloc and Khrushchev knows that," he added.

Marion Facing Fallout Problem, Not Fatal Kind

MARION, Ohio (AP) — County commissioners here are confronted with a fallout problem. It's not the fatal kind of fallout and a reasonable shelter is out of the question.

The problem stems from the daily convention of thousands of Starlings and Sparrows in the Sycamore trees above the walks around the Courthouse.

The commissioners have been upset by demands from irate citizens to get rid of the birds or get rid of the trees. While the board ponders the problem, one of its members, Luther Mitchell, is waging a personal campaign on behalf of the trees.

Wednesday he went to work with hose, buckets, and scrub brush, to remove from the walks the latest evidence of a visit by the feathered menaces.

Mitchell also is resorting to other tactics. He sayd he's killed more than 1,90; Starlings in the last several days using pellets in a 22-caliber rifle.

Lausche Claims Reds' Demise Is Matter Of Time

CLEVELAND (AP) — The demise of communism is just "a matter of time" and until it occurs the United States will have to remain strong enough to ward off any attack, U. S. Sen. Frank J. Lausche said here Wednesday.

The Cleveland Democrat said in addressing the annual Rotary-Ad Club Thanksgiving Luncheon that communism cannot survive because man's natural instincts demand human dignity and freedom.

He said military preparedness is of prime importance in assuring the future of this country.

Lausche said the United States must be so strong militarily "that we will deter the communist bloc from ever daring to make an attack upon us."

The nation already is in a "military position to destroy the communist bloc and Khrushchev knows that," he added.

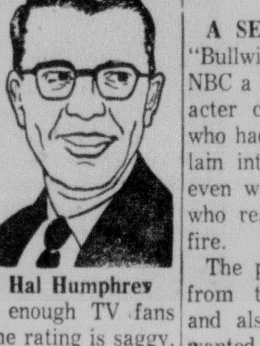
HAL HUMPHREY

ABC Treats Steve Allen Like Security Risk



Hal Humphrey

Steve Allen says, "I think we're doing as funny a comedy show on TV as anybody today." Probably many viewers who have seen Steve's most recent two shows would agree. His new ABC series started off with a limp this season, but now it's hitting a good stride.

The big trouble is that not enough TV fans know this, and the rating is saggy, and that causes unhappiness at the sponsor's office. "We did a show from San Francisco recently, and I was surprised at the number of people I met who were surprised when I told them I was back on TV," says Steve.

In my opinion, one reason viewers haven't discovered Steve is back is ABC's reluctance to advertise the fact. The network received lots of congratulatory mail and press notices when it announced last spring that it had signed Steve.

BUT, SINCE the show went on the air last September, ABC has acted as if Steve were a security risk or a secret weapon. When an estimated one-third (according to the ratings) of Wednesday night's viewers are watching "Wagon Train," which is Steve's competition, then some blasting has to be done to let TV fans know what Steve is up to.

Steve is not waiting for the network to shake itself. Next Wednesday he's bringing Sophia Loren on the show, and he has composed his own song for her ("Sophia"). He's going to do shows from Santa Monica's Pacific Ocean Park and San Diego's big zoo in the next few weeks and is going to spend his own money to advertise some of these events.

"I'd do a show from the moon, if I could get there or thought it would do any good," says Steve.

TV needs Steve and his brand of humor and sanity, plus his ability to bring new talent to the business. And remember, he's not asking for CARE packages —just viewers.

IT SEEMS everybody has a reason of some kind for keeping things off TV these days.

The city fathers of Tucson, Ariz., were quite unhappy when it was pointed out on "CBS Reports" recently that Tucson was a strategic military target, and that building shelters there would be a useless defense.

They tried to get CBS producer Fred Friendly to take that interview out of the program on the grounds it would hurt real estate values in Tucson.

CBS ALSO HAS PUT UP its back over the "Route 66" episode ("To Walk With a Serpent") which one sponsor did not want to air under its banner.

Story deals with a hate monger and stars Dan O'Herlihy. CBS says it will be aired after the first of the year, regardless of whether the sponsor wants to go along for the ride.

A SEQUENCE in one of the "Bullwinkle" cartoon shows on NBC a few weeks ago had a character called "Stokey the Bear," who had been hypnotized by a villain into lighting fires. "Stokey" even was revealed as the culprit who really started the Chicago fire.

The producers got a complaint from the Forestry Department and also from the sponsor, who wanted to know if they (the procucers) were "pro-fire."

THE TV INDUSTRY is all braced and ready to fight the FCC's Newton Minow, because it thinks he may be ready to do some "censoring" from the governmental level.

Instead of worrying about Minow, it should take a long look at all of the "censoring" going on within the industry itself.

-:-

ONE OF THE FEW rebels left in TV is Ernie Kovacs. He got a call from New York the other morning offering him $10,000 a week to head up a new TV series.

"What is it?" Ernie asked.

"Well, it's a kind of game show, and . . ."

"Stop right there!" Ernie shouted back. "I'm not interested."

Game shows are something Ernie thinks shouldn't be on TV anyway, and he believes it to the point of turning down 10 grand a week.

Different Cesspool Used In Experiment

BUTTERFIELD, Ill. (AP) — The cesspool — with a difference — is being tried experimentally as a sewage processing and disposal facility for a small community.

Preliminary reports on a 250 by 450-foot lagoon, serving some 90 households of Butterfield, west of Chicago, are encouraging, says Orville Meyer, sanitary engineer of the DuPage County's public works committee.

The pool was planted with algae and fed air which is pumped into perforated plastic lines spaced along the bottom. Oxygen content of the water was maintained at about seven parts per million. It was stocked with minnows which apparently thrived.

No contamination was found in the ditch runoff.

Tools In Car Taken

LISBON — Edward Carney, 325 Sherman St., reported to the sheriff's office a tool box and tools worth $100 were stolen from the trunk of his car while parked at the Kaiser Aluminum & Chemical Corp. near Columbiana Monday between 4 p. m. and midnight.

Clothesline Art Show Lures Over 11,550

PLUM NELLY, Ga. (AP) — This backwoods art colony on Lookout Mountain is making its bid as the South's leading art mecca with its annual clothesline art show.

The show recently attracted more than 11,550 persons from several southern states.

Plum Nelly is about 15 miles south of Chattanooga and to reach it you must travel many winding, dusty country roads. That's why it long ago was dubbed Plum Nelly: "plum out of Tennessee and nelly out of Georgia."

Miss Fannie Mennen, retired Chattanooga art teacher who holds the show at her mountaintop studio, said a record of 202 original paintings — all exhibited on outdoor clotheslines — were sold this year, in addition to handicrafts ranging from hand-thrown pottery to mountain cider.

Southern artists and craftsmen participate in the show by invitation only.

Asks Voting Machines

CINCINNATI (AP)—City Manager C. A. Harrell has asked City Council to bring in voting machines. The Hamilton County election board plans to file a test suit in common pleas court if machines are adopted, seeking to insure the move is legally correct. Ballots in the last Council election took more than 24 hours to count.

Yule Parties Set At Lisbon School

LISBON — Miss Della Wetzel, principal, advised the McKinley Parent-Teacher Association Monday night Christmas parties for the pupils will be held in the rooms with gift exchanges the afternoon of Dec. 22. The PTA will provide each room with a tree.

Mrs. Glen Ward, vice president, presided.

The group was thanked for promoting the school bond issue at the Nov. 7 election and a report was given on the recent book fair sponsored by McKinley and Lincoln schools at the latter.

Cornell P. Monday, school psychologist, spoke on "What is Intelligence?" and a question-and-answer period followed.

A social hour was enjoyed with coffee and cookies provided by the kindergarten room mothers who also were in charge of the Junior PTA meeting. Room mothers were assisted by a Girl Scout Troop.

There will be no meeting in December. The January meeting date will be announced.

Faces Extradition

CHICAGO (AP) — A fugitive from a prison honor farm near Lgoan, Ohio, has been turned over to Chicago police for extradition to Ohio. He is Bernard K. Gillespie, 33, who escaped a year ago.

Most recipes for hot spiced cider call for the addition of sugar, but your family may find this beverage sweet enough as is and you can omit the sugar. A cinnamon stick and a few whole cloves are usually added for the spicing.

3 Motorists Forfeit In Wellsville Court

Three motorists forfeited appearance bonds totaling $45 Tuesday before Mayor William J. Shoub of Wellsville for hearings on traffic violations.

Frank F. Moore, 330 Main St., Wellsville, forfeited $10 for crashing a traffic light at Routes 7 and 45. He was cited Sunday by the State Highway Patrol.

George W. Elliott, 2001 Clark Ave., forfeited $15 and Bernard Fox of Shreveport, La., forfeited $20, both for speeding. Elliott was arrested Sunday and Fox was cited Saturday, both by the patrol.

Rings Prove Popular; Make Gifts For Men

Rings are the oldest forms of jewelry. For many centuries rings were used to denote the station and rank of the wearer.

This year, you can show your favorite guy just how he rates with you — just give him a ring this Christmas.

Rings have returned to fashion favor, reports the Jewelry Industry Council, and points out that there's a wide, wide variety from which to choose.

Your choice may be an insignia ring of his favorite business, fraternal or scholastic organization; a signet ring or ring bearing his initials in open letters or engraving; a birthstone, carved hematie, onyx, tar sapphire or ruby — or a diamond — all in rugged stylized settings.

Whichever you choose, your gift of a ring will surely be worn with pride this Christmas and in the many years to come.

ROCHESTER — W. Paul McAnlis, 35, of 305 Valley View Dr., Rochester Township, was treated for abrasions of his right knee after he was buried in a ditch Tuesday evening at 6:45 except for his head and hands.

According to township police, McAnlis was putting in a sewer line to the street in front of his home when the dirt piled above fell on him. He managed to get his head and hands free.

Witnesses called firemen who used a ladder and shovels to free him. He was released in about an hour.

ABC Treats Steve Allen Like Security Risk

Hal Humphrey

Steve Allen says, "I think we're doing as funny a comedy show on TV as anybody today." Probably many viewers who have seen Steve's most recent two shows would agree. His new ABC series started off with a limp this season, but now it's hitting a good stride.

The big trouble is that not enough TV fans know this, and the rating is saggy, and that causes unhappiness at the sponsor's office. "We did a show from San Francisco recently, and I was surprised at the number of people I met who were surprised when I told them I was back on TV," says Steve.

In my opinion, one reason viewers haven't discovered Steve is back is ABC's reluctance to advertise the fact. The network received lots of congratulatory mail and press notices when it announced last spring that it had signed Steve.

BUT, SINCE the show went on the air last September, ABC has acted as if Steve were a security risk or a secret weapon. When an estimated one-third (according to the ratings) of Wednesday night's viewers are watching "Wagon Train," which is Steve's competition, then some blasting has to be done to let TV fans know what Steve is up to.

Steve is not waiting for the network to shake itself. Next Wednesday he's bringing Sophia Loren on the show, and he has composed his own song for her ("Sophia"). He's going to do shows from Santa Monica's Pacific Ocean Park and San Diego's big zoo in the next few weeks and is going to spend his own money to advertise some of these events.

"I'd do a show from the moon, if I could get there or thought it would do any good," says Steve.

TV needs Steve and his brand of humor and sanity, plus his ability to bring new talent to the business. And remember, he's not asking for CARE packages —just viewers.

IT SEEMS everybody has a reason of some kind for keeping things off TV these days.

The city fathers of Tucson, Ariz., were quite unhappy when it was pointed out on "CBS Reports" recently that Tucson was a strategic military target, and that building shelters there would be a useless defense.

They tried to get CBS producer Fred Friendly to take that interview out of the program on the grounds it would hurt real estate values in Tucson.

CBS ALSO HAS PUT UP its back over the "Route 66" episode ("To Walk With a Serpent") which one sponsor did not want to air under its banner.

Story deals with a hate monger and stars Dan O'Herlihy. CBS says it will be aired after the first of the year, regardless of whether the sponsor wants to go along for the ride.

A SEQUENCE in one of the "Bullwinkle" cartoon shows on NBC a few weeks ago had a character called "Stokey the Bear," who had been hypnotized by a villain into lighting fires. "Stokey" even was revealed as the culprit who really started the Chicago fire.

The producers got a complaint from the Forestry Department and also from the sponsor, who wanted to know if they (the procers) were "pro-fire."

THE TV INDUSTRY is all braced and ready to fight the FCC's Newton Minow, because it thinks he may be ready to do some "censoring" from the governmental level.

Instead of worrying about Minow, it should take a long look at all of the "censoring" going on within the industry itself.

-:-

ONE OF THE FEW rebels left in TV is Ernie Kovacs. He got a call from New York the other morning offering him $10,000 a week to head up a new TV series.

"What is it?" Ernie asked.

"Well, it's a kind of game show, and . . ."

"Stop right there!" Ernie shouted back. "I'm not interested."

Game shows are something Ernie thinks shouldn't be on TV anyway, and he believes it to the point of turning down 10 grand a week.

Different Cesspool Used In Experiment

BUTTERFIELD, Ill. (AP) — The cesspool — with a difference — is being tried experimentally as a sewage processing and disposal facility for a small community.

Preliminary reports on a 250 by 450-foot lagoon, serving some 90 households of Butterfield, west of Chicago, are encouraging, says Orville Meyer, sanitary engineer of the DuPage County's public works committee.

The pool was planted with algae and fed air which is pumped into perforated plastic lines spaced along the bottom. Oxygen content of the water was maintained at about seven parts per million. It was stocked with minnows which apparently thrived.

No contamination was found in the ditch runoff.

Tools In Car Taken

LISBON — Edward Carney, 325 Sherman St., reported to the sheriff's office a tool box and tools worth $100 were stolen from the trunk of his car while parked at the Kaiser Aluminum & Chemical Corp. near Columbiana Monday between 4 p. m. and midnight.

Clothesline Art Show Lures Over 11,550

PLUM NELLY, Ga. (AP) — This backwoods art colony on Lookout Mountain is making its bid as the South's leading art mecca with its annual clothesline art show.

The show recently attracted more than 11,550 persons from several southern states.

Plum Nelly is about 15 miles south of Chattanooga and to reach it you must travel many winding, dusty country roads. That's why it long ago was dubbed Plum Nelly: "plum out of Tennessee and nelly out of Georgia."

Miss Fannie Mennen, retired Chattanooga art teacher who holds the show at her mountaintop studio, said a record of 202 original paintings — all exhibited on outdoor clotheslines — were sold this year, in addition to handicrafts ranging from hand-thrown pottery to mountain cider.

Southern artists and craftsmen participate in the show by invitation only.

Asks Voting Machines

CINCINNATI (AP)—City Manager C. A. Harrell has asked City Council to bring in voting machines. The Hamilton County election board plans to file a test suit in common pleas court if machines are adopted, seeking to insure the move is legally correct. Ballots in the last Council election took more than 24 hours to count.

Yule Parties Set At Lisbon School

LISBON — Miss Della Wetzel, principal, advised the McKinley Parent-Teacher Association Monday night Christmas parties for the pupils will be held in the rooms with gift exchanges the afternoon of Dec. 22. The PTA will provide each room with a tree.

Mrs. Glen Ward, vice president, presided.

The group was thanked for promoting the school bond issue at the Nov. 7 election and a report was given on the recent book fair sponsored by McKinley and Lincoln schools at the latter.

Cornell P. Monday, school psychologist, spoke on "What is Intelligence?" and a question-and-answer period followed.

A social hour was enjoyed with coffee and cookies provided by the kindergarten room mothers who also were in charge of the Junior PTA meeting. Room mothers were assisted by a Girl Scout Troop.

There will be no meeting in December. The January meeting date will be announced.

Faces Extradition

CHICAGO (AP) — A fugitive from a prison honor farm near Lgoan, Ohio, has been turned over to Chicago police for extradition to Ohio. He is Bernard K. Gillespie, 33, who escaped a year ago.

Most recipes for hot spiced cider call for the addition of sugar, but your family may find this beverage sweet enough as is and you can omit the sugar. A cinnamon stick and a few whole cloves are usually added for the spicing.

3 Motorists Forfeit In Wellsville Court

Three motorists forfeited appearance bonds totaling $45 Tuesday before Mayor William J. Shoub of Wellsville for hearings on traffic violations.

Frank F Moore, 330 Main St., Wellsville, forfeited $10 for crashing a traffic light at Routes 7 and 45. He was cited Sunday by the State Highway Patrol.

George W. Elliott, 2001 Clark Ave., forfeited $15 and Bernard Fox of Shreveport, La., forfeited $20, both for speeding. Elliott was arrested Sunday and Fox was cited Saturday, both by the patrol.

Rings Prove Popular; Make Gifts For Men

Rings are the oldest forms of jewelry. For many centuries rings were used to denote the station and rank of the wearer.

This year, you can show your favorite guy just how he rates with you — just give him a ring this Christmas.

Rings have returned to fashion favor, reports the Jewelry Industry Council, and points out that there's a wide, wide variety from which to choose.

Your choice may be an insignia ring of his favorite business, fraternal or scholastic organization; a signet ring or ring bearing his initials in open letters or engraving; a birthstone, carved hematie, onyx, tar sapphire or ruby — or a diamond — all in rugged stylized settings.

Whichever you choose, your gift of a ring will surely be worn with pride this Christmas and in the many years to come.

Man Nearly Buried In Collapse Of Ditch

ROCHESTER — W. Paul McAnlis, 35, of 305 Valley View Dr., Rochester Township, was treated for abrasions of his right knee after he was buried in a ditch Tuesday evening at 6:45 except for his head and hands.

According to township police, McAnlis was putting in a sewer line to the street in front of his home when the dirt piled above fell on him. He managed to get his head and hands free.

Witnesses called firemen who used a ladder and shovels to free him. He was released in about an hour.

Harry Hulton reported that the toy program is progressing and members are working nightly. The toys are to be distributed to needy children at Christmas.

Anyone wishing to donate toys may contact the post home at MI. 3-7984. Leonard Castellano and John Waddingham are co-chairmen.

George Huha, commander, presided and reported on Veteran's Days observances and thanked members for participating. It was reported that the post's membership drive has started and about 75 have paid new dues. William Riddle is membership chairman.

Next meeting is Dec. 4.

Lone Passing Grade Given In Police Exam

Only one man in a field of four received a passing grade in an exam given Tuesday night at City Hall by the Municipal Civil Service Commission to make up an eligibility list for police department posts.

He is Paul Blevins, 1618 Cleveland Ave. His name will be added to a previous eligibility list.

The commission is scheduled to certify a three-man list soon to Safety-Service Director Robert Owen to fill the patrolman's post left vacant recently when Officer William E. McDaniel was promoted to lieutenant.

Omar Harmon Given 'Farmer Of Year' Award

Omar Harmon, manager of the 117-acre Hancock County Children's Home farm at Pughtown, was presented the "Conservation Farmer of the Year" award by the Weirton Kiwanis Club at a meeting Tuesday night in Weirton.

Harmon received a gold plaque from Charles Brenneman, president.

The award is the second for the Children's Home Farm on Gas Valley Rd. It was named the "Farm of the Year" several months ago by the Northern Panhandle Soil Conservation District, which gave Harmon a $25 Savings Bond.

The Children's Home farm in Clay and Grant District's was purchased from the C. A. Smith heirs in 1954 for $20,000.

The tract was originally claimed by the Pugh family about 1800. The brick home was built by David Pugh in 1852. A son, Peter Pugh, built the first silo in Hancock County in the corner of the barn. The farm later later became known for its fine Guernseys.

According to Oliver Johnson, county agricultural agent, the farm was owned for years by J. S. D. Mercer, sheriff of the county, before it was purchased from the Smith heirs in the late 1930's.

"The county acquired one of the most productive farms with a history of good management when it bought the Pugh tract," Johnson said.

"They were also fortunate in employing Harmon as farm manager. In his seven years as manager, with the good co-operation of County Court and the Children's Home Board of Directors, the farm has continued to improve," he added.

The farm is operated not necessarily for profit, but to provide milk, butter, eggs, meat and vegetables for the 24 youngsters lodged in the home, John saod.

"But perhaps more than this, it makes a wonderful environment for the children. The boys have certain farm chores to do during the winter months and they help with the field work during the summer," the agricultural agent pointed out.

The county farm has a plan with the Panhandle Soil Conservation District. The cropland is limed according to soil test recommendations, and strip cropped on the contours. All pastures are mowed as needed, and four acres have been limed and fertilized. Twenty acres of corn, oats and barley were grown this year to feed the livestock.

All kinds of vegetables from radishes to turnips are grown. A small orchard has been planted to provide fruit in season. Cows provide milk, butter and cream for the home. Normally, four beeves and eight hogs are butchered and there is a flock of over 100 laying hens.

Five diversion ditches have been installed in the wet areas of the farm, with 1,650 feet of drain tile laid.

The four-acre tract of trees planted on the hillside above the home has made an excellent showing, Johnson said. Some of the scotch pine planted set cones in their third season.

Harmon, a native of Westmoreland County (Pa.) was an employe of C. A. Smith Farms for five years before assuming his post as manager. The farm manager and his wife, Evelyn, have four children, Arthur, Beverly, Betsy and Phillip.

A metal spatula that's a couple of inches wide is convenient to use in turning bacon that's being cooked in a skillet.

Most Men Enjoy Gifts Of Jewelry

Jewelry accessories for men make very special gifts, the Jewelry Industry Council reminds Christmas shoppers.

Many men hesitate to buy for themselves those tie clips, cuff links, chains and watches that add so much to their appearance.

As vests return to fashion, the pocket watch with all its handsome trappings of pocket chains and knives suggests the ideal fashion gift.

The stylish Continental trend, calling attention to the new ties and shirts, is beautifully accessorized with gold tie clips or tie tacks in unusual designs, often sporting real or facsimile stones and matched to elegant stone-set cuff links.

The handsome traditional look of natural - shoulder fashions suggests some special jewelry accessories in the same fashion mood. Neat, tiny gold tie tacks or tacks set with a single cultured pearl are traditional companions to knit and foulard ties.

Fine slim jeweled - lever watches, often paired to alligator or other leather bands, are also favorites.

Leather Novelties Suit Most Masculine Tastes

To many a woman with a long male gift list, Christmas is coming fast, but the ideas aren't.

All the guys seem to have all the ties, socks, sweaters and mufflers they need.

Here, however, is a run down of personal leather articles, desk and den accessories and other small leather goods that most men like. They're easy to shop for, since there's no size involved, and they have a traditional masculine appeal of leather.

In the cash-carrying category, most men can use a new billfold or wallet. Handsome new variations on the slim beast-pocket wallet or the compact billfold are available in pigskin, grained or smooth cowhide, alligator and lizard. These are often lined with brightly colored patterned silks.

For his credit cards and other identification cards, select a separate card case with transparent acetate "windows." Idea: match it in the same leather as his wallet, and complete the set with a slim leather key case, complete with pocket for driver's license and registration.

For home or office desk, a complete matched leather accessories set is a gift that will add warmth and an important look to his work area.

Practical, prestige-giving accessories include a large blotter-holder, cigarette box, cigar and calendar stand, tobacco humidor and pipe rack, lighter and ash tray, pen and calendar stand, pencil mug, date book or waste basket.

A leather cigarette box with a compartment to hold a transistor radio is new. The radio can be taken out and carried in a leather over-the-shoulder case.

All these come in rich smooth leathers in deep antiqued green, maroon, red, indigo, brown, tan or black.

For the lady executive on your list, the same articles come in white and a wide range of feminine pastel colors.

For the traveling salesman or other motorist, a car rest covered in smooth or ostrich-grained leather is handier and handsomer than a glove compartment. It rests on the seat and acts as an arm rest and seat divider. The top opens up on a roomy compartment that holds most small driving necessities.

For play and pastimes — the number of leather gifts ideas reflect the increasing amount of leisure time in today's life.

2 City Men Elected

Firestone Again Heads Scout Unit

Howard Firestone of Salem was re-elected president of the Columbiana County Boy Scout Council at its annual business meeting Tuesday evening at the American Legion Post 275 home in Lisbon.

Emory Miller of Salem and John C. Thompson of East Liverpool were elected vice presidents.

James A. Reaney of East Liverpool, council treasurer, and Calvin Filler of Salem, commissioner, were re-elected and Firestone, Thompson and A. P. Schmauch of Salem were elected national council representatives.

APPROXIMATELY 50 attended the meeting. Elected members of the Executive Board were:

James W. Batey, Ralph W. Betts, Eugene Hall, William A. Harris, Francis H. Lang, William E. Porter, Joseph W. Prager, Alwyn C. Purinton Jr., James Reaney, Thomas C. Snow and John Thompson of East Liverpool.

George Bowman, Firestone, Calvin Filler, Gail Herron, Kenneth Hutson, William Readshaw, George Rogers, A. P. Schmauch, Arthur V. Smith, Ronald Smith, Thomas Starkey and James H. Wilson of Salem.

Delmore W. Bailey, Russell J. Barrow, Grant Culp, Robert Maurer, Robert Patchen, Robert B. Powers, Ray Spiker and Allan T. White of Columbiana; William Bush, James Laughlin and Hugh Nile of Wellsville; Leland Firestone and O. Dail Mason of Lisbon; Harold Brittain, Kenneth Herriott and C. Emory Miller of East Palestine; John M. Pinney and Alton C. West of Chester; Joseph M. Wells Jr. of Newell; Eldon Holt of Leetonia and Norman Wilhelm of New Waterford.

—:—

THREE NEW sections were added to the constitution and by-laws, requiring that the annual meeting be held between May 1 and June 30, setting the council year July 1-June 30, and requiring a majority vote of those present when electing to the executive board.

INTO HER Christmas stocking put this bright-hued stocking cap with its gay trim. She'll love the warm comfort and smart looks of this cozy Verel pile cuddle cap for all winter activities.

Thus, this was the last November meeting.

Firestone presided and the treasurer's report was given by Reany and commissioner's report by Filler.

The treasurer's report showed the council paid off all indebtedness, including $4,000 in notes.

The commissioner's report showed that more boys are earning the Eagle rank and unit committees are becoming more responsible for counseling and obtaining merit badge counselors. Roundtables are meeting regularly and are very successful, he said.

CAMPING and activities report was given by Readshaw, showing 374 boys plus leaders attended Camp Twin Spruce, 48 boys attended the long - term camp, 425 were at the two Polar Bear camps and 674 attended district camporees. Ten boys and leader attended the Philmont Scout Ranch in New Meyers.

Improvements at Twin Spruce include new septic system, new visitors latrine, tent platforms at four sites, areas cleared to make better camp sites, waterfront repairs and washracks repaired at all sites.

Improvements at Camp McKinley showed new roof installed on Riddle Lodge, and old cabin torn down and general renovation inside the Stone House.

Canvas cabins were moved and lowered, another cabin completely renovated, all cabins painted inside and new outdoor fireplace erected.

THE ADVANCEMENT report given by Ray Spiker, with 1960 in parenthesis, showed cub rank advancement, 651 (754); arrow points, 1,056 (1,174); scout rank advancement, 463 (452); merit badges, 1,388 (1,528); Eagles, 20 (19), and Explorers, 427 (44).

Bennett Taylor reported on organization and extension and Thomas Starkey of Salem and E. L. Snow of East Liverpool reported on progress in the Shawnee and Cherokee Districts, respectively.

Taylor also gave the scout executive's report for the year.

Area Postmasters Advise On Mailing Of Yule Parcels

Three rules on mailing gifts for Christmas were listed today by Postmasters Sam Brown of East Liverpool, Robert Edwards of Chester, and Elmer Evans of Wellsville.

The post offices plan to expand facilities and provide extra help during the holiday rush, but in the final analysis, delivery will depend on co-operation of those sending through the mails, they said.

The postmasters urged that gifts be wrapped securely, that they are addressed clearly and correctly and all gifts and cards be mailed early.

Despite careful handling every year, too many packages break open in transit and too often postal workers have to puzzle over names and addresses which are incomplete or cannot be read at all, they said.

Anyone sending larger articles should check with authorities before attempting to mail them because there are limits on sizes and weight of packages. Placing of return addresses inside the cartons or packages is urged to prevent loss.

Christmas stickers or seals should be placed on the backs of cards and packages so they won't conflict with the address on the front.

When mailing gifts, it's a good idea to place a piece of transparent cellophane tape over the address portion of the label to prevent defacing it in transit. And always be sure, of course, to include the recipients full name, street address, city, zone and state.

Because the entire Christmas mailing period is primarily a battle against time, "Do it now" is the slogan from here on in. "Don't put off your Christmas mailings while you still have ample time because this means that dreaded pileups will occur at the Post Office, causing unavoidable slowdowns in deliveries as the holiday approaches," they appealed.

The postmasters ask the co-operation of all business firms to delay mailing circulars and catalogs until after Dec. 25, to keep the mails clear for the Christmas rush.

They said they appreciate the interest and co - operation shown by the mailing public so far, an reminded that all mail going long distances should be sent by Dec. 10. Christmas packages for local delivery should be mailed not later than Dec 15 and be sure to mail your Christmas cards for nearby destinations at least a week before Christmas.

Replica Of Revere's Teapot Bequeathed

BOSTON (AP) — Nobody knows what happened to Paul Revere's teapot — the one he was holding when artist John Singleton Copley painted his portrait.

But the Boston Museum of Fine Arts now has acquired a teapot closely resembling it made by the silversmith - patriot long ago. It was bequeathed to the museum by a Massachusetts woman whose family owned the teapot nearly two centuries.

Museum director Perry Rathbone said this teapot "is not the teapot in the portrait," because its cover ornamentation is slightly different, but "it is closer to it than has ever come to light to date." The museum possesses the largest existing collection of Revere silver.

South Goes To Town, Sociologist Declares

CHATTANOOGA (AP)—The South is going to town, a North Carolina sociologist declares.

In a lecture, Dr. Rupert B. Vance, the university's Kenan professor of sociology, said the South is still the least urban of the nation's large regions, but it recently passed the half-way mark in rural-urban balance.

Now 51.6 per cent of its residents live in towns and cities.

Kindergarten Course Now Given By Mail

VICTORIA, B. C. (AP) — A correspondence course now is available for kidnergarten.

It's a kit, including four activity books, instructions to parents for handwork projects, coloring and preliminary exercises to prepare for learning to read and a calendar on which youngsters can chart the weather.

Art Plows, director of the elementary correspondence school of the British Columbia education department, said, "We are not in the business and we have not publicized the service, but beeween 80 and 100 kits were issued to people who inquired last year.

The kit originally was designed for children in remote areas whose older brothers and sisters were going to school by taking correspondence courses.

Druggist Finds New Use For Newspaper

CHECOTAH, Okla. (AP) — Druggist C. M. Dodgen uses his newspaper after he reads it.

But he doesn't do anything as commonplace as wrapping his garbage or shielding his head from storms.

He rolls the paper tightly, dips it in water and uses it as a damp wick to keep his tobacco case moisturized.

A SHIMMERING shower of crystals pearls and rhinestones — all are merged together in this dramatic necklace — the perfect gift for any woman.

Most Anglers Honest, Game Official Shows

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Most fishermen are honest when they tell game protectors they left their fishing licenses at home.

This is the conclusion reached by Eldon Sturgeon, a district law enforcement supervisor for the Ohio Division of Wildlife.

Sturgeon made a survey to learn just how many anglers actually did forget their licenses —and how many were concocting fish stories.

When fishermen made this excuse, game protectors in Sturgeon's southwestern Ohio district asked the offenders to mail in their licenses as proof.

During a three-month period, 122 anglers were given this break. Game protectors received licenses from 101 of them.

Three were never located. Eighteen were arrested and fined. And what could be more humiliating than a fisherman being caught by a Sturgeon.

Band Parents Set Christmas Event

Plans for the annual Christmas meeting were outlined when Newell Band Parents met Tuesday night in the American Legion home. Nineteen attended.

Mrs. Mae Hupp, president, will be chairman for the party Dec. 19 at 6 p. m. in the post home. Her committee includes Mrs. Jenny Raimond, Mrs. Beth Haddock, Mrs. Beth Ingram and Mrs. Sadye Nally.

Mrs. Nally will lead devotions. A $1 Christmas gift exchange is planned. "Alumni" members are invited.

Mrs. Hupp thanked members who had worked in the refreshment stand at Memorial Field during the football season.

She also reported new risers had arrived for the Wells High School Band. Mrs. Raimond led devotions.

Over-Anxious Hunter Hits Wrong Targets

WHEATLAND, Wyo. (AP) — An over - anxious big game hunter from Pennsylvania fired seven shots in quest of antelope and deer near a Wheatland ranch this fall.

Reaching his targets, the hunter found four dead and two wounded horses. The seventh shot and missed.

The hunter paid the farmer for the six horses.

Excuse For Whisky Doesn't Hold Water

MACON, Miss. (AP) — Caught with illegal whisky in his possession, Tommy Halbert had a ready excuse.

"I'm just carrying it to my wife," he pleaded. "She just can't drink that Macon water."

The judge was unimpressed. He fined Halbert $300.

Most Anglers Honest, Game Official Shows

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Most fishermen are honest when they tell game protectors they left their fishing licenses at home.

This is the conclusion reached by Eldon Sturgeon, a district law enforcement supervisor for the Ohio Division of Wildlife.

Sturgeon made a survey to learn just how many anglers actually did forget their licenses —and how many were concocting fish stories.

When fishermen made this excuse, game protectors in Sturgeon's southwestern Ohio district asked the offenders to mail in their licenses as proof.

During a three-month period, 122 anglers were given this break. Game protectors received licenses from 101 of them.

Three were never located. Eighteen were arrested and fined. And what could be more humiliating than a fisherman being caught by a Sturgeon.

Over-Anxious Hunter Hits Wrong Targets

WHEATLAND, Wyo. (AP) — An over - anxious big game hunter from Pennsylvania fired seven shots in quest of antelope and deer near a Wheatland ranch this fall.

Reaching his targets, the hunter found four dead and two wounded horses. The seventh shot and missed.

The hunter paid the farmer for the six horses.

Excuse For Whisky Doesn't Hold Water

MACON, Miss. (AP) — Caught with illegal whisky in his possession, Tommy Halbert had a ready excuse.

"I'm just carrying it to my wife," he pleaded. "She just can't drink that Macon water."

The judge was unimpressed. He fined Halbert $300.

Cheese Adds New Sparkle To Vegetables

To the imaginative cook, cheese is a food that can help change ordinary vegetables into dishes with new sparkle and taste appeal.

The many varieties of cheese such as blue, swiss, cheddar, cottage and others can be combined with vegetables to add flavor, variety and food value to meals.

Cheddar is one of the most popular cheeses to combine or shred on top of your favorite vegetable dish. For example a quick garnish of shredded cheddar cheese on hot cauliflower or cabbage will transform them from the usual into the unusual.

The next time you want to add sparkle to your vegetables serve vegetable medley casserole. To complete this menu serve: Grilled meat patties, shoestring potatoes, lettuce wedges, french dressing, bread, butter strawberry ice cream and milk.

2 cups cut green beans
2 cups celery crescents or slices
2 cups coarsely shredded cabbage
2 tomatoes, peeled and thickly sliced
¼ cup butter
¼ cup flour
2 cups milk
1 cup shredded Cheddar cheese (¼ pound)
Salt and pepper to taste
Additional shredded cheese

Cook beans until almost tender, then add celery and cabbage, and cook for 2 or 3 minutes, or until celery is heated through but still crisp. Drain thoroughly. Melt butter in a saucepan over low heat, blend in flour. Add milk stirring constantly. Cook until sauce is smooth and thickened.

Add 1 cup of cheese and stir over low heat until melted. Season with salt and pepper to taste, and gently fold cooked vegetables thru the mixture. Transfer to a buttered shallow baking dish and top with seasoned tomato slices. Sprinkle with additional cheese and place under broiler heat to melt cheese and soften tomato.

Or, bake in a 400 degree oven for 12 to 15 minutes, or until heated and beginning to brown. Serve at once. Makes 6 generous servings. Note: This combination should not overcook or stand since tender crispness of vegetables is part of its appeal.

Rodeo Series Now Planned For Television

Next year will see the advent of a sort of TV Western in modern dress.

An hour-long weekly series is being prepared for ABC-TV built around the fictional adventures of a young rodeo rider "in search of adventure and excitement beyond even that provided by his hazardous career."

That description comes from Ziv-United Artists, Inc., which has hired Leslie Stevens to write, produce and direct the project.

Stevens is the first movie producer to be signed by this studio to produce a TV series of his own creation. He has just completed a theatrical release, "The Land We Love," starring James Mason.

The ABC show, titled "Rodeo, U.S.A.," will be filmed entirely on location, somewhere in the West, Ziv-UA said. A star for the series is yet to be picked.

-:-

NBC-TV on Wednesday night, Dec. 20, will repeat its Project 20 production entitled "The Coming of Christ," first presented last Dec. 21.

Produced by NBC's Donald B. Hyatt with a still-pictures-in-action technique for which he has become noted, the program was hailed at the time as one of TV's finest accomplishments.

Hyatt's staff now has a sequal in production. Titled "He Is Risen," it is scheduled as an Easter presentation next April 18.

Late this month, a major record company will issue a long-playing record album, both in monaural and stereo, of the complete sound track of "The Coming of Christ."

IN AN ON-THE-AIR editorial last Friday, Robert F. Hurleigh, president of the Mutual Broadcasting System, expressed belief that America's thirst for news and its increased interest in nonfiction books is a direct outgrowth of anti-American propaganda activities.

Citing a Philadelphia Free Public Library survey showing a 100 per cent increase in book borrowings there during the 1951-60 decade, accompanied by a 90 per cent increase in adult borrowings of nonfiction books, Hurleigh said:

"Tyrants and Communist leaders who seek to end democracies and cast the world in their images should take a good hard look at this Philadelphia story."

The longest period in United States history when no amendments were made to the Constitution was during the 61 years from 1804 to 1865, when the Thirteenth Amendment outlawing slavery was passed.

Fire Prevention Talk Given For Cub Scout Pack

"Fire Prevention and Fire Extinguishment" was the subject of Lt. J. W. Graham, fire marshal at Crucible's Midland Works, in an address at a special meeting of Ohio Township Cub Scouts and leaders Saturday at Fairview School.

Using the Fire Triangle demonstrator unit, Lt. Graham discussed the basic chemistry of fire and the principles in extinguishing fires by cooling, smothering and starving.

Small test fires on the demonstration table were used to simulate home fires and the proper technique of extinguishing was explained.

Pointing out the prevalent tendency to overload home electrical circuits and creating a potential source of fire, Lt. Graham used the electrical overload panel demonstrator to emphasize the necessity for care in proper fusing in home electrical circuits to avoid fires.

Following a question-and-answer period, during which many and varied fire hazards and situations were discussed, the group was taken to an outdoor area adjacent to the school and given instruction in using various types of extinguishers.

County History Related For PTA

The early history of the Calcutta area and Columbiana County was outlined by Harold Barth, curator of the East Liverpool Historical Society's Museum, at a meeting of the Calcutta Parent-Teacher Association Monday night.

He described the influence of Indians, the British and French on the area, and related some of the life of the Scotch - Irish settlers. He was introduced by Mrs. Janet Cairns, program chairman.

The group approved an amendment, read by John Duffy, president, which provides that the vice president automatically become president annually.

Mrs. Grace Paul read letters from needy families. The attendance awards were won by classes of Mrs. Paul and Mrs. Helen Ward.

Refreshments were served 52 by the second grade mothers. A Christmas program will be presented at the meeting Dec. 18.

Physical Phase Seen In Split-Personality

CHATTANOOGA (AP) — A prominent psychiatrist - neurologist says victims of schizophrenia, or split - personality, may have physical as well as mental symptoms.

In fact, said Dr. Robert Heath of Tulane University, it is possible that the disease — once thought to be wholly a mental or nervous disorder — may be determined through an inborn error in metabolism.

He said a serum fraction from the blood of schizophrenics has been found to produce the same symptoms of personality change in normal human volunteers.

Dr. Heath is professor and chairman of the department of psychiatry and neurology at Tulane.

2 Classic Commands Roared On River Bank

PARIS, Tenn. (AP) — Two of warfare's most memorable commands were bellowed on the west bank of the Tennessee River near here 97 years ago.

"Halt!" roared Col. John Morton, chief of artillery for Gen. Nathan Bedford Forrest, reining in his charger. "Dismount and prepare, on foot, to fight gunboats!"

The Civil War hoss cavalry ruined 19 federal vessels before the strange shooting match ended. And the general got off his classic when he fired a cannon and saw his round fall short.

"A rickety shay," he yelled exuberantly. "I'll hit her next time. Elevate the breech of that gun lower."

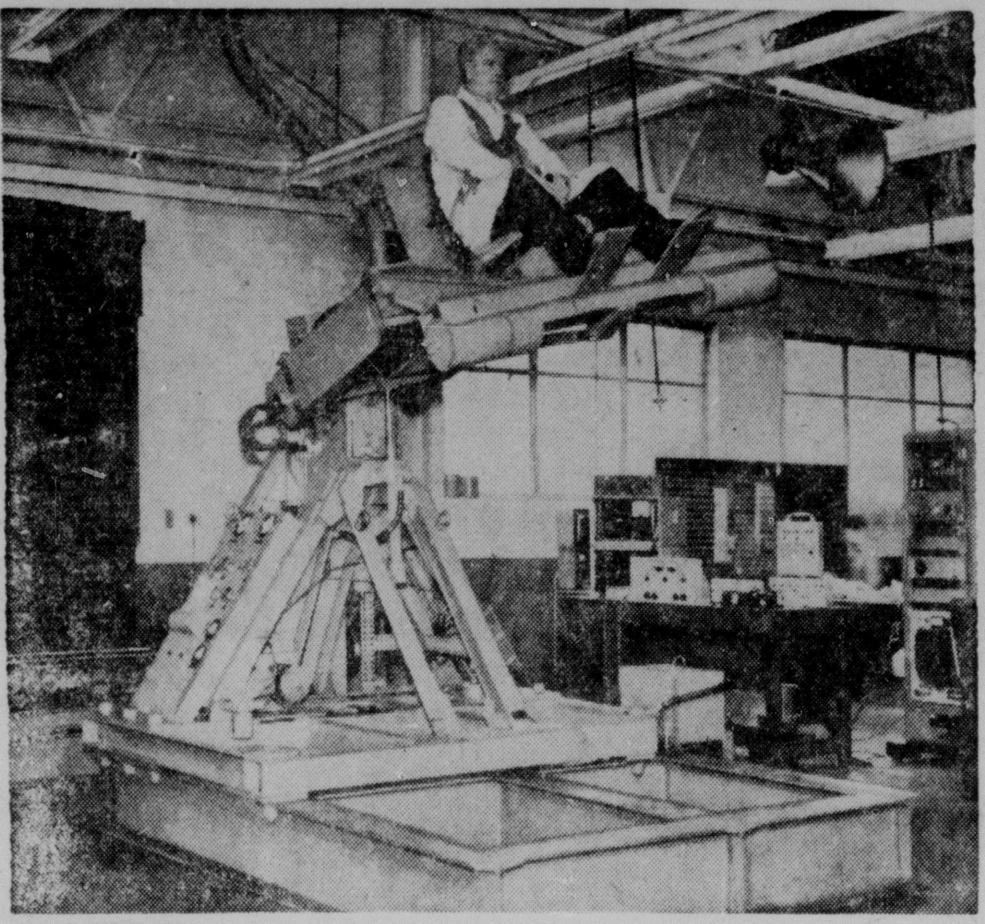
Burning Of Yule Log Began In Pagan Times

The old custom of burning the Yule log is a charming Christmas tradition that has largely passed from contemporary life, although it is still observed in many places.

Even though it is always thought of in connection with Christmas celebrations of years gone by, it actually dates far back into pagan times.

During what was then called the Mid-Winter Fire Festival, the log, generally one from an oak tree, would be ceremoniously lighted from a fragment saved from the year before.

When the new log sent out its brilliant flames, it was believed that the house and family would be safe from lightning and fires, that cattle and grain fields would thrive and that the earth would be fertile.



ROCK 'N' ROLL. A "rocking cockpit" is the nickname given to this flight simulator moving cockpit mechanism in Belfast, Northern Ireland. An analogue computer feeds any type of flying condition into it so the pilot, sitting on the arm-seat, can be tested in aircraft control during bad weather. The arm swings up and down and from side to side, but the Royal Aircraft machine can't do "The Twist" as a good rock 'n' roller can.

Professor Testing An Idea About Nature

STILLWATER, Okla. (AP) — A professor with a string of ponds is testing an idea that nature can take care of man-made wastes — then clean up her own backyard.

The professor, Dr. Troy C. Dorris of Oklahoma State University, explained his idea simply:

Wastes from factories, refineries, etc. are collected in ponds. Algae grow in the water, manufacturing oxygen for bacteria which eat the wastes.

When the wastes are gone, the bacteria turn on the algae. When the algae is gone the bacteria die. Result: relatively clean, waste-free water.

Dr. Dorris has one problem — will the algae produce enough oxygen for their own destruction? More research will tell.

Young Deer Makes Good Try For Safety

WINONA, Minn. (AP) — Three days before the Minnesota deer season opened, a yearling buck leaped a nine - foot fence to gain the safety of a city park enclosure where tame deer are kept.

No soap, though.

Game wardens dosed the buck with tranquilizers and turned him back to the wilds.

Back To Cave, Men, In Event Of A-War

KNOXVILLE, Tenn. (AP)—Should a nuclear war come, east and middle Tennesseans may find themselves back in man's earliest home —the cave.

The state division of geology has released a study of the more than 700 limestone caves lacing the area and Civil Defense experts have pointed out they make excellent fallout shelters.

The caves are good for this purpose because they meet two basic requirements — shelter and uncontaminated water — CD experts say.

Blind Man Leading Dealer In Animals

ROCHESTER, N. Y. (AP) — Dale Longston of Ft. Worth, Tex., is regarded as one of the top six animals dealers in the nation according to sources at a zoo association meeting here recently.

He started with $50 in cash and a mountain lion five years ago. Today, at 29, he has 1,500 animals.

Longston has been blind since he was 3 years old.

The first glass mirrors in history were manufactured in Venice about 600 years ago.

Gifts Of Smart Apparel Go Well

If you know milady's correct size and her favorite color — whether she favors the tailored types in apparel or dotes on frilly, feminine touches in her wardrobe — then it's comparatively simple to select her gift. Just give her something she can wear.

If you feel you are not going to be too personal then thrill her with lovely new lingerie.

There are so many new and elegant styles in slips, half slips, panties, peignoirs, pajamas, gowns and other intimate lovelies for the ladies. Your choice need be limited only by the amount you have decided to spend.

NEW AND particularly lovely are the matched lingerie or dreamtime ensembles in heavenly - hues or exciting new prints. More traditional colors are beautiful — enhanced with lavish lace, embroidery and applique trim.

A woman who seems to have everything usually can find room in her wardrobe for a gala-mood, glamour sweater.

Beautiful cover-ups for dramatic after - five wear are — fur-trimmed cashmeres or befurred orlon beauties; beautiful sweaters in fine yarns and handsome knits with glitter or beribboned trims.

There are new sweaters that are handsomely printed or painted; others with appliques; or simple but elegant slipons, cardigans or blouse-types to dramatize even her most formal frocks.

And, in the exciting topper department, there are a host of dramatic blouses — Vibrant or subtle in color — plain or print — tuck-in styled or overblouse — tailored as can be, or wedding - cake fussy.

She'll especially love your selection if you choose it in drip dry or any of the new fabrics that require the barest minimum of ironing and special attention. Yes, you can show her you care with "wash and wear."

IF THE GAL on your list has a busy social schedule that includes the theater and dinner parties, then here's a special tip. She will go for one of the little millinery fancies designed for festive occasions.

There are little hats, big in fashion importance, that sit spritely a-top feminine heads. Tiny pillboxes of plumage feathers, slips of beautiful bows clipped with jewels, and petite rings of furs, feathers and fabric fancies —show off in gay circles.

For the gals who concentrate on casual living, there are lots of separates that go together with informal doings.

Check out smart stretch pants, "kookie" tunic tops in gay colors, handsome bulky sweaters, whirl-of-pleat skirts, knee-length or ankle - length muu muus or relaxing lounging pajamas.

And on and on the list goes. This is the hinting season, so listen carefully, look around, and you'll surely find the right gift she'll try on for signs of pleasure.

Fire Prevention Talk Given For Cub Scout Pack

"Fire Prevention and Fire Extinguishment" was the subject of Lt. J. W. Graham, fire marshal at Crucible's Midland Works, in an address at a special meeting of Ohio Township Cub Scouts and leaders Saturday at Fairview School.

Using the Fire Triangle demonstrator unit, Lt. Graham discussed the basic chemistry of fire and the principles in extinguishing fires by cooling, smothering and starving.

Small test fires on the demonstration table were used to simulate home fires and the proper technique of extinguishing was explained.

Pointing out the prevalent tendency to overload home electrical circuits and creating a potential source of fire, Lt. Graham used the electrical overload panel demonstrator to emphasize the necessity for care in proper fusing in home electrical circuits to avoid fires.

Following a question-and-answer period, during which many and varied fire hazards and situations were discussed, the group was taken to an outdoor area adjacent to the school and given instruction in using various types of extinguishers.

County History Related For PTA

The early history of the Calcutta area and Columbiana County was outlined by Harold Barth, curator of the East Liverpool Historical Society's Museum, at a meeting of the Calcutta Parent-Teacher Association Monday night.

He described the influence of Indians, the British and French on the area, and related some of the life of the Scotch - Irish settlers. He was introduced by Mrs. Janet Cairns, program chairman.

The group approved an amendment, read by John Duffy, president, which provides that the vice president automatically become president annually.

Mrs. Grace Paul read letters from needy families. The attendance awards were won by classes of Mrs. Paul and Mrs. Helen Ward.

Refreshments were served 52 by the second grade mothers. A Christmas program will be presented at the meeting Dec. 18.

Physical Phase Seen In Split-Personality

CHATTANOOGA (AP) — A prominent psychiatrist - neurologist says victims of schizophrenia, or split - personality, may have physical as well as mental symptoms.

In fact, said Dr. Robert Heath of Tulane University, it is possible that the disease — once thought to be wholly a mental or nervous disorder — may be determined through an inborn error in metabolism.

He said a serum fraction from the blood of schizophrenics has been found to produce the same symptoms of personality change in normal human volunteers.

Dr. Heath is professor and chairman of the department of psychiatry and neurology at Tulane.

2 Classic Commands Roared On River Bank

PARIS, Tenn. (AP) — Two of warfare's most memorable commands were bellowed on the west bank of the Tennessee River near here 97 years ago.

"Halt!" roared Col. John Morton, chief of artillery for Gen. Nathan Bedford Forrest, reining in his charger. "Dismount and prepare, on foot, to fight gunboats!"

The Civil War hoss cavalry ruined 19 federal vessels before the strange shooting match ended. And the general got off his classic when he fired a cannon and saw his round fall short.

"A rickety shay," he yelled exuberantly. "I'll hit her next time. Elevate the breech of that gun lower."

MEMORIAL. Marines move into action after leaving a helicopter in this scene, created by etched glass windows in the Memorial Chapel at Quantico, Va. Scenes from Marine Corps history, now being installed, will be integrated with religious motifs expressed in words and symbols. Windows were dedicated on Marine Corps' 186th anniversary.

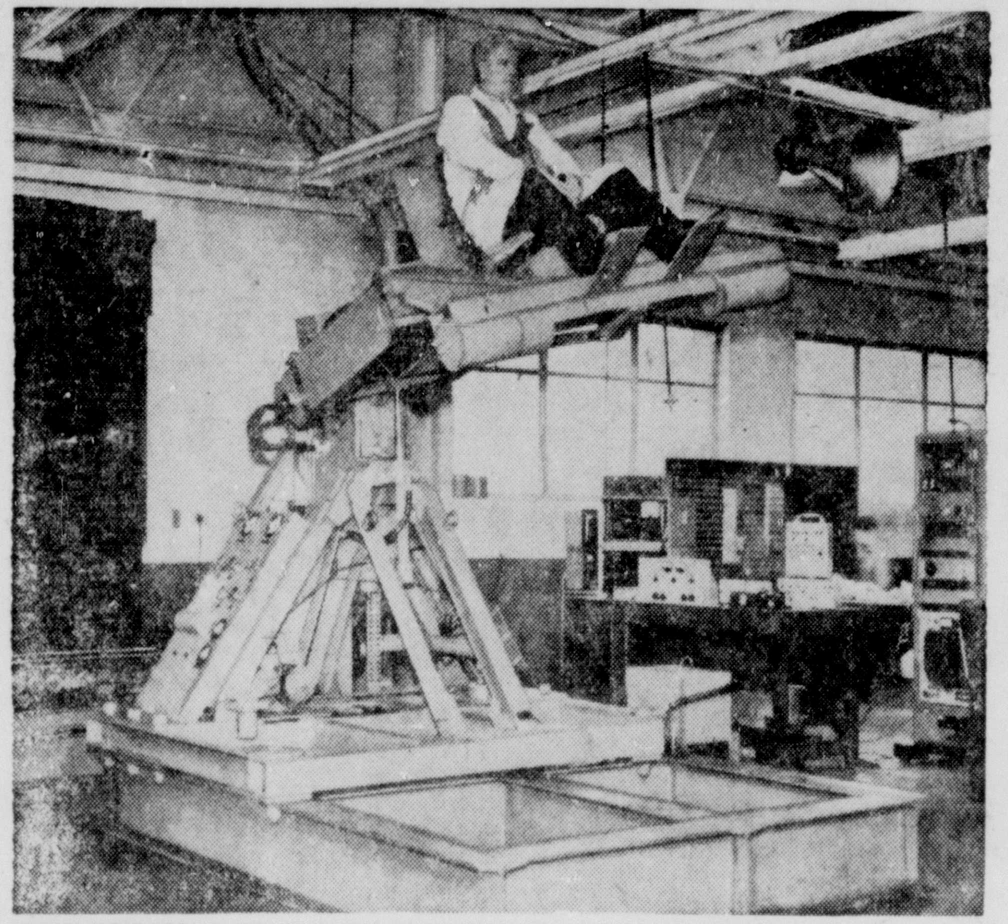
Burning Of Yule Log Began In Pagan Times

The old custom of burning the Yule log is a charming Christmas tradition that has largely passed from contemporary life, although it is still observed in many places.

Even though it is always thought of in connection with Christmas celebrations of years gone by, it actually dates far back into pagan times.

During what was then called the Mid-Winter Fire Festival, the log, generally one from an oak tree, would be ceremoniously lighted from a fragment saved from the year before.

When the new log sent out its brilliant flames, it was believed that the house and family would be safe from lightning and fires, that cattle and grain fields would thrive and that the earth would be fertile.



ROCK 'N' ROLL. A "rocking cockpit" is the nickname given to this flight simulator moving cockpit mechanism in Belfast, Northern Ireland. An analogue computer feeds any type of flying condition into it so the pilot, sitting on the arm-seat, can be tested in aircraft control during bad weather. The arm swings up and down and from side to side, but the Royal Aircraft machine can't do "The Twist" as a good rock 'n' roller can.

Back To Cave, Men, In Event Of A-War

KNOXVILLE, Tenn. (AP)—Should a nuclear war come, east and middle Tennesseans may find themselves back in man's earliest home —the cave.

The state division of geology has released a study of the more than 700 limestone caves lacing the area and Civil Defense experts have pointed out they make excellent fallout shelters.

The caves are good for this purpose because they meet two basic requirements — shelter and uncontaminated water — CD experts say.

Blind Man Leading Dealer In Animals

ROCHESTER, N. Y. (AP) — Dale Longston of Ft. Worth, Tex., is regarded as one of the top six animals dealers in the nation according to sources at a zoo association meeting here recently.

He started with $50 in cash and a mountain lion five years ago. Today, at 29, he has 1,500 animals.

Longston has been blind since he was 3 years old.

The first glass mirrors in history were manufactured in Venice about 600 years ago.

Professor Testing An Idea About Nature

STILLWATER, Okla. (AP) — A professor with a string of ponds is testing an idea that nature can take care of man-made wastes — then clean up her own backyard.

The professor, Dr. Troy C. Dorris of Oklahoma State University, explained his idea simply:

Wastes from factories, refineries, etc. are collected in ponds. Algae grow in the water, manufacturing oxygen for bacteria which eat the wastes.

When the wastes are gone, the bacteria turn on the algae. When the algae is gone the bacteria die. Result: relatively clean, waste-free water.

Dr. Dorris has one problem — will the algae produce enough oxygen for their own destruction? More research will tell.

Young Deer Makes Good Try For Safety

WINONA, Minn. (AP) — Three days before the Minnesota deer season opened, a yearling buck leaped a nine - foot fence to gain the safety of a city park enclosure where tame deer are kept.

No soap, though.

Game wardens dosed the buck with tranquilizers and turned him back to the wilds.

You Can Survive Atomic Attack

How To Do Cleanup Job After War

By PROF. WILLARD F. LIBBY

After a nuclear war, a first job would be to decontaminate homes, yards, streets, offices, and factories from lingering fallout radiation.

In cities and towns, that would call for the cleanliness of the fabled Dutch housewife.

Two weeks after fallout comes down, it is only one tenth of one per cent as intense. Most of the radiation has been emitted. But long-lasting atoms remain, particularly strontium-90 and cesium-137, with an average liftime of 40 years.

Fourteenth In A Series

THOUGH relatively feeble, this radiation could amount to a damaging cumulative dose over the years if you lived closely with it in areas which had been heavily dusted with fallout. You must get rid of it, from rooftops, from window ledges, from tree leaves, from grass, pavements, buildings, wherever it has collected.

It can be washed off your house, or any building, or trees, with a hose. Even if your water supply has been contaminated with enough fallout to be unsuitable for drinking, it can still be used for this washing job.

Cutting grass closely and carefully, and removing the cuttings to a safe distance can help clear up lawns. But you may have to scrape away the top quarter-inch or so of lawns and soil, and put that dirt carefully to one side.

Areas within 200 yards of homes should be cleaned of lingering fallout. If the dust has entered your house, as through a broken window, it must be swept out, or vacuumed up, and the vacuum bag discarded along with its contents. Automobiles, tools, anything that has been dusted needs thorough cleaning, preferably by water which empties into sewers or drains.

—:—

IN DOING all this, you need a geiger counter to tell if your grounds or streets have residual amount of residual fallout. The geiger counter clicks as it measures the fallout.

Food is safe to eat if it's been canned, packaged, or wrapped. Radiation going through it doesn't harm it, or make it radioactive.

Vegetables can be washed carefully, or outer exposed portions thrown away. Food stocks in grocery stores, and warehouses, or special storage areas, should be safe.

Water from contaminated reservoirs can be purified, by normal filtering, but probably will need repeated purifications, and careful testing to be certain that fallout particles are removed. In an emergency, you can evaporate or distill that water — pure water will be collected, with fallout particles remaining behind.

Merely boiling water is useless — fallout particles are not germs that can be killed by heat.

Removing fallout strontium-90 from farmlands, the source of future food, is a much more serious and difficult problem.

But statements that all survivors would starve because the land would be poisoned are great exaggerations.

ANYWHERE from 10 to 50 per cent of farmland, in various areas, might be dusted. Some would have sufficient amounts of strontium 90 to be a considerable hazard.

On some fields, fallout atoms could be removed by taking off the crops, mulches, and other types of ground cover, and burning them or depositing the ashes and sod at safe distances.

In other areas, the residual fallout could be removed by scraping off the top inch of bare soil.

Some of the most heavily dusted areas might have to be abandoned, for a time, or used carefully in special ways.

Milk cows should not be permitted to graze on lands heavily contaminated with strontium, because strontium enters their milk, and strontium tends to concentrate, like calcium, in bone.

At certain levels, still not clearly determined, strontium could cause bone cancers and lukemia presumably in many children if they received too much.

But the strontium - contaminated land could be used to grow corn, or hay, which then could be fed to cows and pigs to produce beef and pork or it could be used for grazing beef cattle.

The strontium - contaminated grazing lands could be used in this indirect way to produce safe meat — but not milk, and not vegetables for human consumption.

Recording Sites Of Explorations Outlined At Club

Harry R. Cline gave a talk on "Methods of Site Recording" at a meeting of the Aborginal Explorers Club Monday night at the home of Ray Simoni of Smiths Ferry.

The first step in accurately locating a site is to mark it on a quadrangle map. It should be done by noting its distance and direction from permanent surrounding features. A description should follow, including the county, district and if available, the land owner, he said.

The map also should contain a description of the site itself, whether a rock shelter, village or camp and what has been found.

Site reports usually are very lengthy. The club is preparing several reports on sites it excavated during the past summer. Many of the excavations were "salvage" operations in which the Indian relics were gathered in haste as they were in construction areas and in danger of being destroyed.

Simoni displayed several muzzle - loading rifles he has built. Richard S. Thompson, secretary, presided. He displayed six Indian baskets from the Modoc-Klamath Indians of Sprague River in Oregon.

Harry M. Cline told members of his trips to antique shops in search of old firearms to be restored. Jim Monte and Jim Woodrow reported on improvements made to their Indian displays. Dick Johnson was a guest.

Next meeting is Dec. 4 at 7 p.m. with Woodrow of Wellsville R. D. 1.

WATER BOYS. Enrique, 6 (left), and Walter, 8, are two brothers who are already earning money as water-bearers in the Barriadas slums of Lima, Peru. Water is brought into the area from the city in large tanks and sold.

Recording Sites Of Explorations Outlined At Club

Harry R. Cline gave a talk on "Methods of Site Recording" at a meeting of the Aborginal Explorers Club Monday night at the home of Ray Simoni of Smiths Ferry.

The first step in accurately locating a site is to mark it on a quadrangle map. It should be done by noting its distance and direction from permanent surrounding features. A description should follow, including the county, district and if available, the land owner, he said.

The map also should contain a description of the site itself, whether a rock shelter, village or camp and what has been found.

Site reports usually are very lengthy. The club is preparing several reports on sites it excavated during the past summer. Many of the excavations were "salvage" operations in which the Indian relics were gathered in haste as they were in construction areas and in danger of being destroyed.

Simoni displayed several muzzle - loading rifles he has built.

Richard S. Thompson, secretary, presided. He displayed six Indian baskets from the Modoc-Klamath Indians of Sprague River in Oregon.

Harry M. Cline told members of his trips to antique shops in search of old firearms to be restored. Jim Monte and Jim Woodrow reported on improvements made to their Indian displays.

Dick Johnson was a guest.

Next meeting is Dec. 4 at 7 p.m. with Woodrow of Wellsville R. D. 1.

'Personal' Wrapping Will Give Extra Touch

This Christmas take a little extra time with your gift wrapping to come up with charming, unusual designs that will add greatly to the pleasure of all concerned.

There are so many ways to use wrapping paper, tape and ribbon that you're sure to run out of gifts — before you run out of ideas.

The children on your list will be delighted to find Santa Claus's smiling face on their presents.

For this jolly portrait, cut out Santa's features from heavy paper in appropriate colors and paste them onto a rectangular box. If you prefer, you can use self-adhesive paper. It comes in all colors and can be cut to resemble any form you like and attached to the top of your paper. Popular motifs for such cutouts are little angels or animals.

If you're not talented in the drawing department, simply trace your cutouts from magazine or books.

Everyone knows that wrapping a bottle is just about one of the most difficult coverup chores at Christmastime.

A clever way to handle this problem is by turning your gift into a clown with bright, gummed-back paper.

Draw the clown's face on the neck of the bottle and tie it with a big bow. Make paper into a cone shape for the clown's hat, finishing it off with ball fringe. The fringe also can serve as his nose and for the buttons on his "suit".

In every group of presents, there's always at least one item of such an irregular shape that it's impossible to wrap it neatly.

For these problem gifts, try making a paper sack from bright red paper, using a plain grocery bag as your pattern. Apply a design cut out from leftover gift wrapping paper for colorful decoration.

A clever way to put leftover scraps of wrapping paper to good use is by cutting out words or designs and pasting them on shiny black wrapping paper. The result makes a striking package that is particularly appropriate for masculine gifts.

These are just a few ideas to get you started on your personalized gift wrapping.

You'll find that as you go along, other ideas will occur to you for making your gifts unusually colorful and interesting.

Legends Of Flowers Bloom Anew At Christmas Season

Of all the legends and stories that surround the Christmas festival, among the most beautiful are those concerning the flowers of Christmas.

The most popular floral decoration for the holiday season is the spectacular poinsettia.

It is said to have originated when a poor little girl wished to offer a gift to the Mother of Jesus and was heartbroken because she had nothing. So, she sadly plucked a few scrawny flowers to present to Mary, as the Mother of Jesus approached her. Suddenly those plain little flowers were transformed into the brilliant red bloom that we know was the poinsettia.

The Christmas rose is also surrounded with a similar legend.

In this instance, it was a shepherd maid who wept because she had no suitable gift to lay before the Babe in the manger. An angel appeared to her and upon hearing why the maid wept, touched the ground where her tears had fallen.

Immediately, beautiful white Christmas roses sprang up in their place and the joyful maid gathered them up to offer to the Babe.

The chrysanthemum is said to have appeared for the first time on Christmas Eve to the Three Wise Men, as they approached the manger. It was a sign that they had reached that which they had been seeking.

The snowdrop is associated with the Virgin Mary, because it is considered an emblem of the candles she lighted on that first Christmas.

Sainfoin, or "holy hay", as it is called, is said to have cradled the infant Jesus, as he lay in the manger.

Roadside Planting Good In All Respects

CINCINNATI (AP) — Slopes beside the city's expressways are being planted with rambling flowers, shrubs and trees which reduce roadside maintenance, curb erosion, muffle traffic noise and reduce headlight glare.

William Conrad, roadside development engineer, says the planting effort also is tied directly to the psychological makeup of motorists: "if you let a highway look frowsy, people throw all their litter on it. But if it looks like a park, they respect it."

WATCH ON THE RHINO. Though it's hard to tell the difference in color because both London Zoo inmates have been rolling in the mud, the rhinoceros at left is a black rhino from Northern Tanganyika while the horned creature at right is a rare white rhino from Southern Sudan.

Pretty Pendants Add Real Thrill To Giving

The pendant drop necklace highlights this season's jewelry fashions and makes one of the most popular Christmas gifts.

There are enormous pear-shaped pearl drops, dramatic jeweled drops or fine gold - tassel drops on the new necklaces.

Give a finished, well-planned look to her costume with a pair of matching drop earrings. The longer, more visible drop earring is right for the ear-covering hair styles and helps to balance the fuller bouffant cuts.

Looking for a very feminine, gay and sentimental Christmas gift? The Fashion Coordination Institute suggests the new, rigid bangle bracelet that carries a single big charm.

The newest bracelet fashion fills in the shortened sleeves on suits and dresses, and is the latest version of the traditional charm bracelet.

Gay Doorways Extend Greetings To Passerby

A most hospitable way to greet all callers at your home during the holiday season is to dramatize your door with Christmas motifs.

There are limitless ways to dress up your doorway so that friends and neighbors passing by will be greeted in the spirit of the season.

If your door is painted either red or white, one simple but effective way of creating an attractive display is to treat your door as though it were a huge Christmas present, gaily wrapped in ribbons and a big bow.

To achieve this effect, simply tack very wide ribbon across your door, both horizontally and vertically.

With another length of the same kind of ribbon, fashion a large bow. It can either be a very fancy cluster or a simple bow-knot. A few sprigs of holly will complete the Christmas package look.

A spray of evergreens, highlighted with Christmas decorations, also makes a charming motif for your door.

To do this, simply cut several well - shaped, small evergreen boughs and wire or tie them together. Fasten your decoration in front of the spray. You can use brightly - colored glass balls or pine cones for this purpose. Or you might use an ordinary walking cane, wrap it with red and white crepe paper to simulate a candy cane and place it diagonally across your evergreens. Finish off the whole thing with a big bow of red ribbon.

If you have several little boxes around the house, put them to good use as decorations for your front door. Wrap them up in colorful Christmas paper and ribbons, then tie them against a background of greens. They'll make a bright cheerful display to see.

At Christmas, most stores feature pine roping that can be used to trim the lintel and sides of your doorway. A large holly wreath on the door itself will add the final festive touch to this type of display.

Whether you utilize the decorations that you already have on hand to fashion your own distinctive design, or choose your display from the wide selection offered in your local shops, you can be sure that a gaily decorated front door is the cheeriest and friendliest way to say "Merry Christmas" to everyone passing by.

Cute-Packaged Beauty Aids Will Please Feminine Fancy

Don't forget those gifts of beauty for your Christmas belles.

Everything from single lipsticks to complete cosmetic sets come gaily packaged and ready to meet her requirements for only the prettiest and most practical this Yule season.

Lipsticks are hidden in gala Christmas bells or ride on diminutive sleighs accompanied by a bottle of nail polish in a matching shade.

Cosmetic kits take form within distinctive colored leather kits or as part of elegant overnight cases that also can accommodate a nighties, robe and slippers.

Manicure sets, with or without shining efficient cutlery, are packaged in regal leather kits or gay plaid containers.

While dusting powder pairs with cologne and even delicately scented soap joins the Yuletide spirit in packages adorned with happy symbols of the season.

Important are the scents — colognes and perfumes — that win a favored place beneath every girl's Christmas tree.

A brief description of the lady, her likes and dislikes is sufficient for any willing sales person to take over from there and insure a most successful gift.

Here's a different way to wrap your Christmas gifts this year. Instead of covering each package with one sheet of paper, try wrapping the lid and bottom of each box separately.

It's easy to do — just secure the paper to the inside of the lid and bottom, on all four sides, with transparent tape.

WEATHER PERFECT for the holiday season whirl is this water - repellent checked coat. In a smart single-breasted style with raglan sleeves and slash pockets, this all wool coat is warm and comfortable in any weather.

You Don't Have To Know Size To Pick Fitting Gift

Betty, Mary, Sally or Sue . . . Joan, Jean, Jane or Lou — whatever the names on your gift list may be — no matter what their age or size — there's a wonderland of exciting gifts for each of your leading ladies this Christmas.

Don't let sizes bewilder you. You can always make inquiries from friends and relatives to secure the proper information. Try to find out favorite colors, too.

If you can't get the facts, man, choose from a host of gifts where size and color are not important.

No gal — 16 or 60 — has too many pairs of hosiery. Here size problem is by-passed by the wonderful new sheer and semi-sheer collections of stretch-to-fit hosiery —in new and flattering shades.

—:—

LINGERIE, TOO, can be a simple gift to select since many petticoats, half slips, dusters, robes, gowns and baby-doll p.j.'s come in small, medium or large sizes.

Purse accessories — such as cigarette cases, wallets, cosmetic cases, key holders and organizer kits — come in a wide assortment of fine leathers, beautiful brocades or jewelers' metals.

Every woman loves the elegance of boudoir essentials—such as lovely tissue holders with matching hand mirrors, lotion dispensers and waste baskets.

There are lovely partioned boxes for dresser top or vanity, to hold jewelry — or sewing essentials — manicure needs and other personal notions.

Or, she may welcome see-through shoe and hat boxes that stack neatly and smartly on closet shelf or floor.

These handy storage items come in a variety of sizes and shapes to hold lingerie, sweaters, blouses or jewelry. You'll find them in clear plastics as well as in lovely colors.

TO HELP organize her wardrobe and give her closet a look of elegance, choose handsomely made garment bags, with matching shoe bags and hat boxes.

"Personal size" boudoir chests and shoe chests — chests for closet shelf or 'neath the bed — are also grand gifts for the apartment dweller or the woman who gives up her space for the youngsters in the family.

Some of the many other gifts where personal size is not paramount are jewel boxes and jewelry to put in them; compacts and powder cases; jeweler - designed lipstick holders; perfume bottles in fine crystal, or measured - spray atomizers . . . to name but a few.

Still stumped? Then, how about an elegant pair of gloves in smart stretch fabrics — or, a gaily - colored scarf in square or oblong shape — or, an exotic muu-muu that's all the better if it's a little bigger?

If the lady in your life is a sportswoman — then a piece of equipment or accessory for her favorite sport. There are many exciting addenda for the skier. . . from novelty headband or cap to a pair of the latest snow goggles. And, so on down the line for the golfer, fisherwoman, tennis enthusiast, bowler, etcetera, etcetera.

FOR GALS who travel — whether on business or pleasure — the gift list is endless: from a new fitted train case to handy packages of cold - water soaps, complexion care packets, dainty clothespins and lines and inflatable hangers.

And so the list grows and grows. It takes a bit of thinking and pre-planning to choose "fitting and proper" gifts for the gals you know — but it always helps where size is concerned — that the gift is "properly fitting" without a care or worry as to how tall or how thin or plump she may be.

Lovely Watch Is Always A 'Timely' Gift

A woman's passion for changing her mind or her fashions finds an exciting new outlet in watches this season and poses exciting gift ideas.

Watches are now designed to live a showcase life on milady's wrist. They complement her costume and whatever mood or occasion she dresses for. Today, most women need more than one watch to fill all their needs.

The active part of a woman's life calls for a sturdy, fine jeweled - lever watch that can take knocks and wear and come up ticking accurately.

The newest automatic, water-and-shock resistant watches fill this need, paired with bands that stand dish - pan dunking and hard wear.

For daytime wear, the newest precision jeweled - lever watches in free-flowing graceful forms are as attractive as they are practical.

For timely after - dark glamour, watches studded with diamonds or other stones accent any evening costume beautifully.

A watch wardrobe, in whole or in part, is perhaps the gift of all gifts that will combine beauty with function in many a woman's Christmas scheme of things.

Dispatchers Pinpoint Emergency Location

SPRINGFIELD, Ohio (AP) -- Inadvertently giving the wrong address in the confusion of reporting an emergency is being remedied by a single question from dispatchers here:

'What is your nearest cross street?"

Fire Division officials say the question not only makes the caller stop to consider exactly where he is, but also pinpoints the location in cases where several streets have similar names.

TO PLEASE LITTLE GIRLS. This doll stroller is made of vinyl in a star-burst pattern. It is authentically styled with ample room for a girl's favorite doll and all her accessories. It is collapsible for storage and traveling.

Sweaters Are 'Handsome', Easy To Keep New Looking

A perfect gift suggestion to meet the requirements of even the hard-to-please male on your Christmas list could be a "sporting look" jacket or sweater.

Handsome styles, many with convertible hoods, include hidden-zip cardigans, Scandinavian patterns and sculptured knits in solid colors.

You'll find jackets with lightweight Dacron linings or fleece-like linings and jaunty turtleneck knits. All are equally adaptable to the campus, city, home or the ski slope.

On the best-seller sweater list, along with nature's own fibers, comes a vast array of man-made yarns and fibers — many of them unfamiliar to the average shopper.

It's important to realize that these new synthetics not only provide warmth without weight but are completely washable. Even jackets with fluffy fleece-like linings will respond beautifully to modern automatic-washer laundering.

Here are some tips for easy care of sweaters from the Maytag Home Service Department: for light to moderate soil on sweaters, use cold water wash and rinse, regular agitation and a heavy - duty liquid detergent.

Use warm water wash - cold water rinse regular agitation and heavy duty (liquid or powder) detergent for heavily soiled sweaters. If you have a dryer, use the "wash and wear" setting.

Other ideas are two-tone gold tie bar and cuff links set, travel alarm, a fine ring or a religious medal with pin back.

Here Are Important Facts To Remember About Nylon

Quite a number of women will be giving — and getting — nylon hose for Christmas. Whether buying for yourself, or for others — here are some facts about nylons you may find important.

First — consider the weight and thickness of the yarn used in the stockings. This is called denier.

There are seven different deniers available — 12, 15, 20, 30, 40, 50 and 70. The higher the denier number, the heavier and stronger the thread. Thus, 30 denier is twice as heavy, twice as strong as 15 denier.

The lightest, finest nylon yarn used in stockings is 12-denier, not as strong as 15 denier, and much sheerer.

For a complete hosiery wardrobe, 12 deniers are the ultra-sheer; 15 denier through 30 denier — the business sheer; 40, 50 and 70 deniers — the heavier, service weights for longer, harder wear.

In full fashioned hosiery, gauge describes the fabric by closeness of stitches. A 60-gauge stocking indicates that there are 60 stitches to each 1½ inches of fabric around the stocking.

The higher the gauge number, the greater the number of stitches; consequently the stronger the fabric. For example, a stocking of 12 denier, 66 gauge, will be stronger than a 12 denier stocking of 60 gauge despite the fact the yarn is the same weight in both.

Seamless stockings, which have become increasingly fashion important in recent years, use the same deniers as full fashioned hosiery. However, seamless stockings are described by the number of needles on the knitting machines — such as 400 needle stockings.

Like the gauge: the higher the needle count, the stronger the fabric.

Sometimes seamless stockings are also described by gauge. Using 400 needles as an equivalent to 51 gauge, remember a lower needle count means a "coarser knit." A 432 needle count would be as closely knit as 54-gauge stockings, etc.

Remember too, that proper fit is very important. Equally important for longer wear are proper gartering, how carefully the stockings are put on, and how the hosiery is washed and dried.

Books Called Perfect Gifts For Children

When it comes to selecting children's gift books at Christmas, most grownups are confused as to what types of books to choose.

Modern children have been conditioned, mainly through television, to enjoy stories about Wyatt Earp, tales of outer space and hair-raising accounts of crime and horror — while adults recall their childhood reading of such tales as those about Dorothy from the Land of Oz, Rumpelstiltskin and Aladdin.

Now the publishers of the Looking Glass Library offer the answer — by reviving the children's favorites from long ago, as well as introducing modern stories of adventure, imagination and entertainment — in easily available, inexpensive editions.

Looking Glass Library was aware that along with technological developments and changes in reading habits the desire to enjoy good books does not change — no matter when written or what the subject.

In the final analysis, a good book is an important, wanted mainstay of living which starts in childhood and never really ends.

It is a gift that will not break, be outgrown or discarded. The world of literature, at its finest, is the gift that is appreciatively received and remembered by children of all ages.

GIFTS FOR USE AND PLEASURE come in fine leathers for masculine tastes. A jewel case, slim necktie case, a fitted travel case and an expandable toiletry kit—are but a few of the many diversified gifts available in handsome leather.

Plea Made For More Study Of Economics

WASHINGTON (AP) — A leading educator has entered a plea for more study of economics in high schools.

Dr. Galen Jones, director of the Council for Advancement of Secondary Education, says less than 600,000 of the more than 10 million high school youngsters in the United States receive as much as one semester of economics.

Broader study of economics, says Dr. Galen, is essential if young people are to understand the economy and learn to analyze, appraise and make decisions on economic matters.

You Don't Have To Know Size To Pick Fitting Gift

Betty, Mary, Sally or Sue . . . Joan, Jean, Jane or Lou — whatever the names on your gift list may be — no matter what their age or size — there's a wonderland of exciting gifts for each of your leading ladies this Christmas.

Don't let sizes bewilder you. You can always make inquiries from friends and relatives to secure the proper information. Try to find out favorite colors, too.

If you can't get the facts, man, choose from a host of gifts where size and color are not important.

No gal — 16 or 60 — has too many pairs of hosiery. Here size problem is by-passed by the wonderful new sheer and semi-sheer collections of stretch-to-fit hosiery —in new and flattering shades.

—:—

LINGERIE, TOO, can be a simple gift to select since many petticoats, half slips, dusters, robes, gowns and baby-doll p.j.'s come in small, medium or large sizes.

Purse accessories — such as cigarette cases, wallets, cosmetic cases, key holders and organizer kits — come in a wide assortment of fine leathers, beautiful brocades or jewelers' metals.

Every woman loves the elegance of boudoir essentials—such as lovely tissue holders with matching hand mirrors, lotion dispensers and waste baskets.

There are lovely partioned boxes for dresser top or vanity, to hold jewelry — or sewing essentials — manicure needs and other personal notions.

Or, she may welcome see-through shoe and hat boxes that stack neatly and smartly on closet shelf or floor.

These handy storage items come in a variety of sizes and shapes to hold lingerie, sweaters, blouses or jewelry. You'll find them in clear plastics as well as in lovely colors.

TO HELP organize her wardrobe and give her closet a look of elegance, choose handsomely made garment bags, with matching shoe bags and hat boxes.

"Personal size" boudoir chests and shoe chests — chests for closet shelf or 'neath the bed — are also grand gifts for the apartment dweller or the woman who gives up her space for the youngsters in the family.

Some of the many other gifts where personal size is not paramount are jewel boxes and jewelry to put in them; compacts and powder cases; jeweler - designed lipstick holders; perfume bottles in fine crystal, or measured - spray atomizers . . . to name but a few.

Still stumped? Then, how about an elegant pair of gloves in smart stretch fabrics — or, a gaily - colored scarf in square or oblong shape — or, an exotic muu-muu that's all the better if it's a little bigger?

If the lady in your life is a sportswoman — then a piece of equipment or accessory for her favorite sport. There are many exciting addenda for the skier. . . from novelty headband or cap to a pair of the latest snow goggles. And, so on down the line for the golfer, fisherwoman, tennis enthusiast, bowler, etcetera, etcetera.

FOR GALS who travel — whether on business or pleasure — the gift list is endless: from a new fitted train case to handy packages of cold - water soaps, complexion care packets, dainty clothespins and lines and inflatable hangers.

And so the list grows and grows. It takes a bit of thinking and pre-planning to choose "fitting and proper" gifts for the gals you know — but it always helps where size is concerned — that the gift is "properly fitting" without a care or worry as to how tall or how thin or plump she may be.

Industrial Prices Steady, May Check Living Costs

By SAM DAWSON
AP Business News Analyst

NEW YORK (AP)—Consumers are still plagued by the high cost of living. But one major contributor to rising prices in the past is absent just now. That is advancing industrial prices.

Such prices, in fact, are holding remarkably steady despite the recovery of industry from the last recession. In other postwar recoveries these prices have advanced sharply.

And because of this stability there is a growing hope that the general rise in the cost of living can be held in check this time. Adding to the prospect is an increasing belief that labor cost advances will be moderate in the next few months, perhaps about in line with offsetting increases in productivity.

Some industrial prices have weakened during the recovery—notably aluminum and other nonferrous metals. Steel prices haven't risen in spite of all the talk about it a few weeks ago when labor costs rose.

Prices of some building materials have dropped, with excess capacity or changing construction demands credited.

Many other industrial prices are holding in a narrow range close to recession levels.

Industrialists point to this to argue that any recent rises in consumer prices can be laid at other doors.

Services have been the most active risers in recent months. Some say this is a delayed reaction to earlier cost boosts at the manufacturing and labor levels.

In general the rise in prices during and since the recession has been traced largely to the added costs of distribution, processing and retailing. The cost of the basic materials have remained fairly steady.

Food is its own story. Its original price is influenced by weather and government supports. After that the processing and distributing costs are added. Often the store price seems far away from the farm price.

But this time at least such creeping advances in the cost of living as have shown up in recent months can't be traced to soaring industrial prices.

In the recovery from the 1949 recession the jump in industrial prices was 15 per cent. After the 1954 recession industrial prices rose by 10 per cent, and after the 1958 slump, 3 per cent.

Noting this diminishing percentage and the lack of any jump this time, the Federal Reserve Bank of Cleveland wonders if industrial prices haven't achieved a stability that could even withstand the impact of increasing defense and other government spending.

The price stability was noted well before the recovery period. One of the major disappointments—to consumers at least—was that the cost of living continued to edge higher through most of the recession months. Prices didn't fall just because industrial activity did.

The reason given was that industrial materials might be in less demand but the cost of producing goods and services depended more on other things—labor, convenience processing, transportation, distribution outlets.

But if industrial prices should take a sudden spurt, you'd be sure to feel it in time in your monthly bills. That they are stable now is one happy factor for consumers to note.

Santa Urges: Give Luggage

If you plan to give luggage this Christmas, remember that your choice should not only suit the recipient's needs but also his or her personality.

Luggage should be as personal as the clothes the carrier wears, remind Leather Industries of America counselors.

There are countless styles and types of leather bags on the market today simplifying gift selections.

The man or woman who travels by air frequently, often on one- and two-day trips — will appreciate a compact leather bag that can be carried on to the plane and then tucked underneath the seat.

These come in airline weight scuff - resistant leathers, with a minimum of metal framework, in styles for men or women.

These bags feature soft-leather sides to reduce weight and to look more luxurious.

Perennially - popular suntan shades, silver gray and browns are being shown as well as a wide variety of pastel tones color-cued for the ladies.

For veteran travelers who own luggage items in good condition look for special size pieces designed to do special jobs.

There are fitted overnight cases for both men and women — ideal for students away from home; fitted week-enders, some with outside toiletry selections, some with brief case compartments that hold reports and other papers separated from wearing apparel.

As the old adage goes: "don't give a gift to the person, give the person a gift" — especially when it comes to luggage.

CHILDREN'S LOUNGEWEAR goes high fashion with the new, flared tent silhouette, played up in bold blazer stripings on embossed flannelette.

Goldfish Bowl Plant Clogs TVA's Dams

NASHVILLE (AP) — It thrives in some people's goldfish bowls, and the Tennessee Valley Authority is out to get rid of it.

It is a pesky fern-like growth called water milfoil which has moved into TVA's vast network of dams and reservoirs. TVA officials say the plant is used in goldfish bowls, later poured down the drain and eventually winds up clogging the intake screens at hydro electric plants. The small weed is even blamed for increasing the mosquito population.

INTO THE DRINK. Wearing a full pressure suit with attached parachute and survival equipment, test pilot John Omvig dives into a pool in Dallas, Tex. He was demonstrating how quickly a pilot can get out of the gear and safely afloat moments after ditching his jet fighter.

HANDS UP. A statue of a standing Chinese Buddha bestows a silent blessing with raised hand as this bright-eyed youngster named Peter returns the salute. Located outside an antique shop in Falmouth, England, the blind Buddha gives its blessing to all who pass regardless of race, color or religion. Peter has found the ideal playmate.

Slippers Prove Welcome For Every One In Family

Come Christmas Eve, though stockings may be hung by the chimney with care, early Christmas morning will find everyone in the family with high hopes for gifts of new leather slippers to wear for the morning's festivities.

Once "bedroom" slippers were just that — slippers for the bedroom. Today, handsome new leather slippers in radiant colors with metallic or luster finish are all-important accessories to elegant lounge wear.

Glove-soft, smooth and grained leathers, and textured suedes sparkle in a wide range of reds, blues and greens to perk up a hostess gown, or set off brunch coats and fancy lounging pajamas.

Keep the family's foot comfort in mind when you play Santa this season, advises the Shoe Fashion Service of Leather Industries of America.

Gift selections will be no trouble at all as every name on your Christmas list can be matched to a modestly - priced leather slipper style just for him or her.

Women's slippers range from flat, tailored versions to pretty-feminine ones in different heel heights. Many have jeweled detailing for added attractiveness.

If you have a lady in the house who looks well in those form - fitting toreador loungers, she'll delight in the new leg-high glove-soft leather slippers that take their inspiration from doughboy puttees, and roll on above the ankle to meet pants cuffs at mid-calf.

In antique gold, silver - sheen, subdued greys and boned whites, many have jeweled designs that make these pretty puttees dramatic.

Teen - age girls understudy the lady of the house in leather slippers that have the Persian look.

Exotic blues and shades of red appear in smooth and grained leather slippers with upturned toes and vamps trimmed with beads and jewels. There's even a lighter interpretation of the Persian look for very young ladies who are fashion - conscious.

It's nice to have a debonair man around the house, and your own man can be a fashion plate in a pair of handsome smooth leather slippers that set off his Christmas smoking jacket.

Soft but masculine leather slippers in natural tan, deep brown or elegant red put at - home ease on a smart footing.

Industrial Prices Steady, May Check Living Costs

By SAM DAWSON
AP Business News Analyst

NEW YORK (AP)—Consumers are still plagued by the high cost of living. But one major contributor to rising prices in the past is absent just now. That is advancing industrial prices.

Such prices, in fact, are holding remarkably steady despite the recovery of industry from the last recession. In other postwar recoveries these prices have advanced sharply.

And because of this stability there is a growing hope that the general rise in the cost of living can be held in check this time. Adding to the prospect is an increasing belief that labor cost advances will be moderate in the next few months, perhaps about in line with offsetting increases in productivity.

Some industrial prices have weakened during the recovery—notably aluminum and other nonferrous metals. Steel prices haven't risen in spite of all the talk about it a few weeks ago when labor costs rose.

Prices of some building materials have dropped, with excess capacity or changing construction demands credited.

Many other industrial prices are holding in a narrow range close to recession levels.

Industrialists point to this to argue that any recent rises in consumer prices can be laid at other doors.

Services have been the most active risers in recent months. Some say this is a delayed reaction to earlier cost boosts at the manufacturing and labor levels.

In general the rise in prices during and since the recession has been traced largely to the added costs of distribution, processing and retailing. The cost of the basic materials have remained fairly steady.

Food is its own story. Its original price is influenced by weather and government supports. After that the processing and distributing costs are added. Often the store price seems far away from the farm price.

But this time at least such creeping advances in the cost of living as have shown up in recent months can't be traced to soaring industrial prices.

In the recovery from the 1949 recession the jump in industrial prices was 15 per cent. After the 1954 recession industrial prices rose by 10 per cent, and after the 1958 slump, 3 per cent.

Noting this diminishing percentage and the lack of any jump this time, the Federal Reserve Bank of Cleveland wonders if industrial prices haven't achieved a stability that could even withstand the impact of increasing defense and other government spending.

The price stability was noted well before the recovery period. One of the major disappointments—to consumers at least—was that the cost of living continued to edge higher through most of the recession months. Prices didn't fall just because industrial activity did.

The reason given was that industrial materials might be in less demand but the cost of producing goods and services depended more on other things—labor, convenience processing, transportation, distribution outlets.

But if industrial prices should take a sudden spurt, you'd be sure to feel it in time in your monthly bills. That they are stable now is one happy factor for consumers to note.

Santa Urges: Give Luggage

If you plan to give luggage this Christmas, remember that your choice should not only suit the recipient's needs but also his or her personality.

Luggage should be as personal as the clothes the carrier wears, remind Leather Industries of America counselors.

There are countless styles and types of leather bags on the market today simplifying gift selections.

The man or woman who travels by air frequently, often on one- and two-day trips — will appreciate a compact leather bag that can be carried on to the plane and then tucked underneath the seat.

These come in airline weight scuff - resistant leathers, with a minimum of metal framework, in styles for men or women.

These bags feature soft-leather sides to reduce weight and to look more luxurious.

Perennially - popular suntan shades, silver gray and browns are being shown as well as a wide variety of pastel tones color-cued for the ladies.

For veteran travelers who own luggage items in good condition look for special size pieces designed to do special jobs.

There are fitted overnight cases for both men and women — ideal for students away from home; fitted week-enders, some with outside toiletry selections, some with brief case compartments that hold reports and other papers separated from wearing apparel.

As the old adage goes: "don't give a gift to the person, give the person a gift" — especially when it comes to luggage.

CHILDREN'S LOUNGEWEAR goes high fashion with the new, flared tent silhouette, played up in bold blazer stripings on embossed flannelette.

Goldfish Bowl Plant Clogs TVA's Dams

NASHVILLE (AP) — It thrives in some people's goldfish bowls, and the Tennessee Valley Authority is out to get rid of it.

It is a pesky fern-like growth called water milfoil which has moved into TVA's vast network of dams and reservoirs. TVA officials say the plant is used in goldfish bowls, later poured down the drain and eventually winds up clogging the intake screens at hydro electric plants. The small weed is even blamed for increasing the mosquito population.

INTO THE DRINK. Wearing a full pressure suit with attached parachute and survival equipment, test pilot John Omvig dives into a pool in Dallas, Tex. He was demonstrating how quickly a pilot can get out of the gear and safely afloat moments after ditching his jet fighter.

HANDS UP. A statue of a standing Chinese Buddha bestows a silent blessing with raised hand as this bright-eyed youngster named Peter returns the salute. Located outside an antique shop in Falmouth, England, the blind Buddha gives its blessing to all who pass regardless of race, color or religion. Peter has found the ideal playmate.

$1 Million Stacked Up A Heavy Display

SEATTLE (AP) — Wonder what a million stacked dollars look like?

Northwest Historical Medals Inc., of Walla Walla, Wash., may show you at the Seattle World's Fair next year.

The biggest bugaboo may be the weight problem. The million would weigh about 63,000 pounds — heavy enough to collapse an ordinary floor.

License Application Puzzles Game Group

CHEYENNE, Wyo. (AP) — Wyoming game and fish diepartment employes were a little puzzled when they received an application for an antelope hunting license for the Shirley Basin area of central Wyoming.

The application was signed by a 22-year old Golden, Colo., man —named Shirley Basin.

President George Washington (1732-99) twice received every vote of the Electoral College.

Slippers Prove Welcome For Every One In Family

Come Christmas Eve, though stockings may be hung by the chimney with care, early Christmas morning will find everyone in the family with high hopes for gifts of new leather slippers to wear for the morning's festivities.

Once "bedroom" slippers were just that — slippers for the bedroom. Today, handsome new leather slippers in radiant colors with metallic or luster finish are all-important accessories to elegant lounge wear.

Glove-soft, smooth and grained leathers, and textured suedes sparkle in a wide range of reds, blues and greens to perk up a hostess gown, or set off brunch coats and fancy lounging pajamas.

Keep the family's foot comfort in mind when you play Santa this season, advises the Shoe Fashion Service of Leather Industries of America.

Gift selections will be no trouble at all as every name on your Christmas list can be matched to a modestly - priced leather slipper style just for him or her.

Women's slippers range from flat, tailored versions to pretty-feminine ones in different heel heights. Many have jeweled detailing for added attractiveness.

If you have a lady in the house who looks well in those form - fitting toreador loungers, she'll delight in the new leg-high glove-soft leather slippers that take their inspiration from doughboy puttees, and roll on above the ankle to meet pants cuffs at mid-calf.

In antique gold, silver - sheen, subdued greys and boned whites, many have jeweled designs that make these pretty puttees dramatic.

Teen - age girls understudy the lady of the house in leather slippers that have the Persian look.

Exotic blues and shades of red appear in smooth and grained leather slippers with upturned toes and vamps trimmed with beads and jewels. There's even a lighter interpretation of the Persian look for very young ladies who are fashion - conscious.

It's nice to have a debonair man around the house, and your own man can be a fashion plate in a pair of handsome smooth leather slippers that set off his Christmas smoking jacket.

Soft but masculine leather slippers in natural tan, deep brown or elegant red put at - home ease on a smart footing.

Child Should Learn To Honor All Faiths

Dr. Garry Meyers

Young children ask all sorts of questions about God and religion. We should answer these questions kindly, in accordance with our own convictions and beliefs. When we feel unable to answer, we might get help from our minister, priest or rabbi. It's important that we deal with all such questions seriously and always respect the feelings of the young person asking them. We should, by our example, teach the child to have great respect and reverence toward God and toward anybody praying to or worshipping God, no matter what that person's beliefs or ways of worship—whether he is a Mohammedan, Presbyterian, Roman Catholic or Jew, or a member of any other faith or religious sect.

—:—

IT SEEMS TO me we want to get over to our growing children that we believe in communing with God; that we sadden and dishonor God when we don't.

Why should we not feel glad to see and hear any one praying to God and worshipping Him? Why should anybody be so conceited and selfish as to suppose the way he prays to God and worships Him is the only way that pleases God?

Let us remember, and so teach our children, that those who worship God in different ways from us may be honoring God as much as we are.

I've always imagined it must wound God's heart when He sees any of His worshippers doing or saying unkind things about others who worship Him in a different way.

LET US HOPE that no word of hate ever leaves our lips or the lips of our children, or a feeling of hate dwell in our hearts or theirs, toward any person or group of persons because their religion is different from ours or because they are different from us in any other way.

This doesn't mean that we and our children should not be loyal to our faith or religious group. Ours can be best for us and we can be proud of it. Let us prove to our children that we are and that our religion makes us lovely to live with.

How much our children really love and esteem us will determine pretty largely whether they will choose to make our religion their religion; whether they will make our basic philosophy of life their own.

My bulletins, '"The Young Child and Religion" and "Graces and Prayers for Young Children," may be had by sending a self - addressed stamped envelope to me in care of this newspaper.

Thanksgiving Meals Being Prepared For 4 Institutions

Old folks, children and even jail prisoners will "fare well" for Thanksgiving.

Holiday dinners are being prepared for the Columbiana County Home and the County Jail, the Hancock County Infirmary and the Hancock Children's Home at Pughtown.

Approximately 50 residents at the County Home at Lisbon will have chicken and dressing, mashed potatoes and gravy, creamed peas and carrots, cranberry sauce, relish tray, hot rolls, coffee and pumpkin pie for Thanksgiving dinner Thursday.

Thirty County Jail inmates will have roast rabbit and dressing, cream peas, mashed potatoes and gravy, cranberry sauce, pumpkin pie and coffee. The rabbits were donated by the County Home.

The 16 elderly patients in the Hancock County Infirmary will feast on roast turkey, mashed potatoes and gravy, cranberry sauce, salad, rolls and pumpkin pie.

Dinner will be served at 1 p. m. and the home may be visited anytime during the holiday, Mrs. Shields Mayhew, wife of the supervisor, said. She will prepare the meal.

Roast turkey with all the trimmings is on the menu for 24 youngsters at the Hancock County Children's Home, Mrs. Ellen Dailey, supervisor, said.

Dinner will be at 5 p. m. and will include four roast turkeys, mashed potatoes and gravy, buttered lima beans and corn, perfection salad, candied sweet potatoes and mince and pumpkin pie. The turkeys were donated by one of the members of the home's Board of Directors.

Indian Grave Explorations Discussed For Rotary Club

Harold A. Dawson of Boring Ln. narrated a program of color slides of excavations of Indian graves and collections of crude implements at the Rotary Club's meeting Tuesday afternoon in the Travelers Hotel.

Dawson is president of the Aboriginal Explorers' Club, nine amateur archeologists who have made a number of significant discoveries in the Tri-State Area of pre-historic Indian burial and camp sites.

Members of the hobby group have accumulated personal collections of implements used as far back as 3000 B.C. in this area, plus data relating to the aboriginals, Dawson said.

He screened several closeup views of an Indian skeleton which was found at a burial site at Yellow Creek at the time Route 7 was being relocated and widened into four lanes.

Another series of slides were of an Adena mound built about 1000 B.C. at the Hewitt farm south of Newell, and of other scenes of that area.

Members have discovered flint implements such as axes, hammers and arrowheads in their explorations of rock shelters in the vicinity. Plowed fields are good sites for making such discoveries, Dawson pointed out.

Other slides were of Flint Ridge near Zanesville, Indian carvings on rocks at Beaver Creek, and of paintings of pre-historic Indians.

Dawson, laboratory technician at Hall China Co., was introduced by John Thompson, program chairman. Dr. R. Jay Kinsey, president, presided.

Town In West Texas Should Be Safe Now

BENJAMIN, Tex. (AP) — This West Texas town recently got a new sheriff, a new deputy and a new Texas Ranger — and now it may be the most protected spot in Texas.

Benjamin, which only has 300 residents, is county seat of Knox County.

Recently the county sheriff, Homer T. Melton, resigned to beco mea Texas Ranger. Deputy H. C. Stone was appointed sheriff and hired a new deputy, Kenneth LaMascus. Then the state, wanting a Ranger in that area, assigned Jelton to his home town.

And, although you can't go to the movies in Benjamin, find a drug store or get a tooth pulled, man, you sure can get arrested.

Police Blow Whistle In Post-Game 'Play'

OLYMPIA, Wash. (AP) — The Raymond High School football team beat Olympia's St. Martin's High. But Olympia police evened the score.

They blew the whistle on the bus taking the visitors home.

They penalized the driver, Robert G. Aubert, a Raymond teacher, $25.

They accused him of illegal motion of 40 miles an hour, in a 25-mile zone.

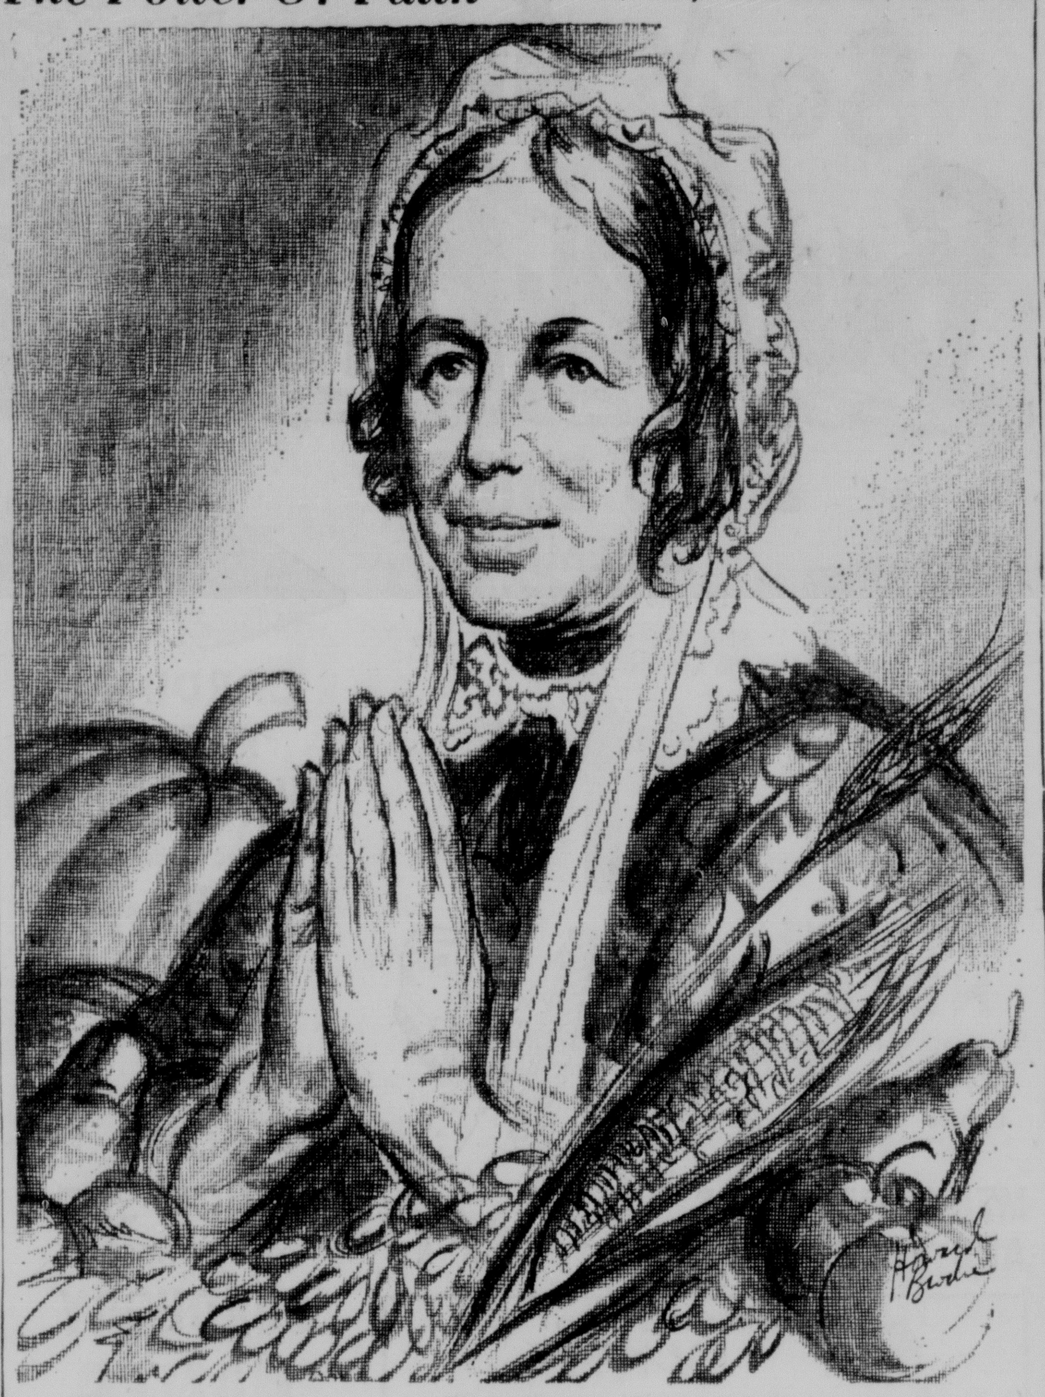
THE REVIEW

The Power Of Faith by Howard Brodie



Mrs. Sarah J. Hale wrote in 1863:

"'Go your way and eat the fat and drink the sweet and send persons unto them for whom nothing is prepared; for this day is holy unto the Lord' . . . Can we not then . . . establish our yearly Thanksgiving as a permanent American National Festival . . . Putting aside the sectional feelings . . . would it not be more noble, to become national in unity when we offer to God our tribute of joy and gratitude . . ."

For 17 years, the ladies' magazine editor fought for a uniform Thanksgiving, believing it would unify the nation. She urged it on governors and Presidents. Later that year, President Lincoln issued the first national proclamation since Washington: "I do, therefore, invite my fellow citizens in every part of the United States . . . to set apart and observe the last Thursday of November next as a day of Thanksgiving and praise to our Beneficent Father . . ."

Simplicity, Neatness Bring Story Of Ties

Two words tell the story of neckwear for Christmas choosing — simplicity and neatness.

Those who are shopping for ties to brighten up a man's wardrobe will discover "simple and neat" does not mean that new cravats are dull, uninteresting or prosaic. The new ties have a really look via the orderly handling of their designs.

New popular panel fabrics have side borders created by either color or pattern — center panels have both bold and controlled motifs, and some ties carry just a hint of pattern working its way into the center section of the tie.

Grainless Poultry Feed Is Developed

HONOLULU (AP) — Poultry experts at the University of Hawaii say they have developed a grainless poultry feed which is nearly all Hawaii - grown.

It consists of pineapple leaf meal, molasses, tuna, blood meals, meat, bone scraps and tallow. Vitamins and minerals—the only imported ingredients—are added.

Dr. Ernest Ross, head of the poultry science department, said, "So far the only big difference between our product and that normally imported from the mainland is a slightly smaller egg." He said tallow content caused this and can be overcome.

New Attitude Needed On Holiday Eating

Ida Jean Kain

There is a gladsomeness about Thanksgiving ... it's such a wonderful season. The harvest is in and this is the day to rejoice and give thanks.

Back in the days of "Over The River and Through The Woods To Grandmother's House," Thanksgiving was a feast day, a well earned feast day. In those rigorous times, the average homemaker burned up 3,000 to 4,000 calories a day, just in the course of doing her daily work. Today she burns 2,000 or less calories a day.

However, it's not holiday fare, but everyday eating habits that determine your weight. Thanksgiving dinner, with turkey and all the trimmings, is a part of our tradition...our heritage.

YOUR DIETITIAN has always been of the opinion that dieting should not be allowed to spoil the mellow mood of a holiday. But the way to truly enjoy the meal most is not to overeat.

Last Thanksgiving Day I suggested that dieters take a holiday from dieting. And so what happened?

Some of you who gladly went overboard...reported some months later that you never got back to calorie curbing, and that your weight was on the upswing.

Friends, overeating for one meal, even on a holiday, is not worth it, if the controls are off from then on.

We need a new attitude toward holiday eating. The fuel that sparks energy is interest, zeal and enthusiasm. Stretch your mind to a new dimension.

You can enjoy this meal more than any meal you ever ate if you taste every forkful of food for its true goodness. Give it that extra ingredient of attention.

—:—

SAVOR FOR flavor. It's almost electrifying what this change in attitude can do for you.

It can set you free...free you from a fattening habit. Eating is a joy. Overeating subtracts from the joy of living.

What was good enough for our ancestors is too much of a good thing for us. So leap over the wall of habit...it's the best keeping fit exercise a-going.

Hope Of Harnessing Volcano Steam Fades

HONOLULU (AP) — Hopes of harnessing volcanic steam for cheap electrical power appear to be evaporating.

The Hawaii Thermal Power Co. has abandoned four of its five sites where drilling started five months ago.

A spokesman for the company said cracks and lava tubes have plagued drilling and expensive tools have been lost. One site was given up after drillers hit a stream of hot water.

The remaining rig is in the puna area on the slopes of much-active Kilauea Volcano.

Four Key Reasons Seen Behind 'De-Stalinization'

By WARREN ROGERS JR.
Herald Tribune News Service

WASHINGTON — Soviet Premier Khrushchev's ruthless de-Stalinization campaign is all bound up with the Kremlin drive for a Berlin settlement and "peaceful coexistence."

Part of this drive, it now seems clear, is a revival of pressure for another meeting between Mr. Khrushchev and President Kennedy.

Some Communist diplomats are predicting privately that such a meeting may be held in Moscow as early as next spring. They said an invitation for a Moscow visit was issued to Mr. Kennedy during his June 3-4 conference with Mr. Khrushchev at Vienna, Austria.

American officials said, however, that there was no such invitation in the formal sense. The closest thing to it, they said, was a typically off-hand Khrushchev statement along the lines of, "Why don't you come to Moscow some time?"

Summit Meeting Opposed

Be that as it may, the thought of Mr. Kennedy traveling to Moscow in the relatively near future evoked little enthusiasm among American officials.

It smacked too much of a hat-in-hand approach which, in the light of the recent brink-of-war confrontation at the city-dividing wall in Berlin, seemed out of the question at this time.

American officials conceded that, at least since late summer, Mr. Khrushchev has been seeking another meeting with the President.

Now that the Soviet Union's 22nd Party Congress is out of the way, they said he may again be looking toward the Summit.

Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei Gromyko, in a speech to the party congress last month, declared, "Let Kennedy and Khrushchev preside not over a world catastrophe but over negotiations for an improvement in Soviet-American relations."

The most astonishing aspect of the party congress, by far, was Mr. Khrushchev's calculated campaign to obliterate the public image of Joseph Stalin and his followers.

With Stalin's body removed from its place of honor, with statues and pictures of Stalin now coming down throughout the Communist world, and with old Bolshevik V. M. Molotov and others in disgrace as "antiparty" and evil men, one of history's greatest guessing games began: Why did Khrushchev do it?

Moving From Strength

The best available information, from Communist as well as American and other Western sources, is that Mr. Khrushchev was moving with supreme confidence from a position of strength. He had already won his battle within the party hierarchy in the crucial 1956 struggle in which he first depicted Stalin as a mad murderer.

But, if he was to settle the Berlin crisis without war and move on to a general approachment with the United States, he had to spread his campaign beyond the inner circles of the party.

That is what he did, and there is a consensus on at least four basic reasons for the strange assault on the world's memory of Stalin:

1. Mr. Khrushchev was determined to substitute a "canonization" of government for the "cult of personality."

In this, he was stealing a leaf from Democracy's book, convinced that one of the West's strengths is its people's faith that, while leaders may come and go, their government endures.

The personality cult was dangerous in that it had permeated the Communist world to the point where every village had its own little Stalin, or was in danger of creating one.

With a sense of national purpose, inculcated by man-in-space and other successes, the people needed a focal point, a symbol which would outlive any man.

Clean Break With Past

2. A clean break had to be made with the past. Thus, it was hoped, the world would accept the Khrushchev era as a new deal, blaming all the evils of the past 40 years on Stalin and his ilk — the mass murders, the cynical disregard of international treaties, and so on.

3. Mr. Khrushchev wanted to control his succession, to the point at least of enhancing the chances that his way of doing things, not Stalin's, would be followed after his death. By compromising all out Stalin's heirs, and even making "Stalinist" a word to be spat out, he hoped to block any return of the government to the hard-line advocates who see no future in his peaceful coexistence doctrine.

4. Finally, and perhaps most importantly, he wanted to set the stage for the forthcoming struggle with Red China for leadership of the Communist bloc.

There is some ground for believing that Mr. Khrushchev's concern about the growing power of "Stalinist" Red China may be even greater than reported so far. A nuclear war might not destroy the world, but it would certainly wipe out the gains made by the Soviet Union in the past four decades.

With Soviet society set on a more liberal course, perhaps even settling some of its major differences with the West, Moscow would be in a stronger position — with or without Mr. Khrushchev at the helm — to cope with the new menace in the East.

Russian Gold Credits Would Aid Castro Rule

By VICTOR WILSON
Herald Tribune News Service

WASHINGTON — Cuba's Premier Fidel Castro can thumb his nose at the almost total American trade embargo if he can lay his hands on dollars, other currencies or gold, acceptable in world commodity markets.

It's a big "if" however, experts familiar with the world trade picture declare, adding that the economic pinch is tightening in the island 90 miles south of the United States.

The one imponderable, these experts conceded, is whether the Cuban caudillo's ties are close enough with Russia to induce the latter to place gold credits at the Cuban leader's disposal to purchase what his people sorely need in the world's trade markets.

Russia is known to have large gold stocks, constantly rising from mining production. Its trade with Cuba today, however, is strictly on a barter basis—Russian oil for Cuban sugar, for example.

But many nations of the free world, including some of America's closest friends, already have stepped up sales of almost every needed commodity to Cuba since America broke relations with that government on Jan. 1, 1960.

The rub has been, according to trade experts, that these nations demand payment for commodities in dollars, or any suitable currency except Cuban.

One trade expert said that Canada's trade with Cuba in the first quarter of 1961 totaled about 9 million. Canada's total trade with Cuba in all of 1960 was $13 million.

So, this expert pointed out, if Canada's Cuban trade sustains at the first quarter's rate, the volume will be much more than double for 1961.

Others familiar with the trade situation said that Japan's exports to Cuba also were "up" this year, and so were Mexico's. They were unable to supply figures, however.

United States trade with Cuba, before the diplomatic break, ran around $45 million monthly. Today, it is limited to medicines, pharmaceuticals, dental equipment, and so on, plus tiny quantities of some foodstuffs.

Scant information was available on West Europeans trade with Cuba, but some is occurring, according to information here. The amount will undoubtedly grow if Cuba solves its monetary payment problem, the experts said.

So far as could be learned, all nations with which the United States has trade ties, are observing this country's request not to transship to Cuba merchandise purchased originally in this country.

However, limited as Cuba's trade is, aside from dealings with the Communist bloc, its pattern has shifted since the United States break. Canada was cited as one example by some experts here.

Prior to the diplomatic break, Canada's chief experts to Cuba included codfish, potatoes and newsprint, they said. Today's stepped-up Canadian exports to Cuba just about cover "the whole trade spectrum," they added.

The United States is not happy about all this, it was said.

Automation Taking Over Cotton Picking

ATLANTA (AP) — The State Employment Service said that mechanical cotton pickers numbered 1,044 this year, compared with 481 last year.

Cotton can be picked with the machine for about $20 a bale, by hand for about $40 or $50. Each picker is capable of doing the work of 50 hands.

The service said the cotton pickers plus other mechanization could mean that 20,000 farm workers will be without cotton picking jobs.

Quick Oriental Dishes Are Made With Soup

When busy schedules such as PTA meetings, woman's club luncheons or at home chores call for meals in minutes or quick supper dishes, depend on canned condensed soup to help you.

For a tempting speedy far eastern style casserole that will make the folks think you've spent hours in the kitchen whip up a chinese pork casserole.

It combines diced cooked pork, chinese cabbage and colorful vegetables in a savory sauce of canned condensed cream of chicken soup blended with soy sauce. An edging of crisp chinese noodles completes this oriental delight!

The dessert, too, is a quickie. Prepare a package of rice pudding mix and just before serving fold in canned mandarin oranges.

1 can (10½ ounces) condensed cream of chicken soup
½ cup water
1 teaspoon soy sauce
½ cup cooked peas
½ cup thinly sliced celery
2 tablespoons thinly sliced green onion
1 cup diced cooked pork
4 cups finely shredded Chinese cabbage
½ cup Chinese noodles

In a 1½-quart casserole, blend soup, water, and soy sauce. Stir in remaining ingredients except noodles. Bake in a moderate oven (350 deg.) 20 minutes. Sprinkle noodles around edge of casserole. Bake 10 minutes more. Makes 4 servings.

A Leather Wrap Holds Appeal For Christmas Belles

A woman's favorite "Christmas wrapping" this year may very well be a colorful, comfortable leather jacket or coat.

Lined in wool shearling, pile or colorful silk, the new suede, cabretta and soft cowhide leather fashions are as many-hued — inside and out — as the gifts underneath the Christmas tree.

Sleek cabretta or kid leathers show up in form-fitting dressmaker jackets, leather and tweed walking suits, and in full length coats — classically tailored, or with jewels and fur trim for evening.

For the cold-weather casual and sports wear, career girl and homemaker alike will go for shearling suede jackets in waist or hip lengths. These are shown with a warm stand-up collar, and deep pockets, often with matching slacks.

For a more grownup look, the teen-age girl will love her over-the-hip coat in smooth leather or suede.

There are also part middy styles with deep convertible necklines.

Whether sweet 16 or a sophisticated woman, whether for casual wear or sports, daytime or date — button-soft kids, cabrettas, smooth leather or yummy suede, she'll love her gift all the better in such colors as carnation red, deep blue, forest green, earth brown, or simply — Arctic white . . . just so — it's leather.

Musical Toy Both Fun And Educational

The post-Christmas thumping, tooting or twanging of a musical toy may not mean much to Mother, but to a 3-year-old it's more exciting than Tschaikovsky.

Marion Egbert, educational consultant for the American Music Conference, believes that properly selected toy musical instruments can provide an exciting way for children to discover rhythm and tone — the basic elements of self - made music.

Musical toys also can exert a strong influence on youngsters' desires to play genuine musical instruments.

Quality toy instruments are usually "true" and offer a chance for musical sounds and rhythm. Musical toys are so popular with youngsters that the toy trumpet was the top seller for many years.

Other "pre - band instruments" include bell sets, wood resonator blocks and simple drums. Resonator blocks are exceptionally effective in teaching rhythm to children.

Melody instruments comprise another group of musical toys. Actual tunes can be reproduced on such instruments as the xylophone and the "c-note" melody flute.

Toy pianos and electric organs often are used to introduce children to the keyboard. Toy ukeleles, guitars, banjos and mandolins allow the children to play simple tunes almost immediately. And youngsters have lots of fun with this type of "first experience."

Whatever the child's choice, parents will be giving a gift of music that usually outlasts the toy instrument by decades.

Pearl Necklaces Stay Up Front In Fashion Parade

Pearls always have been a very simple gift not only for their simple, elegant beauty but because a pearl necklace is always in good taste.

The season the traditional pearl necklaces assume high fashion importance because of their new designs and the important place pearls hold in the current fashion picture.

There are new multi-strand necklaces that feature a beautiful clasp in all the "true jewel" tones of jade, sapphire, emerald, ruby or topaz.

The clasps, lovely enough to be pins in themselves, are worn to the side and matched to earrings to provide one of the most pleasing gifts of the season.

Seed pearls necklaces have become increasingly popular strung in multiple strands to twist and drape to the mood of fashion's eased bodices and dropped waistlines.

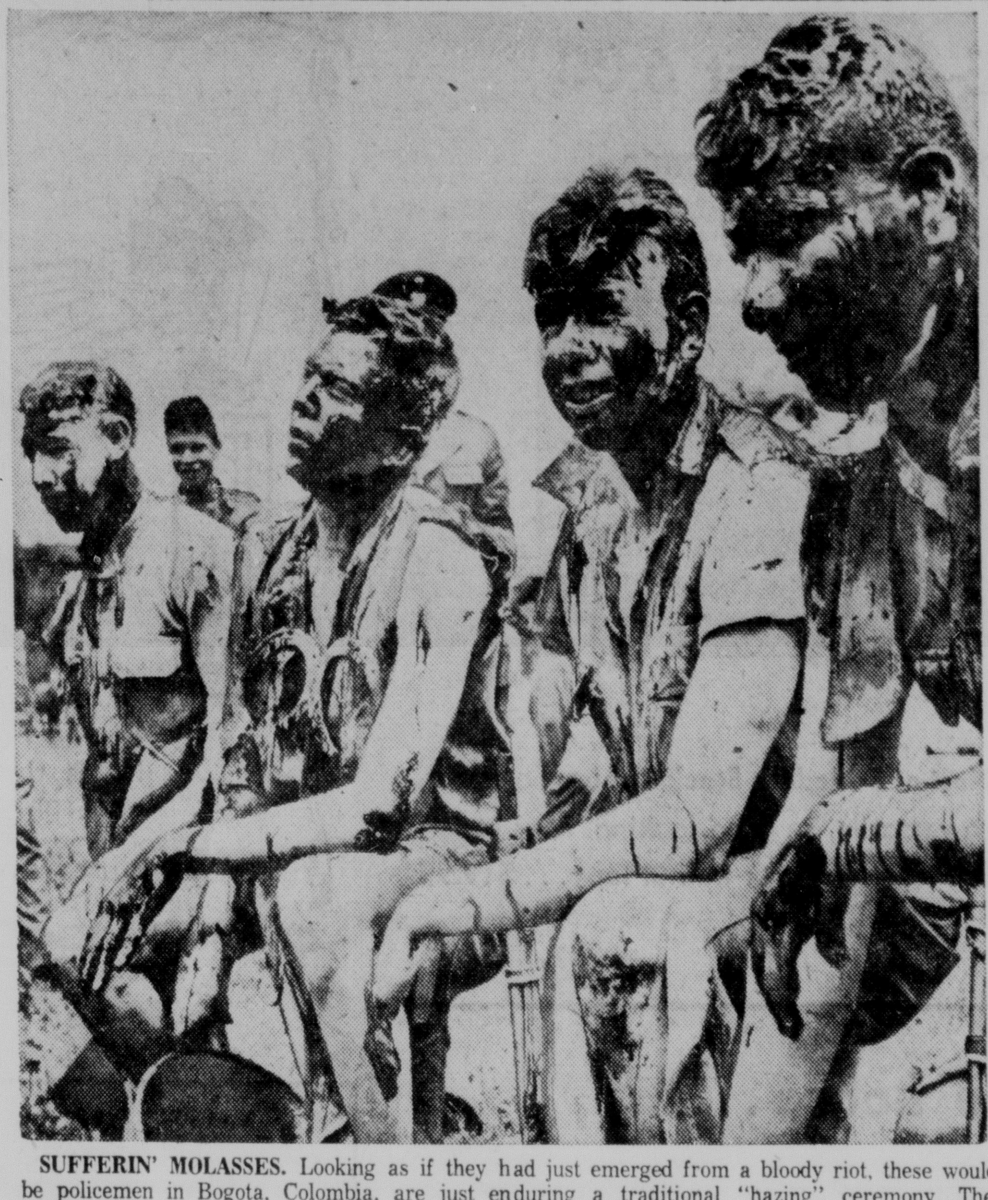
For the smartest look of all, a single strand of pearls combines with two strands of jade or lapis. The jade or lapis adds a lovely note of contrast to the pearls and provides dramatic color accent to fashions.

Inoculation Seen Tree Disease Cure

AMHERST, Mass. (AP) — Tree inoculation may be the way to remedy — or prevent — tree disease.

So said Dr. Albert E. Dimond of the Connecticut Agricultural Station at a conference on Dutch elm disease control. He said one compound already has been found which, when painted on bark, will climb the water-carrying cells of elm trees Researchers are now at work, he said, on a compound which would permeate the tree with a chemical agent poisonous to the elm fungus.

DRESS-UP DRAMA for the holiday season begins with a flattering formal. Milady will win compliments galore in this jeweltoned full-skirted gown of Chromspun acetate.



SUFFERIN' MOLASSES. Looking as if they had just emerged from a bloody riot, these would-be policemen in Bogota, Colombia, are just enduring a traditional "hazing" ceremony. They were baptized with molasses and powder and then thrown into a nearby lake. The Carabineros (mounted police) were celebrating the 70th anniversary of the national police.

Tree Rings, Beautiful Male Butterflies In Science News

By The Associated Press

Tree rings, beautiful male butterflies, and lamps in the sea figure in science news:

Sunspots and Trees

Two scientists find evidence against the theory that sunspot cycles show up in the annual growth rings of trees.

Sunspots follow an 11-year cycle. Some experts think the sunspot effects on climate are strong enough to be reflected in rings of old trees in the southwestern United States.

It is generally accepted that climatic changes do show up in the width of growth rings of ancient trees.

But John Dutton and Prof. Reid A. Bryson of the University of Wisconsin meteorology department said they cannot find a real correlation between sunspot cycles and tree growth. They analyzed tree ring data with a statistical method to detect cycles.

Male Beauty

The beautiful colors and designs sported by male butterflies seem to be completely superfluous, serving no useful purpose, reports Dr. R. E. Snodgrass, research associate of the Smithsonian Institution.

Among some birds, for example, male beauty attracts females. But among butterflies and moths, it is the females who attract males, and primarily through scent, he writes. The pretty colors of male butterflies may be useful in protective imitation, but "we need a theory to explain their colors on a scientific basis of usefulness to the insects themselves."

Lights in the Sea

Life in the oceans has evolved three distinct methods of lighting its way with luminescence.

The first and most significant is through special cells or organs which are provided with reflectors, lenses, and sometimes, shutters. Shrimps, squids and some fishes are examples, says Dr. J.A.C. Nicol of the Marine Biological Laboratory, Plymouth, England.

A second form is discharging a cloud of luminous matter into sea water. This is used by some clams, shrimps, squids again, and bristleworms and some fishes.

Third is a cooperative method with luminous bacteria. An animal can harbor these bacteria within several glandlike organs, and supports them there. In return, the bacteria produce light for their host. The luminous bacteria take up abode in certain squids and fishes, Dr. Nicol says.

First Community Tree Credited To Cleveland

The community Christmas tree idea was born in Cleveland, Ohio, in 1912.

The community raised funds to defray the cost of the tree and celebrations through the sale of preferred stock in "Cleveland, the city of good will (unlimited), incorporated under the laws of the commonwealth of good cheer." This was specified by holly-bordered certificates.

Holders of preferred stock were entitled to "dividends payable daily in the form of happy voices of robust children, the contented faces of friendly fellow citizens and the advancement of the city of good will."

Sale of stock was pushed everywhere, the most unique place being the Cleveland stock exchange where the stock was listed at the head of other securities.

The sale brought in $12,000, which purchased Christmas cheer for 13,000 citizens, as well as the first community Christmas for the city.

The dollar was fixed as the unit of currency in the United States by Act of Congress on April 6, 1792.

Here Are Table Tips To Help The Hostess

Take a tip from Marian Marsh, Director of Oneida Table Planning Service, and enjoy a lovely ready-set refreshment table during the holiday season.

Use tall, slim tapers in graduated sizes to create a cathedral-window background; take a large silver or silver-plated bowl, tip-tilt in with two ribbon-tied spoons in its center to create the clapper for your silver "bell"; then lay out your favorite sterling or silverplated flatware serving pieces against a bright red cloth; set-up gift - wrapped boxes that are already filled with cookies; fill serving dishes with nuts, fruit and candy.

Your table will become a shining example of the creative use of and arrangement of both silver flatware and holloware with real holiday glamor.

And, you'll be a smart hostess — ready to treat all guests — no matter when they drop in to visit during the holidays.

Australians Discuss American Civil War

SYDNEY, Australia (AP) — An American Civil War Research Group, similar to the Civil War Round Tables in the United States, meets monthly in Sydney to discuss the American Civil War.

The Civil War, says its president L. Traynor, "interests us greatly from a number of aspects —because it has been the only major internal conflict for centuries between English-speaking peoples, because of the wide canvas which it covered and because of the sheer tragedy of it all."

Members of the research group have collected battlefield relics, weapons and books dealing with the war. They also have sought out graves of several veterans who emigrated to Australia after the war.

Hal's Troubles Pile Up

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP)—Every few years or so, whether it needs it or not, I clean off my office desk.

Always it is by compulsion; never by choice.

Sometimes this cleaning chore is undertaken when a fire department inspector threatens to give me a summons for maintaining a hazard to public life and property. More often it is the result of an ultimatum from the boss.

"I'm tired of having to climb a stepladder to look over the debris on your desk to see whether you're loafing or working. Clean it off," the boss will say.

The boss usually adds condescendingly, "A messy desk is an indication of an insecure childhood. There's something pitiful about a grown man who even hoards used toothpicks in his desk because he's afraid to throw anything away."

"Well, in a crisis a used toothpick is better than none," I tell him, and go on to point out:

"You've got your psychology backward. A man with a polished desk shows an insecure adulthood trying to hide a secret sense of guilt. A clean desk is the sign of a frightened mind."

As my boss—and the other swivel chair Caesars on the executive rungs above me—all maintain spotless desks, my own rubbled desk may explain why I've never been elected general manager of my firm. There must be some explanation why honest merit has been held down for 30 years.

The rest of the staff enjoys pitching in and helping me, too. What greater pleasure in office life is there than pawing through another fellow's desk—on company time, naturally?

If the 50 people who work near me spend only a week of their time happily sifting through the man-made mountain I labor behind, I figure it costs the firm more than $5,000 every time I clean my desk.

But what better investment can a well-run organization make? Everybody has more fun than he does at the office picnic. Most everybody winds up with a souvenir worth keeping. The other fellow's desk always has something in it you'd like to have yourself.

So far I haven't really dented my desk, but here are a few items I've found:

A pair of adenoids sent in a test tube by an admiring reader who apparently had no further use for them.

46 packets of matches.

137 pieces of string in eight colors.

About 13 cents worth of stub on a dollar cigar.

A picture of Sophie Tucker as a child actress.

18 toothpicks—only 9 used.

A bottle of sulphur and molasses tonic.

A 1948 Dewey campaign button, and a 1952 one for Stevenson.

A letter dated, "Little Big Horn, May 15, 1876." The letter contains only one word: "Help!" It is signed "George Armstrong Custer"—but the signature could be a fake.

Evergreens Are Longtime Yule Symbol

'O Evergreen, O Evergreen, how faithful are thy branches."

The gaily-decorated evergreen tree has become such a beloved symbol of the Yuletide season in the United States especially and throughout many other parts of the world that it is even celebrated in song.

The custom of setting up a tree in the home during the holiday season began in Germany.

Originally the trees were used in medieval mystery plays to represent the Paradise tree or "Tree of Life."

When these plays became prohibited in the churches, the symbolic Paradise tree was taken into the home.

At first the trees were decorated with white wafers. These gave way to cookies cut in the shape of stars, angels, hearts, flowers and bells. Eventually they were festooned with paper roses, apples, gilded nuts and candies.

The custom was brought from Germany to France by the Princess Helen of Mecklenburg when she married the Duke of Orleans.

Another royal marriage was responsible for England's introduction to the Christmas tree. Prince Albert of Germany, consort of Queen Victoria, decorated trees for his children at Christmastime, and the custom was quickly adopted by the English.

Americans became acquainted with the Christmas tree when Germans emigrated to this continent in 1830.

The immigrants followed their beloved tradition of setting up the Paradise tree each Christmas, and soon their neighbors picked up the charming custom.

It has spread until there is scarcely a home, place of business or public spot that does not proudly and gloriously show off a brightly - ornamented tree at Christmastime.

U.S. Falling Short 3,000 Doctors Yearly

CHATTANOOGA (AP) — American medical schools are falling short by 3,000 doctors a year of training enough physicians and surgeons to meet the nation's normal requirements.

This is the word from Dr. Owen H. Wangensteen, past president of the American College of Surgeons, who spoke at the Tennessee Valley Medical Assembly in Chattanooga.

Dr. Wangensteen said medical schools now are graduating some 7,000 doctors a year, compared with annual requirements of about 10,000. One thing that might help, he said, would be higher pay for hospital interns and resident doctors.

Matched Leather Bag, Belt Provide Harmony

A sure-to-please gift for any woman is a matched leather handbag and belt combination.

It's practical too, because every woman can use another bag and belt, and the matching design, leather texture and color shows that the giver put some thought into it.

Here are some tips from Leather Industries of America on 'what's in the bag" for fashion this Christmas:

Popular shapes include satchel bags, totes and pouches — some spread a bit at the bottom to make a bag self-standing.

Tailored, rather than fluffily feminine, these leather bags are ideal accessories to tweed and gabardine suits and skirts, and dressy or dressy - casual leather coats and jackets.

Smart daytime bags come in beautiful soft suede, smooth or grained leather, and a large number of hard - constructed bags. Many are wafer thin and neat in appearance yet expand at the bottom and sides to hold all essentials.

Decorative details include fake belts and buckles appliqued horizontally or vertically on the front, heavy antiqued brass doorknocker tabs in place of snap closings, and a wide variety of fancy gold, silver and brass ornamental closings.

The right leather belt to go with tailored bags will be marked by simplicity of design, with decorations of geometrical patterns embossed or appliqued on the leather . . .square or oblong buckles of brass or leather . . neat heraldic emblems and other motifs in antiqued gold or silver.

Charm and cheer her with flame red, tangerine, brilliant and indigo blues and woodland greens.

These are seen in both bags and belts in smooth and matted American calf, soft fine-napped suede — or, for a breezy outdoor look — smooth or grained cowhide.

For gala nights, "little" clutch bags are "bigger" this season. There's more room for key case, cigarette - lighter set, change purse and other mysteries that women carry even to elegant soirees.

If you want to make an impression, select a matching purse and belt in gleaming uster leather or suede to dress up basic black cocktail sheaths.

Drugs Are Vital Unit In Astronaut's Kit

WASHINGTON — Drugs are a vital unit in the medical kit of the astronauts.

Medicine at Work, publication of the Pharmaceutical Manufacturers Association, said that astronauts Alan Shepard and Virgil Grissom each took along four vials of drugs with hypodermic needles attached—handy for prompt self-administration.

The publication noted that these drugs are designed to help offset uncomfortable sensations in flight, injuries, and to counteract physical and psychological disabilities resulting from gravitational differences or atmospheric variations.

Diamond Gift Need Not Be Over-Priced

Put a sparkle in her eyes with a gift of diamonds, suggests the Jewelry Industry Council, pointing out that this Christmas such gifts are within reach of almost every budget.

Today, diamonds are used beautifully and imaginatively in jewelry that highlights their ancient beauty, while keeping the cost within reason.

There are pieces of fine diamond jewelry priced well under $100 that would enchant any woman.

A single diamond set in a tiny pendant on a fine gold chain is one example. A single sparkling diamond set like a drop of priceless dew on a fine gold leaf is still another.

One of the most practical luxuries any woman can own is a diamond pin.

Many of these pins have special attachments that enable them to be worn as pendants on pearls or a chain. They can be worn in the hair for evening and with almost every type of dress or suit.

In the "king's ransom" category there is extraordinarily beautiful diamond jewelry with a whole new look this season, combining diamonds with colorful precious jewels, such as emeralds, rubies or sapphires.

Whether it's a tiny, perfect-cut single diamond or a flittering collection, a diamond gift is sure to lift any woman's heart at Christmas.

Service Station Bandit Adds Insult To Theft

ATLANTA (AP) — A bandit with a dirty windshield held up a service station and got away with more than $15.

The robber asked the time, ordered gasoline and then told the attendant to hand over the station's money, $15 in bills plus some change. But he wasn't through yet.

He told the attendant to clean the windshield of the car. When that was done, he drove away.

Outdoor Worshiping Place Big Attraction

RIDGE, N. H. (AP) — The Cathedral of the Pines, outdoor place of worship on a New Hampshire hilltop, available without charge to all religions and races, reports it had 100,000 visitors in 1961—its 16th year.

During the Spring - Summer-Fall season 127 services of different faiths were conducted.

Among unsolicited gifts received during the year were flags from India, Ceylon, Lithuania, Hungary and Ulster, Northern Ireland, as well as a 5th century tile from the cathedral which holds the tomb of St. Patrick.

Christmas Spirit Should Pervade All Of The Home

Let the spirit of Christmas pevade your home, with gay, colorful decorations in every room of the house.

Instead of confining your display to just the living room, let every room be a cheerful reminder of the holiday season.

Although you probably will want the traditional Christmas tree in your front room, there are many decorations that can be used in other rooms.

For example, in your bedrooms—corner windows with cornices can be used to display advantage with boxes wrapped in plain tissue paper and decorated with designs cut from last year's Christmas cards.

Stack these "presents" along the top of the cornices and continue the holiday theme down to eye level with large bells hanging in front of your drapes, and more packages on the nearest table.

IN THE hallway — use your hall mirror to reflect the holiday spirit with Christmas candles placed before it. There are many beautiful candles for the Yule season available in local stores.

In the kitchen, even pegboard can achieve a holiday look. With green knitting yarn, make the outline of a Christmas tree, placing tiny bulbs at the point of each branch. If you don't have pegboard, the same design can be fastened on any kitchen cabinet with transparent tape.

Make a ribbon tree as a perfect centerpiece for your dining room table. For this lovely display, cut a 14 - inch cardboard circle and cover it with aluminum foil.

For the center post use a tall candle or cardboard tube. Attach four ribbon stripes at one side of the base, bring up over tube and attach at other side of base. Decorate it at the top with a bow, and attach glass ornaments to each ribbon.

IN ANY room where you have a fireplace, here's a variation of the stocking-hanging - from-the-mantel theme.

Using a child's sock as a pattern, cut felt into various sizes for each member of the family and stitch sides together. Sequins, glitter or any other holiday trim can be attached if desired. Stuff the socks with cards, flowers or candy canes and place them on top of your mantel.

Tiny "trees" in each room will also add to the festive look of your home, and are easy to make. Using Styrofoam block as a base, insert a 13¾-inch knitting needle for the trunk. To form the body of the tree, attach glass balls in graduated sizes to the needle with wire hangers.

Colorful decorations such as these, strategically placed throughout your house this Christmas, will serve as happy reminders that "tis the season to be jolly".

Pets Will Enjoy Being A Part Of The Holiday Fun

If there's a pet in the home, be sure Santa has him on the list for gifts too.

Fido will welcome a new collar, Kitty some catnip in toy form and the parakeet — a bird plaything.

If you plan to buy a new collar for the pooch, here are some things to remember.

Unless you have a long-necked dog of the poodle variety, stay away from extra - wide collars; they make other breeds look ungainly and are often uncomfortable.

The lightwenght rolled - leather variety is an extremely comfortable collar for most breeds, if fitted properly.

The chain type or 'training" collar is also a good collar for dogs, and smooth edged, flat leather types are generally comfortable, too.

Choose one fun collar for your pet for "dress up occasions" in rhinestones, velvet or bright stone studs.

Cats want to join in the holiday fun, too. And, there are dozens of imaginative items for Tabby — assorted catnip toys, a catnip rug to roll on, a scratching post, nylon lead or a gaily-colored lightweight collar.

Parakeets are naturally playful birds and they enjoy tinkly, rolly bells, plastic dumbells to carry about, ladders to climb and other fun toys.

THERE WILL BE A STAR-STUDDED CAST ready and waiting on Christmas morning for your home movie story. The cast, the set and location are always in focus—from a few feet to infinity — with this simple aim-and-shoot movie camera. In full color or black and white.

A CHRISTMAS MASTERPIECE. Compose your own dramatic setting for holiday entertaining with fine china, silver, lovely linen and your own creative ingenuity. Use pine branches, bright styrofoam board, multi-colored Christmas balls and white-sprayed pine cones—add tall candlesticks, fine china and your finest silver flatware and holloware—and lo, you have the perfect background for your festive foods.

IN THE hallway — use your hall mirror to reflect the holiday spirit with Christmas candles placed before it. There are many beautiful candles for the Yule season available in local stores.

In the kitchen, even pegboard can achieve a holiday look. With green knitting yarn, make the outline of a Christmas tree, placing tiny bulbs at the point of each branch. If you don't have pegboard, the same design can be fastened on any kitchen cabinet with transparent tape.

Make a ribbon tree as a perfect centerpiece for your dining room table. For this lovely display, cut a 14 - inch cardboard circle and cover it with aluminum foil.

For the center post use a tall candle or cardboard tube. Attach four ribbon stripes at one side of the base, bring up over tube and attach at other side of base. Decorate it at the top with a bow, and attach glass ornaments to each ribbon.

IN ANY room where you have a fireplace, here's a variation of the stocking-hanging - from-the-mantel theme.

Using a child's sock as a pattern, cut felt into various sizes for each member of the family and stitch sides together. Sequins, glitter or any other holiday trim can be attached if desired. Stuff the socks with cards, flowers or candy canes and place them on top of your mantel.

Tiny "trees" in each room will also add to the festive look of your home, and are easy to make. Using Styrofoam block as a base, insert a 13¾-inch knitting needle for the trunk. To form the body of the tree, attach glass balls in graduated sizes to the needle with wire hangers.

Colorful decorations such as these, strategically placed throughout your house this Christmas, will serve as happy reminders that "tis the season to be jolly".

Pets Will Enjoy Being A Part Of The Holiday Fun

If there's a pet in the home, be sure Santa has him on the list for gifts too.

Fido will welcome a new collar, Kitty some catnip in toy form and the parakeet — a bird plaything.

If you plan to buy a new collar for the pooch, here are some things to remember.

Unless you have a long-necked dog of the poodle variety, stay away from extra - wide collars; they make other breeds look ungainly and are often uncomfortable.

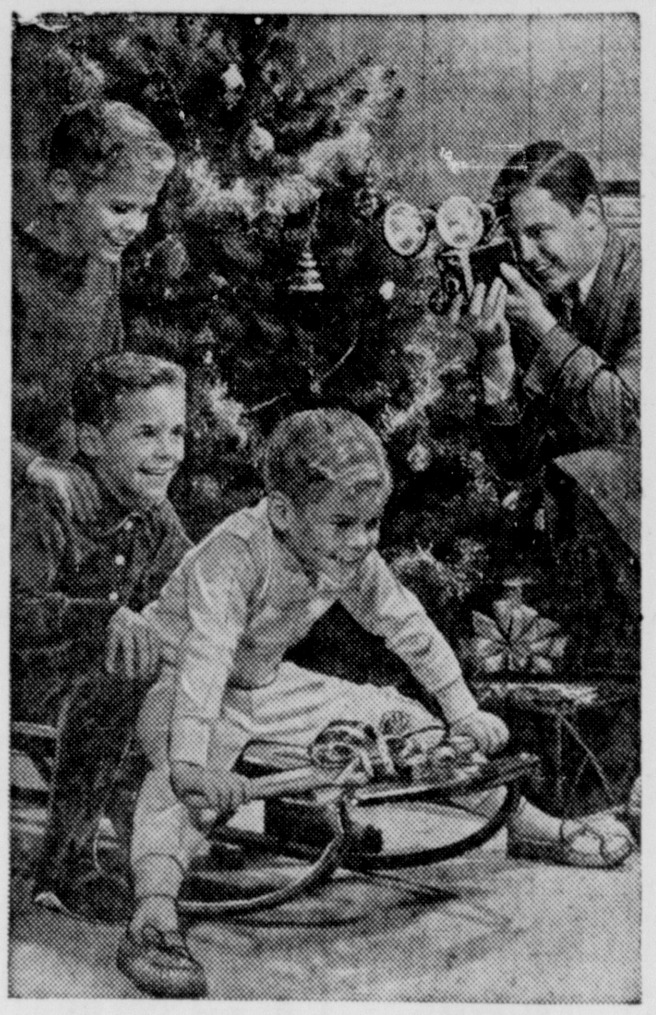
The lightwenght rolled - leather variety is an extremely comfortable collar for most breeds, if fitted properly.

The chain type or 'training" collar is also a good collar for dogs, and smooth edged, flat leather types are generally comfortable, too.

Choose one fun collar for your pet for "dress up occasions" in rhinestones, velvet or bright stone studs.

Cats want to join in the holiday fun, too. And, there are dozens of imaginative items for Tabby — assorted catnip toys, a catnip rug to roll on, a scratching post, nylon lead or a gaily-colored lightweight collar.

Parakeets are naturally playful birds and they enjoy tinkly, rolly bells, plastic dumbells to carry about, ladders to climb and other fun toys.



THERE WILL BE A STAR-STUDDED CAST ready and waiting on Christmas morning for your home movie story. The cast, the set and location are always in focus—from a few feet to infinity — with this simple aim-and-shoot movie camera. In full color or black and white.

A CHRISTMAS MASTERPIECE. Compose your own dramatic setting for holiday entertaining with fine china, silver, lovely linen and your own creative ingenuity. Use pine branches, bright styrofoam board, multi-colored Christmas balls and white-sprayed pine cones—add tall candlesticks, fine china and your finest silver flatware and holloware—and lo, you have the perfect background for your festive foods.

Tips Offered For Safety In Yule Driving

If you're one of the many millions who will be traveling the highways for the traditional Christmas visit back home, remember that increased holiday traffic and winter driving conditions hold no respect for the Yuletide spirit.

To enjoy that holiday visit and to return home safely — drive carefully and make certain your car is in good operating condition.

Sam Hanks, former winner of the Inndianapolis "500", who is now Director of Racing for the Indianapolis Motor Speedway, offers the following safety tips for holiday driving:

Before starting the trip, make sure brakes, tires, lights, steering, windshield wiper and horn are functioning properly. These items must be checked regularly, not only at inspection time.

Don't undertake any winter trips without snow tires on the rear wheels or tire chains in the trunk. If you've never fitted chains to your wheels, practice doing this ahead of time.

When driving up a hill covered with ice, hard-packed snow or wet from rain, gain speed and use a high gear. Try to gain maximum momentum on the good part of the road — and if wheel spin starts, ease back on the throttle.

Braking distances may be increased tenfold on snowbound or icy roads. Use the brakes gently. If the wheels lock, let the brakes off immediately.

To help prevent skidding, try giving the brake pedal several light dabs. And, on any steep descent, start off slowly — no more than walking pace.

And, finally — if you're filled with Christmas spirits, don't let them be the liquid kind. A driver and a drink are a deadly combination — at any time.

Charming Traditions Surround Christmas

There are many charming traditions about love and lovers connected with the Christmas holidays.

In northern England, young maidens place holly under their pillows with the verse, "Good St. Thomas, serve me right, and send me my true love tonight."

In the Swiss Alps, when a young woman accepts a gift of edelweiss, it is traditionally understood that also accepts the young gentleman who offers it.

And of course the custom of kissing under the mistletoe, as an expression of everlasting love, is one which dates back centuries.

Although still a part of our Christmas tradition, it is now more of a "fun" custom rather than a sentimental one.

Help For Hostess

Feel Pre-Holiday Panic?

By VIVIAN BROWN
AP Newsfeatures Writer

If you find yourself counting buffet plates and silver instead of sheep before you fall off to sleep, chances are you have the pre-holiday social season quivers.

"The majority of hostesses go through the same pre-party jitters," says clinical psychologist, Dr. Daniel Brower of Montclair, N. J. He advises that you analyze everything from peas to cues beforehand, and you can arrive at a formula for those would-be snags to party success.

Some people fear that they will confuse the guests names, because of their bad memory.

"This shouldn't happen if you memorize the names in advance and use word associations to do it. If you have invited a Mrs. Hall, for example, keep a large empty room in mind when you think of her," he advises. It's unlikely you'll call her "Mrs. Space or Mrs. Empty."

Another tortuous thought for some hostesses is that the party will be dull because the guests won't get along, he says. But you should have thought in advance to invite people who have something in common.

"It's up to the host and hostess to steer people into groups, reminding someone that a friend is at the opposite end of the room."

Steering friends to each other can be a trap, of course, Brower admits. Happy little cliques hate to be broken up, never giving a thought to the not-so-well-acquainted guests on the sidelines.

"The host and hostess should move in gently on little groups," he advises. "You don't have to break up the conversation obviously."

What to serve guests is another worry, but Brower advises that "most people come to see one another. Don't wear yourself out preparing food. Simple cheese and vegetable relishes should fill the bill."

An experienced partygiver usually has a well-stocked bar for holiday toasts. But a large group can be a source of concern and expense unless you settle for a punch or one drink for all.

"Keep the bar simple," he suggests. "You can't expect to suit everyone. Some people drink and some do not. Offer a drink that will suit everyone, such as sherry. If you want a status symbol you have the "imported" label. Dry amontillado, sweet oloroso or other Spanish sherries may be served in different ways to vary the service — over ice, chilled or with soda."

Will the guests ever go home? That's another thought that can terrify the hostess when she has run out of food and drink. Guests won't go home if you continue to be charming when it's time to say goodbye.

You don't need to yawn in their faces, he points out, but you should avoid starting new topics of conversation with those who are leaving. It can take an hour-and-a-half to say goodbyes when people are clustered at the door."

There's Lasting Beauty In A Gift Of Living Plants

A well - rooted Christmas tradition is the thoughtful custom of giving living plants as gifts.

From the colorful poinsettia to the sophisticated dracaena, living plants are always welcomed. While some, like the poinsettia, are seasonal, many plants will live indefinitely with proper care.

Make certain the plant you choose is healthy. Sagging stems or drooping leaves are often danger signals. Be sure the plant is in a red clay pot. The natural porosity of a red clay pot helps maintain the proper air - moisture balance of the soil, and safeguards against over-watering.

Keep plants out of drafts, away from radiators, and avoid sudden changes in temperature.

Test before watering. If the earth around the plant is moist, giving easily under slight thumb pressure, it doesn't need watering.

Each plant species has its individual needs. Your florist or nurseryman can tell you what they are and in many cases will furnish a printed card of such pointers.

Woman Gets Reward; Now She's Pioneer

MEMPHIS (AP) — Housewife Mrs. Edward Storer wanted to be a pioneer.

So in her spare time she went through musty files and faded maps of the Army Engineers and she traveled up and down the Mississippi River.

Mrs. Storer now has her reward.

A notice posted in the courthouse announces her as the owner of an island no one ever claimed before.

Railroad Instrument Insures Smooth Rides

CLEVELAND (AP) — A device which resembles a miniature boat trailer, and uses piano strings, is being used by the Erie-Lackawanna Railroad to insure level tracks and smooth rides for passengers and freight.

The device, called a "surfacer," registers low spots — variations as small as an eighth-inch — on an indicator.

The United States paid $7,200,000 to Russia for Alaska in 1867.

Birds Make Unique Gifts

If you're looking for a really unusual Christmas gift — one which brings lasting enjoyment—try a pet bird.

Cage birds make ideal pets for either city or suburban living.

There are many varieties from which to choose, ranging from canaries and parakeets to exotic finches, myna birds, love birds, and even cockatiels and parrots.

Colorful little parakeets are affectionate and playful and readily integrate into family life. What's more, they can be taught to "talk" and to do tricks.

To really dramatize your gift, select a parakeet in your recipient's favorite color (they come in a wide variety of hues) and present the bird in a pretty cage.

If you want to include a booklet on parakeet care and training, write to French's Pet Bird Laboratories, One Mustard Street, Rochester, N. Y. for a free copy.

Gloves And Christmas Will Go Hand In Hand

For some reason or other, gifts of gloves and Christmas seem to go hand in hand.

This year, there's no problem at all in making your selections — thanks to the fit-them-all virtures of new stretch gloves.

You will find smart styles in string or yarn and leather combinations that are ideal for driving and winter sports, smart leather or suede stretch styles with fur cuffs and lining or soft, supple leathers with knit linings.

For wear with everything this side of formal wear, there are lovely stretchies in crochet - look styles.

For day time as well as date time, there are a host of shorty, 4, 6 and 8-button lengths in everything from stretch knits to stretch satins.

Complementing the season's short - sleeved and bare-arm fashions, the above-the-elbow glove, in most elegant fabrics, wins honors in the stretch.

Florida Propaganda Found In California

ST. PETERSBURG, Fla. (AP) — California has a would-be defector.

John Wallace, just back from a trip to San Francisco, said a limousine driver in the California city asked him where he was from., "Florida," said Wallace.

"Do you know what Calif. stands for?" the driver asked. "It stands for come and live in Florida."

He mused a moment, then added: "That's where I wished I lived."

DON'T FORGET THE PETS. Play Santa to the pooch in the family with a gift of a fancy new collar, a brand-new lead or a sweater for inclement weather. A doubly-good gift idea is that of an identification tag with Fido's name, your name, address and phone number on it.

Gifts For Your Home Glow In New Leathers

Handsome, luxurious, leather-upholstered furniture heads the list of major Christmas gifts.

An occasional chair of leather, a love seat or even a full-size sofa is a versatile asset to any home. Leather fits in with almost any decor, period style or contemporary.

Now there are more than 500 colors available in leather upholstery; leather wears longer than most furniture coverings — its colors mellow with age.

Apricot, pink, flame, gold, burnt orange, lilac, and combinations of black and white, blue and green, and purple and green are just a few of the new colors in leather upholstery.

In soft, feminine no-glossy leathers or in sturdy masculine leathers — there are smooth and plain surface's or tufting, quilting, stitching, embossing or trapunto decoration.

You'll find a selection of Swedish - influenced modern furniture featuring leather seat and back cushions with natural, blond and light walnut frames. Especially popular for dressing up family or TV rooms is the long casual leather - and - wood or leather-and-cane sofa.

For more traditional tastes, there are elegant period pieces combining antiqued leather with gracefully carved walnut, mahogany or ebony wood frames. There are baroque and regency pieces in delicate-appearing but hard-wearing white leather with gold trim and gold wood.

Prized leather chairs or sofas in the home can be accessorized with coffee tables or end tables topped with matching inlaid leathers.

There are also hundreds of beautiful leather lamp bases, table lighters, cigarette boxes, book ends, as well as leather-and-bead curtains, wall coverings and even decorative leather wall plaques to please leather lovers at Christmas.

Charming Dolls 'Almost Human'

This Christmas dolls are more like people than ever before.

Any such happy surprises for doting doll mothers as a doll that really kisses with a good loud smack are included in doll collections, the Toy Guidance Council reports.

Infant dolls are more embraceable than ever; new adaptations of plastics give a soft pliant quality to arms, legs and neck, characteristic of the newborn baby.

Doll families are real playmate size, with muscular flexibility paralleling real youngsters on the score of agility.

A fascinating array of miniature dolls in the 8-to-12-inch categories are exponents of the latest fashions. New boy dolls, too, are outfitted in ivy league styles.

Birds Make Unique Gifts

If you're looking for a really unusual Christmas gift — one which brings lasting enjoyment— try a pet bird.

Cage birds make ideal pets for either city or suburban living.

There are many varieties from which to choose, ranging from canaries and parakeets to exotic finches, myna birds, love birds, and even cockatiels and parrots.

Colorful little parakeets are affectionate and playful and readily integrate into family life. What's more, they can be taught to "talk" and to do tricks.

Parakeets require little in the way of special attention. A natural feeding diet, complete to the last vitamin, is available in package form at the grocery store.

To really dramatize your gift, select a parakeet in your recipient's favorite color (they come in a wide variety of hues) and present the bird in a pretty cage.

If you want to include a booklet on parakeet care and training, write to French's Pet Bird Laboratories, One Mustard Street, Rochester, N. Y. for a free copy.

Gloves And Christmas Will Go Hand In Hand

For some reason or other, gifts of gloves and Christmas seem to go hand in hand.

This year, there's no problem at all in making your selections — thanks to the fit-them-all virtures of new stretch gloves.

You will find smart styles in string or yarn and leather combinations that are ideal for driving and winter sports, smart leather or suede stretch styles with fur cuffs and lining or soft, supple leathers with knit linings.

For wear with everything this side of formal wear, there are lovely stretchies in crochet - look styles.

For day time as well as date time, there are a host of shorty, 4, 6 and 8-button lengths in everything from stretch knits to stretch satins.

Complementing the season's short - sleeved and bare-arm fashions, the above-the-elbow glove, in most elegant fabrics, wins honors in the stretch.

Florida Propaganda Found In California

ST. PETERSBURG, Fla. (AP) — California has a would-be defector.

John Wallace, just back from a trip to San Francisco, said a limousine driver in the California city asked him where he was from., "Florida," said Wallace.

"Do you know what Calif. stands for?" the driver asked. "It stands for come and live in Florida."

He mused a moment, then added: "That's where I wished I lived."

DON'T FORGET THE PETS. Play Santa to the pooch in the family with a gift of a fancy new collar, a brand-new lead or a sweater for inclement weather. A doubly-good gift idea is that of an identification tag with Fido's name, your name, address and phone number on it.

Gifts For Your Home Glow In New Leathers

Some gifts are personal, others: a family affair. Gifts for the home — that add color, warmth and comfort — are usually enjoyed by the family.

Handsome, luxurious, leather-upholstered furniture heads the list of major Christmas gifts.

An occasional chair of leather, a love seat or even a full-size sofa is a versatile asset to any home. Leather fits in with almost any decor, period style or contemporary.

Now there are more than 500 colors available in leather upholstery; leather wears longer than most furniture coverings — its colors mellow with age.

Apricot, pink, flame, gold, burnt orange, lilac, and combinations of black and white, blue and green, and purple and green are just a few of the new colors in leather upholstery.

In soft, feminine no-glossy leathers or in sturdy masculine leathers — there are smooth and plain surface's or tufting, quilting, stitching, embossing or trapunto decoration.

You'll find a selection of Swedish - influenced modern furniture featuring leather seat and back cushions with natural, blond and light walnut frames. Especially popular for dressing up family or TV rooms is the long casual leather - and - wood or leather-and-cane sofa.

For more traditional tastes, there are elegant period pieces combining antiqued leather with gracefully carved walnut, mahogany or ebony wood frames. There are baroque and regency pieces in delicate-appearing but hard-wearing white leather with gold trim and gold wood.

Prized leather chairs or sofas in the home can be accessorized with coffee tables or end tables topped with matching inlaid leathers.

There are also hundreds of beautiful leather lamp bases, table lighters, cigarette boxes, book ends, as well as leather-and-bead curtains, wall coverings and even decorative leather wall plaques to please leather lovers at Christmas.

Charming Dolls 'Almost Human'

This Christmas dolls are more like people than ever before.

Any such happy surprises for doting doll mothers as a doll that really kisses with a good loud smack are included in doll collections, the Toy Guidance Council reports.

Infant dolls are more embraceable than ever; new adaptations of plastics give a soft pliant quality to arms, legs and neck, characteristic of the newborn baby.

Doll families are real playmate size, with muscular flexibility paralleling real youngsters on the score of agility.

A fascinating array of miniature dolls in the 8-to-12-inch categories are exponents of the latest fashions. New boy dolls, too, are outfitted in ivy league styles.

Fine Jewelry Has Prestige

Women adore jewelry gifts at Christmas, especially when the preciousness is "built in".

Even the tiniest of diamonds flashing from a gold pin, for instance, labels the gift as one of worth.

Women enjoy the prestige of owning the "real" thing, as they describe it, since fine jewelry can be enjoyed for a lifetime.

Selecting jewelry for someone else should be done with care. Size of features are as important as the shape of face.

For example, some petite women with rather bold features are able to wear large earrings and necklaces while women of Junoesque stature with small, slim patrician features can't.

Jewelry worn around the face and neck, should be chosen for scale of features rather than for height or weight of body.

If in doubt — it's wise to lean toward simplicity of line. Traditional leaf forms and 14-karat gold circle pins, for instance, are always "safe" choices.

Given an opportunity, a piece of jewelry can grow. Jewelers stock a variety of add-to designs in bracelets and inexpensive necklaces.

One example is a "starter" bracelet consisting of a serpentine gold - filled chain, with a central diamond "daisy." Additional links can be added until the bracelet forms a complete diamond daisy garland.

Bracelet charms are perfect gifts for women. Disks of gold with sun rays emanating from a winking diamond provide space for the engraved name of a loved one. Delicate initials enlivened with a diamond add a personalized touch.

Many women love the new rings in pebbly and textured surfaces, twisted gold strands and Florentine finishes manipulated in high-rising designs and sparked with diamonds.

Fine jewelry is a gift of 'forever". It bespeaks of fine taste, has enduring value and becomes part of the family treasures for years to come.

'Advent' Wreath Seen Tradition

The season of Advent, which directly precedes Christmas and serves for many Christians as a time of preparation for the coming of the Christ Child, this year begins on Dec. 3.

In many Christian homes it is often marked by lovely old customs.

The Advent wreath is one such tradition that is observed while awaiting Christmas.

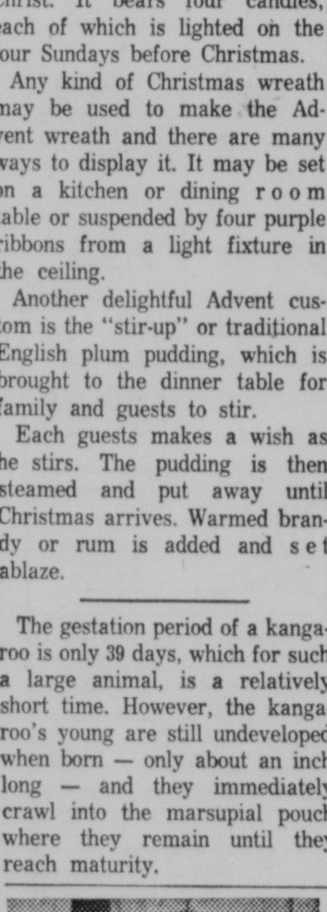
Although it is believed to have originated with the pagan fire wheel, it eventually came to represent the thousands of years the earth awaited the coming of Christ. It bears four candles, each of which is lighted on the four Sundays before Christmas.

Any kind of Christmas wreath may be used to make the Advent wreath and there are many ways to display it. It may be set on a kitchen or dining room table or suspended by four purple ribbons from a light fixture in the ceiling.

Another delightful Advent custom is the "stir-up" or traditional English plum pudding, which is brought to the dinner table for family and guests to stir.

Each guests makes a wish as he stirs. The pudding is then steamed and put away until Christmas arrives. Warmed brandy or rum is added and set ablaze.

The gestation period of a kangaroo is only 39 days, which for such a large animal, is a relatively short time. However, the kangaroo's young are still undeveloped when born — only about an inch long — and they immediately crawl into the marsupial pouch where they remain until they reach maturity.



FROM POLAR BEAR country comes this wonderfully-warm, shaggy - look jacket for young - hearted winter sports fans. This yummy - soft, gold-color Verel pile fabric is flattered by a mock leopard - trimmed hood.

ASK ANY WOMAN what she wants for Christmas and she'll no doubt say — "Make mine mink." Here is a style representative of the many soft, flattering small furs available this season. The collared cape stole with pocket front enhances every woman and is luxurious topping for all occasions in any of the many new, glowing mink shades.

Gay Packages Add Zest To The Holiday Season

Half the fun of receiving Christmas presents is in admiring beautifully wrapped packages.

Fortunately, it's easy to create unusual and pretty packages, and it's fun, too.

Here are a few suggestions or wrapping your gifts this Christmas:

When selecting ribbon for a package, remember to use light ribbons when wrapping with dark paper as dark ribbon would make your package look heavy. Be sure to wrap your package snugly, without bulges, tying ribbons firmly.

The secret of a neat package is in using the right size of wrapping paper to avoid bunchiness.

Cut your paper to allow for a 2-inch overlap lengthwise, leaving the ends approximately 1 inch longer than half the depth of the box. Fasten paper firmly around the box with seals, paste or sticky tape.

If you are using paper with a large design on it, check to make sure the design is showing on the face of the box before you fasten your paper into place.

Once your package is wrapped, draw ribbon around the box and tie it securely with a square knot. You can vary your design many ways, simply by changing the direction of your ribbon.

The cross-corner-tie is achieved by drawing your ribbon slantwise to top of box, under upper right corner, up and over lower right, under lower left, back to your starting point.

The sunburst tie can be made by winding ribbon in parallel bands around your package; cut ribbon, crossing one of loose ends over and under bands; tie, drawing bands together firmly and evenly.

Equally distinctive and smart is a series of bands around the package, or even one band. The simple 2-way tie is used a great deal and is equally attractive.

After you have tied your package, fashion a bow for it. There are many types of bows that can be made easily from ordinary ribbon.

The simplest is the shoestring bow. Hold your ribbon by its edges, between your thumb and middle finger, with forefinger behind ribbon to steady it.

Form two equal length loops, cu ends slightly longer than loops, trimming ends on sharp slant. Tie a narrower length of ribbon around your bow with a square knot; fasten it to your box. Two shoestring bows tied together form an even lovelier bow.

The "spring" bow is another simple - to - make bow that has many delightful variations. To form this bow, wind ribbon around the tip of your thumb, making graduated loops equal in distance from each other until bow reaches desired size.

Continue holding bow firmly between thumb and forefinger as you slip a narrow ribbon through center loop and tie it with a square knot. Spring bows can be used singly, doubly or triply, and in clusters.

If you lack the time or patience to make your own bows, choose from the many lovely pre-tied styles that can be purchased at most stores. They come in all colors and sizes and give a truly professional look to your gift wrapping.

Snake Chaser Claims Rattling Good Record

RESCUE, Calif. (AP) — Halley Wing thinks he set a record of 15 rattlesnakes to a gallon of gasoline.

Wing was chasing a large rattlesnake near this community in the gold mining country of the Sierra Nevada foothills when the snake disappeared into a burrow.

Recalling advice that gasoline fumes would bring snakes out, he poured a gallon into the burrow. Out came the big snake — three feet long — and 14 little rattlers. Wing killed them all.

Scale Models Are Popular

Kids who have discovered a fascinating sense of achievement in building scale models of rockets and planes, ships and trains are forever eager for new fields to conquer.

The "why's," "wherefore's," and "what makes it run" are answered as boys and girls too—along with their parents—carefully and meticulously assemble their exciting scale models.

An example of this type of product is an exact miniature of a real automobile engine in kit form.

This one-quarter-scale kit of an automobile can be assembled into an actual operating model with sparkplugs that "fire" and can be retimed.

Part for part, it is identical to the full-size protoytpe and can be disassembled and rebuilt repeatedly just as the real engine.

Although it is great for mechanically inclined boys, it also will be appreciated by motor-minded adults in every age group.

In the field of science, "Chicken Little" makes the mysteries of natural science more fun than anybody ever dreamed.

When this kit is put together, the youngster has constructed and learned the life span of a chicken from the fertilized egg to the baby chick.

Each of the seven stages in the development of the chick comes with its own transparent egg shell and is a separate construction project.

Chicken Little can be taken apart and can be reconstructed for permanent study and display. It is said to answer all questions about how a chicken is born, except "which came first."

A Polished Home Adds To Holiday

While you are planning to put your home in its prettiest garb for Christmas, be sure to put a shine on your furniture and floors to match the glow of your Christmas lights.

Well - waxed table tops and floors give the house its own holiday glow quite apart from the Yuletide decorations.

Wax also helps to protect furniture finishes from water marks by wet glasses and scratches from placing ornaments and gifts on tables, say the makers of Johnson's wax products.

Nowadays, you can wax as you dust with new pushbutton products that are simply sprayed on furniture and then wiped off with a soft cloth.

Also on the easy - to -use list are liquid furniture waxes for high shine or subdued finishes both types clean as well as polish.

Some scratched and marred furniture finish can best be minimized with reliable paste wax.

A GIFT OF GOLD means real fashion this Christmas. She'll welcome this soft, fine gold chain necklace with its tassel drop and sprinkling of tiny seed beads. The long drop earrings are high fashion notes too, says the Fashion Coordination Institute.

Written Message Makes Greetings More 'Personal'

Christmas cards are one of the happy expressions of America's Yuletide spirit, as more than 2,000,000 senders demonstrated last year with beautifully - decorated cards that many recipients used in their homes' holiday decorations.

However, no matter how decorative the card, it does not fulfill its real meaning of friendship unless it also carries a personal message from you, says Jerlyn Madison, consumer consultant for the Sheaffer Pen Co.

Such a message should be in your own handwriting, says Miss Madison, and should make recipients feel that you were thinking just of them when you sent the card.

The card's message need not be long, but it should have a feeling of warmth, such as "To remind you that my thoughts are with you this Christmas."

If you are sending many cards, order them early so as to have plenty of time to write your messages, she suggests. Don't try to write them all at once.

Do them leisurely when you have time to think. Make sure that your address book is handy, have a good fountain pen and colored inks — if you like them—to emphasize the Christmas spirit.

If time permits, write a short newsy note on the back of the card; if you have any new snapshots of you or the family enclose one with the card. These are the little extras that give your Christmas greetings and card the meaning it should have.

Many Things Require Study When You Are Buying Toys

Christmas is a wonderful time of the year, but every adult with youngsters on his Christmas list accepts as part of the holiday tradition the problem of choosing the magically - right gift for the young fry.

Each year toys seem to become more fantastically unbelievable.

For example, dolls can now do things that some humans can't. Their wardrobes are more extensive and elaborate than their potential Mommies can hope to acquire in a life time. Their prices often make the head of the household consider listing Dolly as an additional dependent.

A recent research study at Cornell University lists the essential elements of a toy gift to make it worthwhile.

It is most important, stated the report, that the toy must first of all please the child. But to make the gift truly rewarding, its play value should not merely please for a brief period.

The gift should contribute to the child's knowledge and awareness of the real world. It should stimulate imagination and inspire "thinking" and curiosity.

Rated high on the list was the gift that offers an opportunity of accomplishment — of building something new.

Here's where scale model building kits come into their own. Winning honors too, are a wide variety of equipped sets for construction and engineering projects . . .for experiments in chemistry and lab techniques . . electronics and astronomy. All of these stimulate the young person's imagination. Gifts such as these help solve the problem for many discriminating adult shoppers.

It seems possible, too, according to the Cornell University research, to be able to "buy" the gift of a closer family relationship—especially that of father and son.

Scale model construction kits are making this a reality. Building scale miniatures of ships, planes, and cars, has become the great all year around pastime.

Christmas is a wonderful time of the year, but every adult with youngsters on his Christmas list accepts as part of the holiday tradition the problem of choosing the magically - right gift for the young fry.

Each year toys seem to become more fantastically unbelievable.

For example, dolls can now do things that some humans can't. Their wardrobes are more extensive and elaborate than their potential Mommies can hope to acquire in a life time. Their prices often make the head of the household consider listing Dolly as an additional dependent.

A recent research study at Cornell University lists the essential elements of a toy gift to make it worthwhile.

It is most important, stated the report, that the toy must first of all please the child. But to make the gift truly rewarding, its play value should not merely please for a brief period.

The gift should contribute to the child's knowledge and awareness of the real world. It should stimulate imagination and inspire "thinking" and curiosity.

Rated high on the list was the gift that offers an opportunity of accomplishment — of building something new.

Here's where scale model building kits come into their own. Winning honors too, are a wide variety of equipped sets for construction and engineering projects . . .for experiments in chemistry and lab techniques . . electronics and astronomy. All of these stimulate the young person's imagination. Gifts such as these help solve the problem for many discriminating adult shoppers.

It seems possible, too, according to the Cornell University research, to be able to "buy" the gift of a closer family relationship —especially that of father and son.

Scale model construction kits are making this a reality. Building scale miniatures of ships, planes, and cars, has become the great all year around pastime.

Dancing Adds Extra Fun To Holiday Fete

Christmas, traditionally a family holiday, sees relatives and close friends of all ages gathering to enjoy Yuletide festivities.

To make the holiday extra special this year, plan a real fun get-together with tree-trimming, music and dancing.

There's a greater sense of participation for all if you put off trimming the tree and putting up the decorations until the clan has gathered.

Then every one can join in the decorating jamboree to make it a real event.

After the tree has been trimmed, refreshments enjoyed, then it's time for music.

If there's a piano or other musical instrument in the home, then everybody can join in with Christmas carols.

Even without musical accompaniment, carols sung by the whole family add meaning to the holiday.

When more active entertainment is indicated, there's nothing better than dancing to put everyone on their toes.

All you need is a little floor space, a source of music and an energetic twosome to start the dancing.

If you've a recreation room, give it a ballroom air with evergreen boughs, lights and ornaments. Or, roll up the rug in the living room and let everyone join in.

Because dancing has no age limit, grandparents can join in the fun along with their grandchildren to "dance all night" for an added attraction to the family gathering.

Each Country Enjoys Favored Holiday Dish

What will you feast on this Christmas?

It depends largely on what part of the world you live in, for countries differ greatly as to traditional menus for Christmastime.

In many countries, incuding France, Ireland and the Scandinavia countries, goose takes the place of honor at holiday tables. In Scandinavian homes, the tables are also laden with meats and fish during the Yule season.

Germans add apple stuffing to their Christmas goose, while the Dutch like hheirs with highly-spiced dressing and plenty of puddings, fruit cakes, honey cakes and dessert breads.

England serves her beloved roast beef during the holiday season and Latin countries choose lamb for their Yuletide feasts. In Portugal, the traditional dinner has fish and fowl.

And in America, of course, the turkey reigns supreme as the favorite dish.

CHRISTMAS IS IN THE BAG for any woman with gifts such as these! From Leather Industries of America comes this line-up of handsome handbag fashions—lower left: a three-tiered black suede handbag for evening wear; upper left: cream-colored leather satchel bag for daytime wear; upper right: soft-sided leather pouch bag to wear with suits, and lower left: a suede shoulder bag with flap closing and adjustable straps—a handsome go-to-business companion.

Remove The Wishbone To Get More Turkey

TORONTO (AP) — If you want to get more of those meat slices of white meat from your next turkey, remove the wishbone before cooking.

"It does make quite a bit of difference," says Dorothy Batchellar, home economics director for a poultry products institute in Canada. "If the wishbone isn't removed, the meat has to be hacked away as well as possible."

To remove the bone, draw back the neck skin until it exposes the wishbone area. With a sharp knife or scissors, cut the meat down to the bone and away from it. Scissors can be used to cut the bone where it is anchored at the shoulder bones and at the top of the breastbone. Lift out and put the skin back.

"If you're sentimental about the wishbone, dry it in the oven, decorate with holly and give to the family to wish on as usual."

If a frozen turkey is purchased, it may be thawed in the package in which it comes. To hasten thawing, put in a pan of cold water.

Remove the package containing the giblets and check the cavity to make sure it is clean. Wipe with a damp cloth or run water through the bird, then wipe dry.

Turkey does not have to be stuffed. Flavor from the dressing does not penetrate more than one-half inch into the meat and the same effect can be obtained by sprinkling the cavity with salt and poultry dressing. If you don't stuff, deduct five minutes cooking time for each pound of turkey.

When the bird is ready for the oven, rub with melted fat and cover with a tent of aluminum foil tucked at the ends but open at the sides so that the heat can circulate. Put on a rack in a shallow pan.

If you do not own a large enough pan, make one from heavy aluminum foil and set on a cookie sheet. If you do not own a rack, substitute crossed kitchen forks, jar rings or any kind of a trivet.

"Forget about the bird for the first half of the cooking time. Frequent peeking lowers the oven temperature and prolongs cooking time," explains Miss Batcheller.

Remove foil during the last half hour to allow the skin to crisp.

For a true roasted flavor, cook at 325 degrees. The turkey is done when the drumstick twists easily from side to side or when the bone slips easily inside the meat. If a meat thermometer is used, it should register 190 degrees in the meat or 165 degrees in the stuffing.

St. Francis Set Up First Stable Scene

Christmas today would seem incomplete without representations of the stable at Bethlehem, with the Babe in His crib, and figures of Mary, Joseph and the shepherds.

Yet the first crib or "creche" did not come into existence until 1223.

It was in that year that St. Francis of Assisi found himself faced with a problem as the holy season approached. In the little town of Greccio, he had been laboring to revive a dead faith in the hearts of its poeple.

So far, he had had no success, and now he cast about for a way to make these people understand the beauty and meaning of Christmas.

He decided to set up the Bethlehem stable scene itself, right in the village church. After receiving permission for this unusual undertaking, he and his followers set to work.

They borrowed animals, hay and wood from helpful parishioners, and invited all the peasants of Greccio to attend church that Christmas Eve.

As the villagers arrived, they were rewarded with a wonderful sight. There, before their eyes, was the story of Christmas.

To the illiterate peasants of Greccio, that simple scene conveyed the message of Christmas far more clearly than all the sermons in the world.

This "praesepe", as it is called in Italy, became an annual custom and then quickly spread throughout the rest of the Christian world.

The season that we now know as Christmas was originally a time of pagan rituals. In ancient times, Dec. 25 was the day of the Sun Festival and the 12 days following were devoted to the expulsion of all evil.

During this time, torches were lighted, bells jangled and kettles clattered in a great hue and cry that rose to ear-splitting proportions in order to drive out all wandering witches, ghosts and demons.

About 80 per cent of the leather manufactured in the United States goes into the production of shoes.

Safety Tips Presented For Christmas Season

Here are a few Christmas safety tips:

Don't leave lights burning on the tree when away from home and inspect it often to see whether it is drying out.

Discard the tree when the needles start to fall.

Discard gift wrapping immediately.

Stand the tree in water to retard drying and set it up in the coolest part of the room.

Use fireproof decoration of glass and metal.

Check lights for defective wiring.

Gold Jewelry 'Rush' Is On Give Luggage

This Christmas, thousands of women will thank Santa for fabulous gold jewelry.

Never before has fine gold jewelry displayed such beauty, fashion importance and wide variety as in this year's showings.

Precious gold has new finishes, shapes and ornamentation.

It is braided, linked and shaped in beautiful designs. It is often dusted with precious jewels — a most dazzling array of pins, necklaces earrings and bracelets.

Whether in 14-or-18 karat, or simply and elegantly gold-filled, the glow of gold jewelry "goes with everything" and every gift budget.

In combination with pearls or beads, whether necklace, bracelet, pin or earrings, gold jewelry takes on added drama and even broader fashion importance.

Pins set in colorful stones and designed in dimensional shapes are placed to dramatize a fashion point on cape-like lapels, waistlines, far out on the shoulder or in the hair.

Massed bracelets in gold, pearl and colorful combinations fill in for shortened sleeves. Earrings are equally dramatic in long glittering drops, showers of gold and pearl or cyrstal and stone. Hoop earrings look gay and glamorous in gold and stone-set styles.

Necklaces are unusual combinations of bold beads strung in longer lengths with a dropping tassel, or jeweled collars and fine gold chain collars, worn without any fear of over dressing.

The season is right for exciting new jewelry fashions that give every woman a chance to give in to her enjoyment of color, drama and fun.

Sterling Silver Makes Good Gift

The silversmith's art is having a new and happy upsurge as fine sterling silver flatware finds increasing use in modern living.

This new flowering of an ancient art offers some beautiful gift suggestions for Christmas this year.

Modern sterling knives and forks are works of art and things of lasting beauty, as elegant sterling takes its place in today's living.

The most advanced styling in today's sterling looks as new as a rocket. Forks may have three prongs, knives may be shortened almost to the shape of a surgeon's scalpel and spoons are squared off.

Some sterling pieces emphasize beauty rather than advanced design.

Handles are shaped by skilled artisans, to fit and balance the palm of the hand, to make the new sterling a delight to use as well as to see. Handles are often ornamented with designs as carefully cut as diamonds, to give sparkle and elegance to the gleaming silver.

This Christmas the young homemaker will find place settings of her chosen sterling a memorable gift, while all homemakers will be delighted to receive additional pieces of their sterling.

When you are freezing unbaked drop cookie dough, drop the mixture as usual on a cookie sheet and freeze. When the dough has frozen, remove from the cookie sheet and freezer pack (between double sheets of waxed paper) in a small container.

SHE'LL LOVE THIS luxurious looking hostess robe for her leisure moments. In a fine knit Eastman Chromspun acetate and nylon, the fabric drapes itself into elegantly classic lines.

THIS CHARMING table setting, inspired by the old English carol, features a green tree centerpiece, hung with heavy gold paper "pears". Place mats carry out the carol theme and bayberry candles add holiday cheer.

Automation Puts Turkey On Table

TURLOCK, Calif. (AP) — The turkey on your Thanksgiving table, smelling of mouth-watering dressing, has changed a lot since the first Pilgrims' children reached for drumsticks.

Then a wiry fly bird, shot on the wing, it is now a compact hunk of meat, grown in a living laboratory and processed on the assembly line.

Consider the turkeys of Tulock, a city in California's San Joaquin Valley which calls itself America's turkey capital. The area raised nearly five million turkeys last year, with a market value of more than $23 million.

Local turkey ranches vary greatly. The common denominators are the use of college-trained manpower, cost accounting and a great deal of automation.

Some commercial growers buy turkey eggs from breeders, send them to custom hatcheries (Wallace Lindskoog's two custom incubators hatch around three million turkey poults a year from eggs supplied by the customer) and buy ready - mixed formula feeds.

Others, probably the most numerous, raise turkeys for a major feed or processing company on contract. The grower supplies the equipment and labor. The company supplies the poult and its food and takes the bird for market at maturity.

The grower is paid from 25 cents to 40 cents a bird, depending on the age of the poult when he got it.

Still others, like Elwood Swanson, do their own breeding, run their own hatcheries and brooder houses.

Swanson's Westlock Farms raises 140,000 to 200,000 turkeys a year. Swanson operates his own 16-formula feed mill, an automated one-man operation. And in the brooder house, one man cares for 20,000 poults, averaging a half hour to an hour a day at such chores as operating the litter-turning apparatus and injecting chemicals in the automatic water fountains.

Another independent grower, Melvin Soderstrom of Soderstrom Brothers, says, "The turkey will survive any heat wave (frequent in the San Joaquin Valley) if it has shade."

Soderstrom Brothers, which raises turkeys to market size in large fenced enclosures, 2,500 to a flock, provides great shade areas under corrugated aluminum supported by eight-foot steel posts.

The Soderstroms have been raising turkeys more than 35 years and have helped start many of their neighbors, including Swanson, in the business. Both operations last year averaged approximately $1 gross profit per bird.

Nearly 85 million turkeys were marketed in the United States in 1960 and though there is a growing year-round market, Thanksgiving and Christmas are still the big seasons prepared for at Turlock's two processing plants. One plant is operated by Armour, the other by the Mowrer Farms Division of Nulaid Farmers Association.

At the latter, live birds are loaded directly from trucks on an overhead line traveling about five miles an hour. Just before the line enters the processing plant, the dangling birds, head down, pass through an electrocution chamber where they are put to death by brushing against electrified rods. They are bled and then the line passes through showers of scalding water which strips off the feathers.

For the next 20 minutes each bird is inspected for disease by a U. S. veterinarian and disemboweled, the giblets packaged for future inspection. The hot water it absorbed is pumped out by vacuum and the feet and head are removed.

Then each bird is taken off the moving line, its drumsticks bent back and inserted under the skin. Next it is placed in a cooling tank for five hours.

A federal inspector makes sure the bird's internal temperature is down to 40 degrees, that it contains not more than 7 per cent water and that it is up to grade. If not, it goes to a cannery for soup or other manufacture.

If it is up to grade, the fowl in rapid succession is weighed, giblets inserted, is sprayed with chemical which prevents its tissues from crystallizing under freezing temperatures and is vacuum bagged in plastic.

Then comes the great cold shock. The turkey moves slowly, gathering a freezing crust, through a chamber where the temperature is 12 degrees below zero.

In 40 minutes the birds emerge, are placed in cartons and trucked into another cold room where they are finished off at 10 degrees below zero for 24 hours. Finally they are placed in holding rooms at zero temperatures to await movement to distributors.

Dale Andrews, the man who runs the fork lift in and out of the cold rooms, sometimes muses on all this turkey-centered automation as he arrives for work and bundles up in arctic gloves, ear muffs and sheepskin coat.

Here's Story Behind Carols

"O Little Town of Bethlehem" . . . "Silent Night" . . . It Came Upon a Midnight Clear."

We're all familiar with these beloved Christmas carols, but few of us know the interesting stories of how they came to be written.

The town of Bethlehem itself, on a still Christmas Eve in 1865, was the inspiration for Phillips Brooks' poem "O Little Town of Bethlehem."

The minister was so moved and impressed by the sight of that little town on that Christmas Eve so long ago that three years later he could still recall the scene vividly.

It was then that he wrote the words to this popular carol and had them set to music by Lewis Redner, his church organist.

Another minister, Dr. Edmund Sears, was responsible for yet another Christmas classic, "It Came Upon a Midnight Clear."

Dr. Sears had been in the study of his home in Wayland, Massachusetts, watching the snow as it fell on a lovely, clear night in 1849, when he was moved to write the words to this song.

They were later published in a newspaper and seen by Richard S. Willis, who in turn was inspired to write the music for this lovely old hymn.

One of our most popular carols came into being in a little Austrian village, on Christmas Eve in 1818

The local pastor, the Rev. Josef Mohr, had ventured out to bless a young mother and her newly-born son. The long walk on the silent, starry night through the snow - covered hills and the sight of the radiant mother and child impressed the good Father deeply When he returned to his rectory, he described the beauty of what he had seen in simple, moving lyrics.

Because the organ in their village church was broken, Fr. Mohr prevailed upon his church organist, Franz Gruber, to compose appropriate music on his guitar.

On Christmas night, accompanied only by the guitar, they sang for the first time, the beautiful carol, "Silent Night."

Perfumes Are Ready To Thrill The Ladies

A gift of perfume or cologne is a gift that bespeaks your thoughtfulness and consideration of a woman's femininity.

There are gay and lovely containers, beautifully - fashioned boxes in novelty designs, assorted perfume and cologne duos, trios with perfume, cologne and dusting powder or sachet. Yes, from all the perfumeries in the world, come a bright assortment of dainty and sultry fragrances.

Here Are Rules That Will Assure A Fireproof Yule

Every year, the holiday season is marred for many families because of fires caused by Christmas trees. Don't let this happen to you!

Be sure the tree you purchase is fresh. Determine this by bouncing the butt of the tree against the ground — if the needles stay on, and if the stump cut is sticking with resin, it is fresh. It's also best to select a small tree.

Before setting up your tree, saw off at least an inch of trunk diagonally, placing its base in a water - containing holder. At all times, keep the water - level well above the diagonal cut.

Locate your tree well away from fireplaces, radiators, television sets, powerful electric lights, or other sources of heat and electrical power.

When decorating, use only decorations of the non - combustible type. Be extremely careful with electric lights, checking them for defective wires and loose sockets.

Never use candles for decorations. Since too many light circuits in one outlet may overload the house wiring and blow a fuse, distribute the load among several outlets.

Be sure to turn off the tree lights when no one is to be in the room for any length of time and upon retiring.

Gold Jewelry 'Rush' Is On Give Luggage

This Christmas, thousands of women will thank Santa for fabulous gold jewelry.

Never before has fine gold jewelry displayed such beauty, fashion importance and wide variety as in this year's showings.

Precious gold has new finishes, shapes and ornamentation.

It is braided, linked and shaped in beautiful designs. It is often dusted with precious jewels — a most dazzling array of pins, necklaces earrings and bracelets.

Whether in 14-or-18 karat, or simply and elegantly gold-filled, the glow of gold jewelry "goes with everything" and every gift budget.

In combination with pearls or beads, whether necklace, bracelet, pin or earrings, gold jewelry takes on added drama and even broader fashion importance.

Pins set in colorful stones and designed in dimensional shapes are placed to dramatize a fashion point on cape-like lapels, waistlines, far out on the shoulder or in the hair.

Massed bracelets in gold, pearl and colorful combinations fill in for shortened sleeves. Earrings are equally dramatic in long glittering drops, showers of gold and pearl or cyrstal and stone. Hoop earrings look gay and glamorous in gold and stone-set styles.

Necklaces are unusual combinations of bold beads strung in longer lengths with a dropping tassel, or jeweled collars and fine gold chain collars, worn without any fear of over dressing.

The season is right for exciting new jewelry fashions that give every woman a chance to give in to her enjoyment of color, drama and fun.

Sterling Silver Makes Good Gift

The silversmith's art is having a new and happy upsurge as fine sterling silver flatware finds increasing use in modern living.

This new flowering of an ancient art offers some beautiful gift suggestions for Christmas this year.

Modern sterling knives and forks are works of art and things of lasting beauty, as elegant sterling takes its place in today's living.

The most advanced styling in today's sterling looks as new as a rocket. Forks may have three prongs, knives may be shortened almost to the shape of a surgeon's scalpel and spoons are squared off.

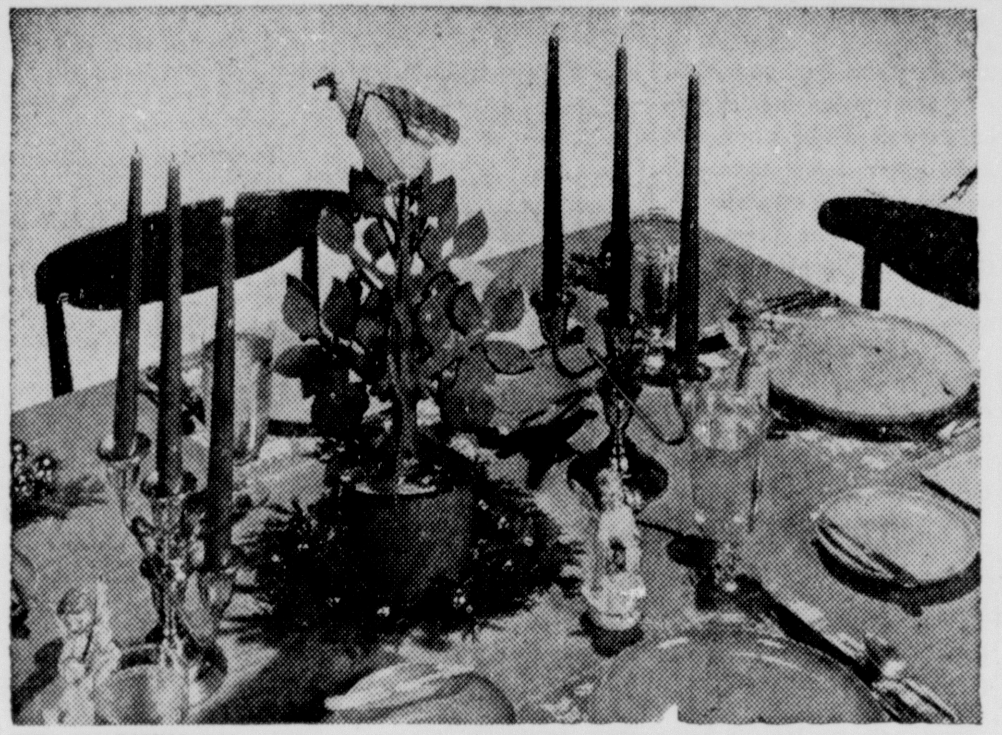
Some sterling pieces emphasize beauty rather than advanced design.

Handles are shaped by skilled artisans, to fit and balance the palm of the hand, to make the new sterling a delight to use as well as to see. Handles are often ornamented with designs as carefully cut as diamonds, to give sparkle and elegance to the gleaming silver.

This Christmas the young homemaker will find place settings of her chosen sterling a memorable gift, while all homemakers will be delighted to receive additional pieces of their sterling.

When you are freezing unbaked drop cookie dough, drop the mixture as usual on a cookie sheet and freeze. When the dough has frozen, remove from the cookie sheet and freezer pack (between double sheets of waxed paper) in a small container.

SHE'LL LOVE THIS luxurious looking hostess robe for her leisure moments. In a fine knit Eastman Chromspun acetate and nylon, the fabric drapes itself into elegantly classic lines.



THIS CHARMING table setting, inspired by the old English carol, features a green tree centerpiece, hung with heavy gold paper "pears". Place mats carry out the carol theme and bayberry candles add holiday cheer.

Automation Puts Turkey On Table

TURLOCK, Calif. (AP) — The turkey on your Thanksgiving table, smelling of mouth-watering dressing, has changed a lot since the first Pilgrims' children reached for drumsticks.

Then a wiry fly bird, shot on the wing, it is now a compact hunk of meat, grown in a living laboratory and processed on the assembly line.

Consider the turkeys of Turlock, a city in California's San Joaquin Valley which calls itself America's turkey capital. The area raised nearly five million turkeys last year, with a market value of more than $23 million.

Local turkey ranches vary greatly. The common denominators are the use of college-trained manpower, cost accounting and a great deal of automation.

Some commercial growers buy turkey eggs from breeders, send them to custom hatcheries (Wallace Lindskoog's two custom incubators hatch around three million turkey poults a year from eggs supplied by the customer) and buy ready - mixed formula feeds.

Others, probably the most numerous, raise turkeys for a major feed or processing company on contract. The grower supplies the equipment and labor. The company supplies the poult and its food and takes the bird for market at maturity.

The grower is paid from 25 cents to 40 cents a bird, depending on the age of the poult when he got it.

Still others, like Elwood Swanson, do their own breeding, run their own hatcheries and brooder houses.

Swanson's Westlock Farms raises 140,000 to 200,000 turkeys a year. Swanson operates his own 16-formula feed mill, an automated one-man operation. And in the brooder house, one man cares for 20,000 poults, averaging a half hour to an hour a day at such chores as operating the litter-turning apparatus and injecting chemicals in the automatic water fountains.

Another independent grower, Melvin Soderstrom of Soderstrom Brothers, says, "The turkey will survive any heat wave (frequent in the San Joaquin Valley) if it has shade."

Soderstrom Brothers, which raises turkeys to market size in large fenced enclosures, 2,500 to a flock, provides great shade areas under corrugated aluminum supported by eight-foot steel posts.

The Soderstroms have been raising turkeys more than 35 years and have helped start many of their neighbors, including Swanson, in the business. Both operations last year averaged approximately $1 gross profit per bird.

Nearly 85 million turkeys were marketed in the United States in 1960 and though there is a growing year-round market, Thanksgiving and Christmas are still the big seasons prepared for at Turlock's two processing plants. One plant is operated by Armour, the other by the Mowrer Farms Division of Nulaid Farmers Association.

At the latter, live birds are loaded directly from trucks on an overhead line traveling about five miles an hour. Just before the line enters the processing plant, the dangling birds, head down, pass through an electrocution chamber where they are put to death by brushing against electrified rods. They are bled and then the line passes through showers of scalding water which strips off the feathers.

For the next 20 minutes each bird is inspected for disease by a U. S. veterinarian and disemboweled, the giblets packaged for future inspection. The hot water it absorbed is pumped out by vacuum and the feet and head are removed.

Then each bird is taken off the moving line, its drumsticks bent back and inserted under the skin. Next it is placed in a cooling tank for five hours.

A federal inspector makes sure the bird's internal temperature is down to 40 degrees, that it contains not more than 7 per cent water and that it is up to grade. If not, it goes to a cannery for soup or other manufacture.

If it is up to grade, the fowl in rapid succession is weighed, giblets inserted, is sprayed with chemical which prevents its tissues from crystallizing under freezing temperatures and is vacuum bagged in plastic.

Then comes the great cold shock. The turkey moves slowly, gathering a freezing crust, through a chamber where the temperature is 12 degrees below zero.

In 40 minutes the birds emerge, are placed in cartons and trucked into another cold room where they are finished off at 10 degrees below zero for 24 hours. Finally they are placed in holding rooms at zero temperatures to await movement to distributors.

Dale Andrews, the man who runs the fork lift in and out of the cold rooms, sometimes muses on all this turkey-centered automation as he arrives for work and bundles up in arctic gloves, ear muffs and sheepskin coat.

Here's Story Behind Carols

"O Little Town of Bethlehem" . . . "Silent Night" . . . It Came Upon a Midnight Clear."

We're all familiar with these beloved Christmas carols, but few of us know the interesting stories of how they came to be written.

The town of Bethlehem itself, on a still Christmas Eve in 1865, was the inspiration for Phillips Brooks' poem "O Little Town of Bethlehem."

The minister was so moved and impressed by the sight of that little town on that Christmas Eve so long ago that three years later he could still recall the scene vividly.

It was then that he wrote the words to this popular carol and had them set to music by Lewis Redner, his church organist.

Another minister, Dr. Edmund Sears, was responsible for yet another Christmas classic, "It Came Upon a Midnight Clear."

Dr. Sears had been in the study of his home in Wayland, Massachusetts, watching the snow as it fell on a lovely, clear night in 1849, when he was moved to write the words to this song.

They were later published in a newspaper and seen by Richard S. Willis, who in turn was inspired to write the music for this lovely old hymn.

One of our most popular carols came into being in a little Austrian village, on Christmas Eve in 1818

The local pastor, the Rev. Josef Mohr, had ventured out to bless a young mother and her newly-born son. The long walk on the silent, starry night through the snow - covered hills and the sight of the radiant mother and child impressed the good Father deeply When he returned to his rectory, he described the beauty of what he had seen in simple, moving lyrics.

Because the organ in their village church was broken, Fr. Mohr prevailed upon his church organist, Franz Gruber, to compose appropriate music on his guitar.

On Christmas night, accompanied only by the guitar, they sang for the first time, the beautiful carol, "Silent Night."

Perfumes Are Ready To Thrill The Ladies

A gift of perfume or cologne is a gift that bespeaks your thoughtfulness and consideration of a woman's femininity.

There are gay and lovely containers, beautifully - fashioned boxes in novelty designs, assorted perfume and cologne duos, trios with perfume, cologne and dusting powder or sachet. Yes, from all the perfumeries in the world, come a bright assortment of dainty and sultry fragrances.

Here Are Rules That Will Assure A Fireproof Yule

Every year, the holiday season is marred for many families because of fires caused by Christmas trees. Don't let this happen to you!

Be sure the tree you purchase is fresh. Determine this by bouncing the butt of the tree against the ground — if the needles stay on, and if the stump cut is sticking with resin, it is fresh. It's also best to select a small tree.

Before setting up your tree, saw off at least an inch of trunk diagonally, placing its base in a water - containing holder. At all times, keep the water - level well above the diagonal cut.

Locate your tree well away from fireplaces, radiators, television sets, powerful electric lights, or other sources of heat and electrical power.

When decorating, use only decorations of the non - combustible type. Be extremely careful with electric lights, checking them for defective wires and loose sockets.

Never use candles for decorations. Since too many light circuits in one outlet may overload the house wiring and blow a fuse, distribute the load among several outlets.

Be sure to turn off the tree lights when no one is to be in the room for any length of time and upon retiring.

Christmas Cards Had Their Start In 'Old England'

Although the custom of sending Christmas cards is approximately a century old, it is one which has achieved such popularity that every Yule post offices literally are swamped with cards to be delivered by busy mailmen.

The first greeting card was not designed until 1842, when an English engraving apprentice, 16-year-old William Maw Egley, printed 100 cards to be sent to his friends.

His design featured formal banquet scenes, party scenes and skaters. Beneath the illustration, he wrote "A Merry Christmas and a Happy New Year to You", still the most popular phrase in use today. However, it was not until 1862 that Christmas cards won acceptance in England.

The first American card was published as an advertisement for a department store. The exact date of the card is not known.

It remained for Louis Prang, "Father of the American Christmas Card", to popularize them here. First issued from his lithography shop in Boston in 1874, the cards became world - famous for their beauty.

Greetings Are Offered In Many Languages

Foreign - language greeting cards now are available for a number of foreign countries.

For example, if you wish, you can send holiday greeting cards in respective languages to such countries as Norway, France, Germany, Italy, Spain, Lithuania, Sweden, Hungary, Poland and Czechoslovakia.

The cards are available in many colorful designs ranging from religious motifs to the traditional symbols of Christmas, such as holly leaves and candles. Church scenes, angels, bells and Christmas decorations — all familiar scenes on American cards — are prominently featured on these foreign counterparts.

Whether the message on the card says "Smagui Kaledu," "En God Jul," or "Buon Natale," it is a universal wish, "Merry Christmas to You."

CHILDREN WILL enjoy playing a toy musical instrument. Such a gift also may encourage the youngster's desire to learn to play a standard musical instrument later on.

Santa's Helper Comes From A Viking Story

Thank the Vikings for that jolly elf we know as Santa's Little Helper.

In ancient times in Scandinavia, long before Leif Eriksen discovered America, little children were told stories of Jul Tomten, a little elf with long white whiskers, who saw to it that the earth gave abundantly of good food and that the animals and birds were taken care of.

When the Vikings became Christians, Jul Tomten became the giver of presents, just as our Santa Claus is today.

Children would leave a bowl of porridge on the kitchen table for him and he in turn would leave gifts for good boys and girls.

Over the years, travelers to the North brought back the legend of Jul Tomten and eventually he became a part of our own Christmas tradition, as the busy little elf in Santa's workshop.
